LAKEVIEW, OREGON, JAN. 8, 1903.

Tom Reed was one of the great men of his time, but he was neither a hypocrite nor a politician, and people hated him. It is unfortunate that men like Reed are not more numerous in national affairs. But it takes a hypocrite to become great politically. Some of the greatest statesmen in American history never dared to speak their honest sentiments, and advocated dozens of doctrines they did not believe in.

A terrible blow is to be struck in Chicago. "One million of children from all over the land are to write letters to the Tobacco Trust, protesting against the manufacture of cigarettes." Why not have a million children write to the trusts, protesting against trusts and asking them to shut up shop? This would be as effectual as any other attempt to suspend the laws of business and make gravitation stop gravitating.

If beef prices get much higher many of our city cousins will be looking for the meatless cutlet. Together with cowless milk, meatless cutlets, horseless carriages and many other things that are incident to city life there will be real enjoyment in what might be called a happiness life.

Silos are coming into use quite rapidly in the Willamette Valley. There is nothing like them to get the most money out of a forage crop. A silo may be built at a cost of $1 per ton for its capacity. The saving of one cutting of alfalfa will more than pay for it.

Some people are quietly waiting for the footwear of their elderly relatives, who have been more fortunate than themselves in laying up the world's goods. Such waits seldom pay. They may wear their shoes until you no longer need them.

The Democrats as well as Republicans in Siskiyou really hope Judge Hebard's recount in San Francisco, will cause Livernash to remain at home, and that Congress will not be troubled with the services of such a crack brained specimen of humanity.—Journal.

A portable forge with a few blacksmith's tools are a good investment on a farm. The boys will soon learn to weld iron and much time and money may be saved by mending a piece of machinery instead of taking it to town.

Some troubles are easily settled. While a Washington county man and his wife were quarreling over the question of who should occupy the house a fire came along and destroyed it.

The announcement that a theatrical troupe carries a dozen trunks full of wardrobe sets the woman crazy to go. If the stage wardrobe is carried in a hand-satchel the men want to go.

False teeth made of paper is the latest German manufacturing achievement. If printed paper can be worked over, many a man will be going around with a mouthful of bad news.

Age doesn't bring wisdom to voters. Texas has one who has just turned 100, and at the last election some one had to help him mark his ballot.

When a man injured in a railway accident goes into a doctor's office, he isn't looking for a cure; he's looking for a damage suit.

Eclipses of the sun frighten the citizens of Mexico, but nothing short of an eclipse of power could disturb their rulers.

Additional Local

There are several sources of profit in keeping sheep: first the increase, second, the wool, third they clear the fields of objectionable weeds and bushes, fifth their manure is a most excellent fertilizer, and sixth there is always a demand for good mutton.

E. A. Bancroft has been recommended for the appointment of postmaster at Portland by Senator John H. Mitchell, to take the place of the present incumbent, A. B. Crossman. The appointment will probably be made by President Roosevelt between now and March.

A good method to make a post durable is to dig a hole a trifle larger than the post and fill in with cement or grout. A post will certainly last a long time. The cement should come above the ground and should slant upward so as to shed off moisture. By keeping the post dry it will be quite durable.

Robt. Hartin and Abe Brown, both formerly of Lakeview, recently purchased "Bill Massie," a promising racing horse at San Francisco, for $1000. The boys went down from Eugene not long ago, and expect to do some racing on their own hook. The Examiner hopes to hear of something being done by "Bill Massie."

Call on the neighbors occasionally and make notes of how they are doing and getting along. If they are faring worse than yourself you will be more contented after that, but if they are faring better you will not be contented until you are improving. This is a splendid way to get pointers that will help one to improve.

Ed. O'Farrell writes from Prineville to Ed Lamb that he bought 30 head of beef cattle and would proceed to Portland where he was to meet the pride of his life, Miss Martin, says the Post. He expected to return to Summer Lake about Christmas with his wife. If Ed is married the Post joins with his host of friends in wishing him and his bride a thousand good wishes.

A university president says to the farmer boys under his instruction: "Apply your geometry to making straighter furrows, your chemistry to better soil culture, your lessons on animal husbandry to raising better livestock." He asks the girls to show that their education will help them to make better homes, that it will produce healthful cooking and sanitary ways of living.

Croup
The peculiar cough which indicates croup is usually well known to the mothers of croupy children. No time should be lost in the treatment of it, and for this purpose no medicine has received more universal approval than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Do not waste valuable time in experimenting with untried remedies, no matter how highly they may be recommended, but give this medicine as directed and all symptoms of croup will quickly disappear. For sale by Lee Beall, druggist.

To Cure a Cold in One Day.

Dr. C. A. Perrin,
Helena, Mont.

Dear Sir:—
I have nearly finished the former bottle and am practically well. My case was one most physicians would have pronounced incurable. My appetite is good, have gained 10 pounds in weight and feel like a new lease of life was given me. One of the bottles I send for this time is for a friend and the other for myself as I do not intend to be without it.
Very truly yours
T. R. HARRIS.

ADVERTISING

One Thing at a Time

"I can't afford to advertise on a large scale," said a merchant lately, "and with my varied stock I wouldn't know where to begin on a small scale."

It is a common fallacy that the advertising must cover the whole stock.

In point of fact it never does, even with the most lavish advertisers, and, if it did, the result would be a jumble of prolixity. The true policy is to select one article at a time—something moderately priced and meeting the want of the day—and push that at the people.—Philadelphia Record.
