 Not to have a Christmas dinner is not to properly observe Christmas. To have to cook a Christmas dinner is lots of work. If you wish to observe Christmas and not go the trouble and expense of getting up a dinner, go to Hotel Lakeview where they are making big preparations for you.
 Wm. Clendenen of the firm of Handley & Clendenen, started Saturday for his old home at Geneva, Indiana. He will visit with his family during the winter, and in the spring his wife will return with him and they will make their future home in Lakeview.
 School closed for the Holidays Tuesday afternoon. The little tots in Mrs. Hall's room were given a Christmas surprise. Each scholar was requested to bring a stocking and hang it on their desk. At the proper time they were told to go to sleep, while Santa Claus, Fred Reynolds, and Mrs. Santa, Lally Brown, filled up the stockings. It took nearly half an hour, and they all did the sleep act very well. Presents of all kinds, candies, etc., were soon found in profusion. This event proved quite a success.
 A story of a pathetic incident comes by Marconi telegraph from Hillsboro. On Thanksgiving morning, a young man who had been away at school arrived at his home town and hastened from the train to the residence of his star of hope. Her mother answered his nervous ring and invited him in. Yes, Jenny was at home, up stairs. She would call her. Stepping to the foot of the stairs she called, "Jennie, Will is here and wants to see you." A voice from above answered: "I can't come down, mother: I'm just taking a bath." The young man was impatient and stepping to the foot of the stairs, he called: "I must see you just a minute, Jennie. Slip on anything and come down." She slipped on the top step and came down and he saw her, but for much less than a minute.—Forest Grove Times.

The Moore's Close Season.
 The Moore Comedy Company closed a most successful show season in Lakeview last Saturday night, when they produced the two-act drama "Naval Engagement" and the farce "My Turn Next." The Moore's give the best and cleanest show that travels through this interior country. They like Lakeview and Lakeview in turn likes them, so it is like meeting old friends when they came here. Mr. and Mrs. Moore have decided to stay in the mountains for the winter, and in some town where there is a good school to send their son. They have been persuaded to come back to Lakeview after spending the holidays, provided some minor arrangements can be made. They will give entertainments all winter assisted by local talent, and will no doubt be appreciated and well patronized by our citizens. There is no fear on that score as they will be warmly welcomed and assisted. The only drawback to their coming to Lakeview is the high price of hall rent, which they claim is much higher than other places. No doubt this can be arranged to their satisfaction.
 The Examiner joins with the many citizens of Lakeview in extending the hand of welcome on their return.
