We have received a letter announcing the intention of a San Francisco company to establish an ice manufacturing plant at this place. Any acquisition to the manufacturing industries of the county is desirable, and always welcome, though considering the weather of the past week, we may add that there are some things we need worse than ice factories.—Klamath Express.

Governor Chamberlain signed House Bill 216, the scalp bounty law, by Lafayette and filed it with the Secretary of State on Feb. 21st. The act carries an emergency clause and is effective immediately. Many scalps were expected by the Secretary on that day, but the signing of this bill by the Governor will make the filing of scalp certificates useless.

E. E. Fitch and wife, hotel people of Bly, were in Lakeview last Sunday. They came over in a sleigh, but they found the snow pretty well melted off in places. Mr. Fitch said he hoped it would snow Sunday night so their return home would be made easy. He accordingly put in an order to the weather man to that effect and it snowed about two inches that night.

Wm. C. Fleming of New Pine Creek and Miss Minnie B. Mulkey of Davis Creek, were married at Hotel Lakeview last Friday morning by City Recorder W. B. Snider. The parties came up from Davis Creek the day previous accompanied by Miss Addie Mulkey and E. T. Hartzog. They attended the Washington birthday party in Lakeview, and returned to their home on Saturday.

John Drumm of Summer Lake, killed a cougar about ten days ago, that measured six feet from tip to tip. Leslie Russell was cutting fence staves on the rim about a quarter of a mile from the Harris ranch, and the cougar took possession of "Tuff" saw and staves. Drumm heard the rumble and went to Russell's relief. There were two cougars but the dogs tried but one.

The dance given last Friday night by the local lodge Woodmen of the World and Women of Woodcraft, in commemoration of Washington's birthday, was the event of the season. Sixty tickets were sold and over 150 people partook of the bountiful and sumptuous repast prepared by the ladies. Many ball dresses were made especially for the occasion, and the evening was one of perfect enjoyment.

D. L. Sleeper and Frank Grygla, special agents of the general land office, were here Sunday on their way to the railroad from Lakeview where they had been investigating the records of the local land office. As we understand, they found the affairs of the office in a perfectly satisfactory shape and that the registrar and receiver had performed their duties thoroughly and efficiently and strictly in accordance with the requirements of the general land office.—Klamath Republican.

Too many school books, too many school studies, too much work for the pupils, and too much work for the teachers is the cry voiced by Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 24, offered by Miller of Lima, and adopted. This resolution declares that, through the great press of studies attempted under the Oregon law, proper education of children along lines that would prove most advantageous in active life is prevented. It also recites that many families are kept constantly poor in their efforts to provide the varied and costly textbooks prescribed. It calls upon the State Board of Education to reduce the number of studies and devote more time to those branches of education which will prove of most direct benefit.

Killing of Reed and Rinn Recalled.

The sequel to the story of the killing of Jim Rinn by Ora Reed at Fort Bidwell 15 years ago, and the subsequent killing of Reed in Warner, has just come to light by the accidental finding of a shingle hidden in the rocks near the Hill Camp, east of Coleman Valley, on which Reed had written his last request while at bay. Geo. Maupin was in Lakeview last week, and it was he who told of finding the shingle while running his sheep in that country. The shingle had been closely written on both sides, but the weather had nearly obliterated the writing on one side. The other side bore the date of Dec. 28, 1886, and among other things he said that he would not be taken alive. That he would not have been found there but he had hurt his back, and could not travel. He made the request that if he was killed that his body be taken to Pard Browns' at Fort Bidwell.

The people of this section will remember that Reed murdered Rinn in cold blood in a drunken fit, but made his escape, and was followed by an angry mob to near the place where the shingle was found, and there he was killed by the first volley from the guns of the pursuers. No one knows who killed him.

The report comes down from Silver Lake that two newspapers will shortly be started at that place. The question arises, what is the cause of this sudden influx of literary talent. While the climate is good up there, they can not live on that; so it must be that they expect a big boom in timber land. In fact, this is what the people who are launching the enterprise, claim is their object, and of course when the timber is gone, they will quietly fold their tent and steal away. It is said that Messrs Holder and Bell, have a press on the way, and will shortly get out a paper. Mr. Holder is the present editor of the Prineville Review, and also of the Shaniko Leader. Mr. Bell is a U. S. Commissioner at Prineville. Messrs Bailey and Black, proprietors of the Prineville Journal, are also there with a press and will soon issue a paper. It appears to be a case of rush to see who will get there first. The result will be watched with much interest.

Another example of what coyotes are good for has recently been demonstrated. The long severe cold spell while the snow covered the ground to a considerable depth, caused the thousands of quail in this vicinity to rustle hard, and many times in vain. They huddled up in large bunches, and in a starved and numbed condition they were an easy prey to the wily coyote. The fact has been called to the attention of The Examiner that hundreds of quail have thus been slaughtered by the cunning coyote, which animal the majority of the people of the state wish to propagate by removing the bounty therefrom.

The Oregon legislature adjourned last Friday night at midnight. What they have done and undone the past forty days can be considered by the people for the next two years. That they have passed some good laws, and repealed some bad ones there is no question. The next thing is to have these laws enforced as intended, not as they may be construed by those interested.

When a man takes the trouble to come around and tell you he is going to kill you and then goes away without doing it you may feel reasonably safe. He will never again feel as much like doing it as he did when he came to tell you about it.

The Examiner is opposed to capital punishment just as strong as ever, but as it still exists in South Carolina they may hang Jim Tillman if they want to. But let that be the last.

J. E. BERNARD & SON.

Lakeview, January, 8th, 1903.

Dear Friends:—

We come to you again with this personal request for your trade. You want goods—we want business. Your purpose is to buy goods right. Our purpose is to sell you goods right. It also stands to reason that we are going to make our prices as low as consistent with good business judgement, in order to interest you, and, as the largest dealers in Lakeview in our line, we can not be undersold on an equal class of goods. The reasons are many and obvious. First, we buy mostly direct from factory; we buy in large quantities, ship in car lots, and in every way save you all the money possible.

Yours respectfully,

J. E. BERNARD & SON.
