

World's Fair Notes
St. Louis Mo.

Hawaii has appropriated $50,000 to defray the expense of an exhibit at the World's Fair, St. Louis.

Thirty thousand persons participated in the great civic parade at the World's Fair dedicatory ceremonies on State Day, May 2.

Work on the French National Pavilion, a reproduction of the Grand Triumvirat at Versailles, France, will be begun soon at the World's Fair, St. Louis.

Live stock breeders of Canada will make a big display at the World's Fair, St. Louis. They have asked for Government assistance to the extent of $250,000.

The British National Pavilion at the World's Fair, St. Louis, will be a reproduction of the Orangery or banquet hall of the Kensington Palace, in Kensington Gardens, London.

The World's Fair arid tournament to be held at St. Louis next year, has another entry. W. L. Tauney, of Wheeling, W. Va., has invented an airship with which he is going to compete for the $100,000 prize.

Greece will erect a pavilion at the World's Fair, St. Louis, and will also make exhibits in several of the different departments. Among the interesting things exhibited will be reproductions of old Greek statuary.

H. E. Huntington, the multi-millionaire, is building a palatial private car, which will be exhibited at the World's Fair, St. Louis. The type will be a sleeper and will be adapted to use on both steam and electric roads. The car will cost over $25,000.

Buffalo, N. Y., will have a municipal exhibit at the World's Fair, St. Louis. The exhibit is to cost $12,500. The Aldermen have appropriated $7,500, and $5,000 is being raised by private subscription through the Merchants' Exchange and the Manufacturers' Club.

Mrs. Lorraine J. Pitkin, Vice-President of Lady Managers of the World's Fair Fraternal Building Association, has been elected department commander of the Woman's Relief Corps of the Illinois Division of the G. A. R. Mrs. Pitkin has been identified with fraternal movements for the last twenty-five years.

The plans for the building of the Travelers' Protective Association at the World's Fair, have been completed. The contract for the building will be let next month. The structure will be 85 by 45 feet and one story high. It will contain a large central hall which will be used for receptions during the Fair.

One of the interesting exhibits that may be seen at the Horticulture Department at the Exposition will be the fruits fresh from South Africa. The managers of the fruit farms of the late Cecil Rhodes, at Cape Town, have announced their intention of placing fresh fruits on exhibit each week. Even in London this feat has never been undertaken.

On the 37 acres of ground devoted to the Live Stock department are being built 2,800 stalls. Two thousand four hundred of these are open stalls, 5 by 10 feet. The remaining 400 are box stalls, 10 by 10 feet. In addition four octagonal dairy barns will provide 140 open stalls and 28 box stalls.

The American Jersey Cattle Club is preparing to install a herd of Jersey cows that will eclipse all previous Jersey exhibitions. New England, New York, and Eastern States have already shipped 15 cows to Jerseyville, Ill., where they will be held until the opening of the Fair. It is the intention to select the best 40 Jersey cows in the world to take part in the dairy test.

When Superintendent Brodie began staking off the ground for the great 6-acre map of the United States that is to be shown in growing crops, he found, sticking in the soil, thousands of sky-rocket sticks, the result of the great fire-works displays during the dedication. These were harvested and served admirably for the stakes used in platting the gigantic map. If they had been bought it would have required an outlay of more than $100.

S. O. Collins, of New York City, a young colored janitor, is to have an exhibit of landscape paintings. Mr. Collins has studied for the last four years at Cooper Union, paying his expenses by attending to furnaces and acting as janitor of a building. His paintings are to be entered in the competition in which the works to be hung in the art galleries of the Fair are to be selected.

Connecticut will have one of the most unique exhibits. The exhibit will show the growing oyster. Large glass tanks, filled with running sea water, will contain living oysters of various ages. In some of the tanks will be placed the enemies of the oyster. Star fish and borers will be allowed to carry on their work of deadly attacks upon the living bivalves, that the spectators may see the work of destruction. A fine collection of curios picked up while dredging for oysters will also be included in the exhibit.

Old Fashioned.

What has become of the old fashioned man who called a bull a "gatherer?"

What has become of that old fashioned man who referred to coal as "stone coal?"

What has become of the old fashioned woman who bought wall paper and hung it herself?

What has become of the old fashioned boy who believed that eating gunpowder would make him fierce?

What has become of the old fashioned mustang pony that had to be broken every time it was hitched up?

What has become of the old fashioned person who said to a child that had fallen, "Come here, and I'll help you up?"

What has become of the old fashioned woman who used to say to her boy when he came in late, "I'll attend to your case after supper?"—
