Ayers & Schlager contemplate moving their brewery saloon from its present location opposite Hotel Lakeview, to the lot where Cheney's harness shop now stands. The Cheney shop will be moved over north to make room for the saloon. This will be done some time during the month.

Ray Sanford came in from the dearest Monday, and reports quite a loss of old sheep during the cold spell of last month. The many mild winters of late years caused the accumulation of many old sheep and it was expected they would be the first to perish if the winter was in any way severe.

John M. Sanders, who for the past 12 or 15 years has been postmaster at Fort Bidwell, has tendered his resignation to the postal authorities, to take effect April 1st. His resignation is due to age and ill health. A. E. Lewis will probably succeed Mr. Sanders as postmaster.—(Cedarville Record)

W. Z. Moss returned from San Francisco Monday, where he went with a bunch of horses. J. C. Dodson, who has been in the city for some time with horses, returned with him, and went to his home in Warner. Jim succeeded in disposing of all of his at a fair price, and Bill sold all but ten head of the last lot he took down. He purchased some more on his way up through Modoc county, and together with a few he has in Warner, will shortly start on another trip to the city.

A. H. Canterbury, the trapper, came to town last week with 130 coyote scalps in his belt, the result of several months trapping. When he presented them to County Clerk Mauring and was informed that the bounty had been removed, his words and actions might not have been just proper, but would have had a "mighty tollin'" effect if the scene had been laid before the late Oregon legislature. Some of those legislators who made such a howl against the bounty law, might have thought their own scalps in danger, had they listened to this recital.

All those who have pianos will do well to avail themselves of the services of a professional piano tuner. M. A. Phelps who visits Lakeview every year and guarantees satisfaction, is here and is prepared to tune any and all pianos. 9

John Silva, manager of the New Pine Creek Colony Corporation of Italians, was in town yesterday and called at The Examiner office to deny that he and his company came to this country to drive anyone out of the vegetable business as stated in our last issue. He did not deny however, that he circulated some small tracts which the people down there claimed were anarchistic. He said they were not anarchistic, but were for no purpose in particular. He said he was a socialist, and not an anarchist, that he believed in corporation and not in trusts.

If Portland wishes the people of this section to visit the Lewis & Clark Fair in 1905, no stronger inducement could be made than to build a railroad. A conversation was heard the other day between two Lakeview people and one asked the other the question: "Are you going to attend the big Exposition?" The reply was: "The St. Louis Exposition? Oh, yes; I guess so. If I can arrange my affairs by that time I will go." "You misunderstood me" replied the former, "I mean the Lewis & Clark Fair at Portland." "Oh, that fair! No, I guess I can't go. It's too far to walk and life is too short to ride so far by stage."

Council Meeting.

At a regular meeting of the city council Tuesday, some citizens of North Lakeview presented before the council the matter of having a street light placed at the corner one block north of the school house. The matter of building a sidewalk in that vicinity was also laid before the council.

The council voted to run the electric lights all night instead of until 2 o'clock as heretofore. The rates for lights in dwellings were also changed. For bedrooms and kitchens the rate has been reduced one-half, or 2½ cents per candle power. The other rooms remain the same—5 cents e. p.

The salary of Electrician Perry Stanley was raised from $75 to $100 per month on account of the increased service.

G. Schlager, ex-councilman, was appointed councilman to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of W. D. Woodcock.

An electric meter was ordered placed in Hotel Lakeview for the period of one month at the trial rate of 14 cents per 1000 watts.

The matter of whether J. A. Anthony had a franchise to conduct and maintain an electric light system within the corporate limits of the town of Lakeview was discussed, and it was decided to lay the matter over until legal advice could be obtained as to what steps should be taken. A called meeting of the council was held Monday morning, and the legality of allowing J. A. Anthony to conduct an electric light system in Lakeview was discussed at length. It was claimed by members of the council that the franchise granted Mr. Anthony several years ago was not legal, from the fact that it was passed at the first reading, and only two members of the council were present besides the mayor. And again, they claim that since Mr. Anthony has not operated any electric system for over two years, he had forfeited his franchise.

March Arrives.

The coming of March has been looked forward to with much interest by many Lakeview people as it is always considered that this month marks the beginning of early Spring. It is the month in which winter lies in the lap of spring and the latter has much difficulty in breaking away. It is the month in which it is said that the lion and the lamb lie down together, but usually the lamb is on the inside—of the lion. It is the month in which the prophets predict that if the weather is good at the beginning it will be bad at the ending, and vice versa. Last Sunday marked the first day of March and the gladsome sun and springlike balm that permeated the atmosphere, filled the hearts of those weary with the long winter with joy. It raised the dormant energies of the trilling robin, who comes early and stays late, and his gleeful vocalizations presaged an early emancipation from the gloom of winter's dispiriting murkiness. When people retired that night with light hearts and the thought that they would awake to find another day with the song of spring, imagine the change that was wrought on that blue Monday morning when the snow came and the wind blew cold. Sunday night, Monday and Monday night three inches of snow fell, to the great disappointment of everyone.

A flow of artesian water at Castle Rock estimated to be sufficient to irrigate 1000 acres, is pouring steadily from the mouth of one of the first artesian wells in Eastern Oregon. The stream does not rise as high as at first on account of changes in the surface, but the quantity is said to be about the same. The operations near the mouth of Dead Canyon are being carried on by about ten men.

Early Wool Sales.

Already 500,000 pounds of wool have been bought up in the Sand Hollow country, as the Columbia River Basin is called, by one firm alone, while shearing operations are still a month away at the earliest. This firm, however, is about the only one in the field so far. It is buying for scouring purposes.

At this early stage 9½ to 10 cents is being paid for the somewhat sandy Northern Morrow wool, a figure that augurs well for prices later on in the season, and which compares very favorably with the corresponding price last year. The lighter wools of the country south of Heppner will bring a higher price because the quality is somewhat finer and the character cleaner. On a basis of weight, the fleece net almost equally in money.

J. E. BERNARD & SON.

Lakeview, January, 8th, 1903.

Dear Friends:— We come to you again with this personal request for your trade. You want goods—we want business. Your purpose is to buy goods right. Our purpose is to sell you goods right. It also stands to reason that we are going to make our prices as low as consistent with good business judgement, in order to interest you, and, as the largest dealers in Lakeview in our line, we can not be undersold on an equal class of goods. The reasons are many and obvious. First, we buy mostly direct from factory; we buy in large quantities, ship in car lots, and in every way save you all the money possible.

Yours respectfully,

J. E. BERNARD & SON.
