LAKEVIEW, OREGON, APRIL 2, 1903.

Bad Change in Mail Time.

The residents of Lakeview have suffered enough from the inconvenience of receiving their mail, without having it made worse through the machination of the postoffice department through some inspector who happens to go over the line and requests a change to benefit some mail contractor. The schedule for the Alturas-Lakeview mail route is: Leave Alturas daily except Sunday after 9:30 a. m., and arrive in Lakeview in 12 hours. Leave Lakeview daily except Sunday at 6 a. m. and arrive in Alturas in 12 hours. As the stages from the railroad to Alturas usually arrive at the hour of 4 a. m., the stage for Lakeview is enabled to start by at least 6 a. m., thus having 3 1/2 hours advantage of the schedule. A new schedule has been ordered which provides the same hours, but requires the Lakeview bound stage to remain at Alturas until 9:30 a. m. and still compelling the contractors to make the distance of 60 miles in 12 hours, which is impossible in the winter time. This order has already gone into effect, and our mail from the south now arrives so late that it lays in the post office until the following morning, thus giving us a service 12 hours later than heretofore. This condition of affairs will last through the summer unless some remonstrance is not made. Second Assistant Postmaster General W. S. Shellanberger, in sending the new schedule to Postmaster Wilcox, also says "the postmaster at the terminus of this mail route are permitted to deliver mail to carrier one hour in advance of schedule time provided no connections are thereby broken and no complaints are made." Postmaster Wilcox says he does not intend to deliver the mail before the schedule time of 6 a. m. If he did the drop letters that were put in during the night would not go, thus causing a delay of one day. A protest should at once be sent in to the second assistant postmaster general.

The Warner Land Decision.

The decision of Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock in the Warner land cases was received at the Lakeview Land Office, Tuesday of this week. It covers 21 pages of type-written matter, and is too voluminous to be published so near our press day. However, The Examiner will publish it in full next week. The decision is practically as given in the dispatches last week. The decision says in part: "The agricultural claimants produced no evidence as to the condition of the land at or about the date of the grant, but relied upon testimony formerly addressed by the swamp land claimants, where the contention was as to the dry or the wet or submerged condition of the land at the time of the grant." "The evidence established that the lands in controversy at the date of the grant was not the bed of a lake or apparently permanent body of water, but were swamp land, subject at times to be entirely overflowed, and at all times were thereby rendered unfit for cultivation."

Interest Will Stop.

Notice is hereby given that there is money in the treasury for the redemption of all county warrants protested prior to May 1st, 1901. Interest on the same will cease from this date.
LEW BEALL,
12 St. Treasurer of Lake County.
Dated at Lakeview, Or., March 26, 1903.

A Charitable Act.

Last Monday a poor family consisting of father, mother and five small children arrived in town with a broken down wagon. They were in destitute circumstances, with no provisions or money, and the head of the family unable to turn a hand, as he was in the last stages of consumption. The Mayor was appealed to, who turned the matter over to the Marshal. The latter enlisted the services of Rev. Smythe, and together they secured from the business men of Lakeview $19.25 in money and a large supply of groceries and provisions. After their wagon had been repaired they started out with as cheerful hearts as it was possible, with a father and husband whose days were but few. They were on their way from Washington to California. Towns south of here should look out for this sorrowing family and assist them so that their journey may be as smooth as possible.

Must Have A Permit.

The following rules were issued by the Department of the Interior July 15, 1903:

Papoose Cremated.

Dr. Sam pitched his tepee about a mile south of town and has been enjoying himself this winter. Last Wednesday, he his and two mahals were away and in the tepee was left a small child. The tepee caught fire and everything was burned,—child, flour, other provisions, clothing, three guns, and other things. A small purse was raised in town for them.—Silver Lake Bulletin.
