Summer Lake Budget of News.

Ches Parker and Rufe Phelps have finally gotten out of the mountains with their sheep. They were "snowed in" in Slean Valley and the circumstances becoming desperate, Parker offered George H. Small of Silver Lake, who was riding in Slean for horses, $50.00 to break a trail. Small and outfit took about 100 head of the horses they had gathered, and broke the trail. He refused to accept any money for his services. G. H. certainly shows magnanimity towards the "underdog."

M. Sult brought his cattle from Klamath Marsh to his Summer Lake Ranch. Sult summers his cattle near the Billy Ball ranch, at the marsh and they do well.

It is reported that Ed O'Farrel bought Sult's steers. Could get no particulars at this writing.

Emil Egli and Frank Sellers who bought cattle from Isaac Foster of Silver Creek, Harney Co. did not get but 64 head out of the 100 head they bargained for, through failure on Foster's part to gather them. The cattle they got were "poor." Egli said the range there was poor. No grass or water.

Ralph and Fred Foster are driving their cattle from the summer pastures to their respective ranches in Summer Lake, for the winter.

M. Sult brought his cattle from Klamath marsh to his Summer Lake ranch.

It is reported that one of Chrisman's freight teams is "snowed in" on the road from Merrill to Silver Lake. It is a six horse team loaded with flour and driven by Wm. Johnson of Silver Lake. Chrisman thinks there is a possibility of a flour famine this winter in Silver Lake Valley.

An Irishman who lately arrived in Lake county from Ireland found a job herding sheep for one of the Summer Lake sheep men, and not being up in the Culinary Art, found himself in a predicament. He seated himself on the grub box, got the sour-dough jar between his knees and with a spoon was eating away quite content with his lot. Between gulps and gathering in the "stringers" he passed the remark: "It is a pretty damned sour puddin' an' I don't know as it's any good."

There is every prospect for an open winter. Stock is in first rate condition.

SCHMINCK.

Hubert Hickerson.

Word was received here Friday that Hubert Hickerson had died at his home at Bidwell at 1 o'clock that day from typhoid fever. Peter Post and Mrs. Post, sister of the deceased left for Bidwell Saturday and attended the funeral Sunday. Young Hickerson who was a very sturdy and healthy young man, contracted the disease while visiting his brother-in-law Grant Adams at this place not long ago. He was aged 23 years, 11 months and 26 days, and leaves besides many relatives, a host of friends in Surprise Valley to mourn his loss.
