Imprisonment For Life.

The trial of John A. McDonald, the Klamath saloon-keeper who killed Edward Loucks and Henry Hoover, at Fall Creek, last July, was brought to a conclusion at Yreka Friday morning by the jury rendering a verdict in the Hoover case of murder in the second degree and recommending that he be given the extreme penalty of the law which under the California statute is imprisonment for life.

At the trial of McDonald for the murder of Edward Loucks, which was concluded just previous to the trial for the killing of Hoover, he was convicted of manslaughter.

Both of McDonald's victims were engaged at work on the construction of the Klamath Lake railroad now building up the Klamath river from Laird's station. He had been keeping a branch saloon near the construction camp and had been carousing on the day of the murder.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one Hundred Dollars for any case that fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

A Timely Suggestion.

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is used at hand and given as soon as the child is contracted and becomes settled in the system. In almost every instance a sore throat may be eradicated by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. For sale by Lee Beall, druggist.

How to Prevent Croup.

It will be good news to the mothers of small children to learn that croup can be prevented. The first sign of croup is hoarseness. A day or two before the attack the child becomes hoarse. This is soon followed by a peculiar rough cough, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the rough cough appears, and it will dispel all symptoms of croup. In this way all danger and anxiety may be avoided. This remedy is used by many thousands of mothers and has never been known to fail. It is in fact the only remedy that can be depended upon and that is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Lee Beall, druggist.
