

TWO BOLD HUNTERS.

They Unsuccessfully Launch a Box Boat that Teaches Them that They Were Boys Again.

A good story is told on two of Lakeview's ambitious young hunters. Not many days ago, the afore-said young sports busied themselves cleaning up their guns, loading shells and otherwise preparing for a hunting expedition where they expected to have an unusual good time among the honkers and quackers. They seemed most interested in fixing up a large dry goods box to be used for a boat on Goose Lake. The box was renailed and made strong, and was covered with oil cloth to keep out the water. The expedition reached the lake in high spirits, and much joy was anticipated when this miniature battleship should be launched on the tranquil bosom of Goose Lake. The box glided upon the water with the bow and stern well up. Many stories were piled in for ballast. One of the hunters had provided himself with high boots, and he was to pilot the boat out to nearly a fathom's depth, while the other was to take charge of the guns and ammunition. When out to what the hunters thought a good place, the pilot attempted to board the vessel, when to the great dismay of its one passenger the craft turned turtle, and all on board went to the bottom of the sea. This was a terrible shock to both the young hunters to think that just as they were about to do business, they should meet with such a disaster, but the shock was greatest to the young man, who with a yell, as if in great pain was seen to dive into the icy waters of the lake. But nothing undaunted, they towed their tricky craft to shore for fresh ammunition, more ballast, and to dry out a little.

This was soon accomplished and they were on their second trip seaward travelling in a similar manner as before, only more cautious. Having reached the proper place, they took the precaution to anchor their craft to avoid another accident. As they nestled cozily down in the box to await the approach of the quacks, the unexpected happened—their boat pulled up its anchor, and being thus released, it shot up into the air at an angle of 45 degrees, tossing out its contents in promiscuous confusion. All was consternation for a second and then all was quiet for two seconds. Paddling and splashing was the order for the next fifteen minutes and when the young men reached the shore there was no sound save the drip, drip of the icy water, and the click, click of two sets of teeth. They laid themselves down quietly upon the warm sands in the sun and dreamed a dream of early boyhood days, when it was the ambition of their life to take their mother's wash tub and float it in a nearby pond. When they awoke, their ambition for such fun had been lost ten years ago.

A Farmer Straightened Out.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Patens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time for it cures me.'" For sale by Lee Beall, druggist.

Big Irrigation Scheme.

According to the Klamath Falls papers, a large enthusiastic meeting was held at Merrill on Thursday, April 16, in response to a call by the Merrill Mutual Canal Company. Many speeches were made and the object of the meeting stated.

The plan and purpose is to tap Upper Klamath Lake, an exhaustless natural reservoir, and irrigate in the neighborhood of 75,000 acres lying south and southeast of Klamath Falls. The total cost of construction is estimated at $723,000. Digging a cut near the point where the water leaves the lake will cost about $270,000, its width being one hundred feet and its greatest depth being 130 feet. Another cut, 50 feet in depth, will cost $75,000. There will be four miles of fluming, requiring seven million feet of lumber and costing $84,000. The canal will carry a volume of 100,000 inches of water and can irrigate that number of acres.

The contract provides for the purchase of perpetual water rights by ranches at ten dollars per acre, the price being fixed in accordance with the cost of construction and the number of acres capable of irrigation. To pay for these water rights consumers give mortgages on their lands, divided into three payments, made due in five, ten and fifteen years, and bearing five per cent interest. An additional maintenance fee of not to exceed $1 per acre annually is charged. The agreements do not become effective until the water is actually furnished. The contract will further provide that when all the water rights have been paid for, the ditch becomes the property of the ranchers.

William Randolph Hearst, proprietor of the New York American, the New York Evening Journal, the Chicago Examiner, the Chicago American and the San Francisco Examiner, was married in New York April 28th. The bride is Miss Millicent Wilson of New York, and the ceremony was performed by Right Rev. Henry Codman Potter, D. D. Bishop of New York. Immediately after the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Hearst left for the West.

The Start

In married life is generally made on an equal footing of health in man and wife. But how soon, in many cases, the wife loses the start and fades in face and fails in flesh, while her husband grows even more rugged and robust.

There is one chief cause for this wifely failure and that is, the failure of the womanly health. When there is irregularity or an unhealthy drain, inflammation, ulceration or female weakness, the general health is soon impaired.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures womanly diseases. It establishes regularity, dries unhealthy drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"A little over a year ago I wrote to you for advice," says Mrs. Elizabeth J. Fisher, of Diana, W. Va. "You advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' which I did, and with the most happy result. I was troubled with female weakness and bearing-down pains. Had a very bad pain nearly all the time in my left side, nervousness and headache. Was so weak I could hardly walk across my room. Could not sit up only just a little while at a time. My husband got me some of Dr. Pierce's medicine and I began its use. Before I had taken two bottles I was able to help do my work. I used three bottles in all and it cured me. Now I do all my household work. It is the best medicine I ever used."

The Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Smallpox Germ Has Been Found.

Dr. William Thomas Councilman, professor of pathological anatomy in Harvard Medical school, has discovered the germ that causes smallpox. The discovery is pronounced by physicians who have been aware of Dr. Councilman's achievement as one of the really great ones in medical history and the most important made in Boston, rivaling the discovery of either as an anesthetic.

The details of the investment, how each step was taken, together with valuable scientific information concerning the protozoa, the organism that produces that highly contagious disease, will be furnished to medical men by the discovery, who refrains from making a public announcement until he has enlightened the scientific world.

GREATLY ALARMED

By a Persistent Cough, but Permanently Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. H. P. Burbage, a student at law, in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled for four or five years with a continuous cough, which he says, "greatly alarmed me, causing me to fear that I was in the first stage of consumption." Mr. Burbage, having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised, concluded to try it. Now read what he says of it: "I soon felt a remarkable change, and after using two bottles of the twenty-five cent size, was permanently cured." Sold by Lee Beall, druggist.

Recently a stranger entered a cathedral in Sicily and begged to be allowed to play the organ. With some reluctance the organist allowed the stranger to play, and soon the cathedral was filled with superb harmonies. Gradually the cathedral filled with curious people attracted by the music, such as they had never heard. When the stranger had finished the cathedral organist asked the stranger's name. He was Abbe Perosi, the young priest-composer, whose opera "Leo," was performed at the Vatican at the close of the Pope's jubilee.

Mr. Joseph Pomerville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble without relief, was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by Lee Beall, druggist.

When you want a pleasant physic try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. For sale by Lee Beall, druggist.
