Cilver Lake on the Eve of a Big Boom.

Silver Lake, Gregon, Feb. 20, 1903. ED. LAKEVIEW EXAMINER:

For the last week I have heard that the little town of Silver Lake was crowded with strangers and that it was impossible to get accommodations for all. I had also heard that a newspaper would be published next week by a stranger whose name is Bailey. To day I went up to town, and I found the half had not been told. Twenty-six men and one woman, all strangers; are here locating timber land. Today, Creed Conn introduced two men to me, one by the name of Baldwin, the other I have forgotten. They are also going to start auother newspaper as soon as they can get a building erected. Think of it; two newspapers in this one time considered out of the way place, and the extreme settlement in northern Lake county. And you might say almost surrounded by a desert country. They tell us that there will be four hundred emigrants took ing for homes and locations on the desert, and that Silver Lake will be day the centralized point of Lake county. A man was hired to hand out a fond chant, was a business visitor. Saturof hay to the McCarthy ranch about day 12 miles from town, and he was given twenty dollars per ton.

There is undoubtedly a "miger in the woodpile," and these parties are on a hot track. There is lots of room day for homes on the Silver Lake desert. In many places, water will be found near the surfaces

Will say there is considerable excites spring ment among the present population.

The Alturas Plaindealer very truthfully says: "We are at all times pleased to receive communications from friends and patrons. But we must ask them to confine their efforts to matters of news. Politics and religion are all well enough, but we have the writings of the brightest minds to select from. Correspondents should also bear in mind that our space is limited and should therefore, condense as much as possible. What we want is news.

Two weeks ago The Examiner, by request of several Lakeview business men, called attention to the fact that in order to have a 4th of July celebration in Lakeview that would be a drawing card to the surrounding country, it should be taken hold of at once. Don't wait until the last moment before making preparations, but call a meeting and select the several committees without delay, so they will have plenty of time to act. A meeting has been called in Yreka, and arrangements are being made for a big time. The celebration in Lakeview this year should eclipse any former 4th of July. Let's get a move on and have something doing at once. A race program should also be arranged at an early date.
