

BLACK IBIS RARE BIRD

Much Adored by Ancient Egyptians, Now Only to be Found On Eastern Oregon Lakes

R. Bolin, Ontario's taxidermist, has just arranged with a hunter on Harney Lake for the capture of all the black ibis that may put in their appearance there in the spring. There is no other place in the United States where this bird is found, and if Mr. Bolin succeeds in getting 20 ibis during the coming season he will be more than satisfied. The ibis makes its appearance on the shores of lakes in Eastern Oregon about March 1 and remains three months. No nest has ever been found here in Oregon, or elsewhere in the United States. The birds are grown when human eyes are first laid upon them. They are supposed to go south about June 1, but are never seen in the Southern States. The ibis of Eastern Oregon is a sort of cousin to the ibis that was adored by the ancient Egyptians.

The taxidermist has many calls from his Eastern brethren for the black ibis, and has taken time by the forelock in this instance, whereby he hopes to be able to supply the article. John Gilchrist, foreman of the largest cattle ranch in Oregon, chanced to mention in New York the other day that Eastern Oregon had the ibis, and before he got out of the city the taxidermists had besieged his hotel with calls for Mr. Gilchrist, until the employees came to the conclusion that he was selling some kind of wild animal, while the remark was incidental to other matters and was entirely foreign to the gentleman's business.—Grant County News.

Irrigation in Harney

Harney County under irrigation will have lands worth easily $1,000,000, the identical tracts being worth practically nothing today if considered as possible home-sites. For most part we look to National Irrigation to bring about the change, and we must not forget that there is much to be done in the way of adjusting local conditions to meet the requirements of the Government. Careful inquiry reveals that the understanding of these requirements are not uniform and therefore no time should be lost in making it exact. The fact that we have an ideal site for fully testing the irrigation law does not guarantee that this will be the Government's chosen field. The way must be fully prepared by the removal of every obstacle that may exist, and this "grubbing" it is up to us to perform. This paper does not believe that the formation of a large association will expedite the work.

Three, five, or seven men appointed from a citizens' meeting could ascertain as readily as a hundred just what would stand in the way and what would be required to remove it. With this knowledge at hand it would be an easier matter for the body of the people to act. It should be remembered that $900,000 is not the only thing to be borne in mind.—Harney County News.

To Exterminate Jack Rabbits

The citizens of Culver and Haystack met at Culver last Saturday and organized the Haystack Rabbit Exterminating Society, with Mr. Hale as president and Frank Osborn as secretary says the Prineville Review. Henry Windom was chosen chief captain and G. Springer, Geo. Windom, Killenbeck and W. F. Hammer as assistants.

A committee on general arrangements was appointed consisting of Perry Read, Geo. Osborn, Jas. Lamson, Wm. Peck and F. S. Hoffman.

It was decided by the club that a rabbit drive should begin on Saturday, Dec. 27, and continue until all that section of country from Culver south was rid of the pest. The meeting place will be at G. Springer's home at 8 o'clock next Saturday morning, at which time it is expected that a couple of hundred persons will assemble, and under leadership of the captain the work of extermination will begin. Corrals are being built at various places, of wire netting with wide wings extending out on either side and into these the long-eared destroyers will be driven, and when once inside the slaughter will commence as soon as all are killed at a corral, the men will again sally forth, driving to another pen where the same thing will be gone over.

Mr. Hoffman was in Prineville last Tuesday and purchased ten bales of wire to be used for pens and some $60 worth of bait "W" for wings.

If any of our citizens wish to take part in the sport, they are cordially invited to be present and they will be welcomed by the hunters and highly entertained by the citizens of Culver and community.

When You Think

Of the periodic pain which many women experience with every month it makes the gentleness and kindness always associated with womanhood seem to be almost a miracle. While in general no woman rebels against what she regards as a natural necessity there is no woman who would not gladly be free from this recurring period of pain.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well, and gives them freedom from disease. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confidential. Write without fear and without fee to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Mrs. T. Dolan, of Madrid, Perkins Co., Neb., writes: "I was cured of painful periods by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and his Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla. I think Dr. Pierce's medicines the best in the world." "Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place. The sluggish liver made active by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

A DOZEN DIFFERENT WAYS.
When the ordinary citizen wantsto go east, or send to friends or relatives to come west, the choice of routes is always a question that bothers him. He wants to know if the same route he used once, some time ago, makes the same time, same connections, if the price is the same, if it costs the same to go east as it did to come west. Possibly he has heard or read of famous points of interest in the West or middle west that he overlooked on the trip he made. Did not see them because he had not time; did not know he could for the same money; did not know he could get a stopover. There are hundreds of questions he would have asked, many things he would like to have seen and many accommodations he could have enjoyed, only, he did not have time to look into the matter, and it was too much bother anyway.

Here is a suggestion that will save you all that trouble, vexation and regret. The Illinois Central Railroad Company runs east and south from St. Paul, Omaha and St. Louis, and north from New Orleans. At these points, it connects with all the western trunk lines, and through them, with their western connections. The Illinois Central does not care which line you use in the west, northwest, centralwest or southwest, because it connects with all of them and is absolutely impartial to all. All you have to do is to drop us a note; tell us your destination and your starting point. Is there anything in the whole glorious west that you want to see on your way? Mention it. We will arrange for it if it can be done. Perhaps you want a stopover. We will arrange that too if it is possible for anyone to do it. Just make a suggestion as to the western line and we will elaborate it for you; tell you the time you should start and when you should arrive at destination, what accommodations you will enjoy, what it will cost you, an itinerary for the trip, and will do anything that we possibly can to make your journey pleasant and comfortable. That's what we are here for. We have headquarters in Portland; agents in Portland and Seattle, and traveling agents that will come and talk it over at any time with you and at any place in the northwest without its costing you a cent more than a postage stamp. Chicago business is a specialty with us, but we have our own rails in a dozen different states east of St. Paul, Omaha, and New Orleans, and can ticket you to these gateways over a dozen different routes. Write us. By the way do you want a nice wall map of the United States, Cuba and Porto Rico? Send me six cents to pay postage.
