

Democrats Fight Reames in Jackson.

Mr. Reames seems to be working himself into disfavor more and more all the time, not only in Lake and other counties, but in his own home county, and as in Lake county, is particularly so with his own party. The Enquirer of Medford, a democratic paper, throws the rope around Mr. Reames' neck and draws him up with a short jerk in the following manner:

TELL THE TRUTH

Mr. Reames and his lieutenants are representing that Judge Crowell wanted the nomination for Congress. This charge is made for two reasons, first to flatter Mr. Reames, and secondly to discredit Mr. Crowell because he takes no interest in Mr. Reames' campaign.

A year ago when Judge Crowell was stumping the county for the Democratic ticket, he everywhere told his hearers that never again would he be a candidate for anything in their gift. After Mr. Tongue's death when his friends asked him to make the race, he uniformly said, "No, I don't want the nomination nor the annoyance and responsibility of making a campaign. I am too old to chase rainbows."

The person who represents that Mr. Crowell wanted the Democratic nomination for Congress, is willingly and maliciously untruthful, as they also have been in spreading the report that the editor of this paper had written a letter to Sam White, stating that Mr. Crowell was the only man to nominate from this end of the state on the Democratic ticket for Congress.

Judge Crowell has always worked for the Democratic ticket in Jackson county; Mr. Reames hasn't; and that sufficiently and truthfully accounts for Mr. Crowell's want of interest in Mr. Reames' personal ambitions. Mr. Crowell has never been afraid of offending his Republican friends by advocating the interests of the Democratic party in Jackson county.

God hates a coward; and so do some Democrats, of whom Judge Crowell seems to be one.

Fire at Ashland.

A big fire destroyed the larger part of the Fourth-street block between Spring and A streets in Ashland May 18th. The fire spread rapidly and before the fire department responded a large portion of the block was in flames. All of what is known as "The Shack" structures on the street were quickly wrapped in flames and they struck Guernas' brick block with a fierceness that the fire department could not conquer. The block was speedily destroyed, but Guerna saved much of his goods. The flames were mountain high and seen by firemen ten miles away.

The losses approximately are: Guerna, $12,000; Mrs. Ganlaerds, $3,000; C. M. Poley, $1000; Ed Sutton, newspaper man, $1500; Provost $1600; McWilliams, $1200. Other losses are large and will reach $60,000. Some carried partial insurance. Guerna had no insurance except on the building.

Lost in the Wilds of Lake.

Chas. C. Snell, of Portland, had quite an experience last Sunday night and one that a repetition is not necessary to familiarize him with every detail of a night out on the lone prairie without shelter or food, and with no companion or comforter other than the howling coyote who makes night dreary to the unfortunate traveler in a strange land when he becomes lost, with his hideous kl-yl.

Mr. Snell was enroute from Lakeview to Paisley. Night overtook him on the rocky ridge between the two Chewaucan marshes, about 12 miles from Paisley. He, not being acquainted with the country, took a wrong road which led him in the direction of the Z X ranch. He followed this road to its apparent end and landed in the midst of the big flat near the old Bogue place. The night was extremely dark and every direction he would go he encountered either wire fences or big ditches, or both, till he became tired and his horse weary, so he "put up." He lighted a fire in sagebrush to warm himself, and then it was that the coyotes set up such a howl that cold and darkness was preferable. When daylight came, tired, cold and sleepy he wended his way to the Johnson ranch, where he found food and something for his horse. He reached Paisley at noon.—Post.
