

Local Happenings Told in Paragraphs

The County Court held a very short session last week.

Out door carpenter work still continues, and considerable building is being done in Lakeview this winter.

The newest paper in Oregon is the Springfield Nonperiod, published at Springfield, by Kelly & Aulis. The first issue appeared Jan. 1.

A 10 lb boy was born to the wife of Elzie F. Russell on Monday, Jan. 5th. He was named Theodore Velt Russell, and has already developed a tendency to go bear hunting.

The scarcity of flour was the topic the other day, says the Post, and Geo. Conn, who owns the best flouring mill in the county, said if the farmers would raise the wheat he would grind it, and there need be no shortage in bread stuffs.

The Medford Success published an article in its issue of Jan. 2, entitled "A Bonanza in the Salt Business," and gives the Klamath Republican credit for it. While the article originated in The Examiner, we don't care who gets the credit. "Whatever's right."

Summer Weather at last. The sun shone and ice thawed out in town and froze at night. There has been no thawing out on the slope however, and the ice business has not been interfered with. Skating has been good and has been greatly enjoyed both day and night by the young folks.

John Farrow came in from the desert last week, where he has been for a couple of months says the Post. He brought a sample of desert bunchgrass that measures 19 inches in height, with green grass 4 inches high that has grown this winter. This is the kind of range public land leasers are after.

The Post says Walter Reed last week purchased the old Blair place from S. P. Moss, paying $500 for the property. The ranch adjoins Mr. Reed's home place and a half interest in the creek goes with it. Mr. Reed's possession of this ranch gives him full control of the water in the creek; and a good site for a reservoir.

According to the Lakeview Herald there are five staunch republicans of Lakeview, and one, the ex-postmaster of Klamath Falls, each has his rod up trying to knock one of those two luscious plums, the Register and Receiver of the Lakeview Land Office. The choice will probably not be made before the end of the present session of the Oregon Legislature.

Twenty head of the Duncan horse from Silver Lake, that had been sold to Mr. Hampton, the Nebraska buyer, arrived here yesterday. Mr. Hampton expects to return here in the Spring for the purpose of buying a large number of horses, and has stated that for his purposes he will be willing to pay $3 to $4 per head more for horses that have been well broken to the halter.—Burns News.

J. F. Clarkson, the veterinary, has been in Paisley, we might say to bring to life again the thoroughbred roan Durham bull of Geo. Conn's says the Post. Some time ago the animal was injured in a fence and his condition grew worse till it was thought he could not be saved, but Mr. Clarkson has brought him through the dangerous stage. Jim says that he is the best bull in this part of the country, that he has seen. He is the animal that Mr. Conn purchased from John Foster last summer.

Beets yield 12 to 13 per cent of their weight in sugar.
