LAKEVIEW, OREGON, JUNE 11, 1903.

By means of Marconi's wireless telegraphy the steamship Ivernia of Cunard Line and the Minnehaha of the Atlantic Transport Line, both of which arrived at New York last week were able for forty-eight hours to communicate with each other while in mid ocean. Although seventy miles apart and out of sight of each other, the passengers on the two steamships engaged in an exciting chess game, which was won by the team of the Minnehaha. Man is only beginning to find out what has been within his reach since the world began. We no longer wonder at the reports from "the Marconi." What is regarded now as astonishing will be very commonplace twenty-five years hence.

In no particular does the organization of labor promise to be so useful as in preventing disastrous friction. Strikes are shown to be enormously costly, and the curious part of it is that in dollars and cents they are more costly to the laborer than to the capitalist. Both sides of the controversy are likely to study the facts and figures in the case and to recognize strikes as a kind of war, remembering that even in this guise "war is hell."

Professor Elliot of Harvard university is 69 years of age, but every fine morning takes a spin on his bicycle. Mrs. Elliot, a few years his junior, usually accompanies him, the pair looked fresh, happy and hearty. Dr. Elliot is a splendid example of an athlete, who still keeps himself in good physical trim. He has been president of Harvard for 34 years.

Professor Amos N. Currier, who has been promoted by the State University of Iowa to the headship of the consolidated departments of Latin and Greek, was graduated in 1866 from Dartmouth college. In 1867 he went to Iowa. He is dean of the College of Liberal Arts, and has been for one year acting president of the university.

The anthracite coal commission cost the government the modest sum of $38,000, or $12,000 less than was appropriated by Congress for that purpose. The record of the coal commission in this regard is unfavorable contrast to the expense accounts of the usual government commissions and congressional junketing committees.

Rev. C. M. Sheldon is at the head of a movement to establish at Topeka, Kan., a life insurance company that will only issue policies on the lives of Christians and total abstainers. All the churches of the United States are to be asked to assist the organization. Rates will be from 10 to 20 per cent lower than in other companies.

The Boer war cost Great Britain $825,000,000, increasing the British national debt to $4,000,000,000. This was paying an exorbitant price for a painful experience in which not much was accomplished and very little learned.

Captain Charles H. Downs, who claims to have been the first white settler of Omaha, Neb., still resides there, at the age of 84 years. He went to Omaha in June, 1854. He was born in Connecticut near New Haven.

J. Piermont Morgan has become a sort of royal supervisor of great corporations, and they allow him to take their business relations with their employes out of their hands because Mr. Morgan has financial interests in a majority of the big corporations in the country.

J. F. Ayer of Somerville, Mass., has been elected president of the Bay State Historical league, just recently effected, and to which all the historical organizations of the state will be invited to join.

Two Portland men are quarrelling in the courts about a strip of land 18 inches wide on Third street. Neither man wants the earth, but each wants those 18 inches.

Geronimo, the famous old leader of the Apache Indians, who has cost the government so much money and so many lives, is to be allowed to attend the Indian congress in New York in the summer.

Reduced Summer Excursion Rate

The Denver & Rio Grande, popularly known as the "Scenic Line of the World," has announced greatly reduced round-trip rates from Pacific Coast points for the benefit of teachers who will spend their vacation in the East, and of delegates to all the prominent Conventions—N. E. A., at Boston; A. O. U. W., at St. Paul; R. P. O. E., at Baltimore; Woodmen of America, at Indianapolis; Eagles, at New York; Mystic Shrine at Saratoga Springs, N. Y.; P. of L., at Louisville, and T. P. A. at Indianapolis.

Tickets at the reduced rates will be based upon one fare for the round trip, but will be sold only on certain days. These tickets will carry stop-over privileges on the going trip, giving passengers an opportunity to visit Salt Lake City, Glenwood Springs, Colorado Springs and Denver; and will be good to return any time within ninety (90) days. Passengers going via the Denver & Rio Grande are given the privilege of returning via a different route.

For the rate to the point you wish to go, and for dates of sale and other particulars, as well as for illustrated pamphlets, write

Some Good Arguments.

It is a fine art to produce a piano that possesses all the desirable qualities and none of the poor ones. It involves the assembling of the right woods, metals, felts and leathers, and the proper seasoning, shaping and proportioning of them, the exact regulations of the thicknesses of the sounding board to give it the proper resonance, the right tempering and winging of the steel strings to give them the finest tone, the nicest adjustment of the action, and we might truthfully say, millions of other matters of minute detail.

Now, if the sound of a piano possesses all the desirable qualities, it follows of course that it has been properly constructed. Such a piano is a gem. It will be as much satisfaction to you 20 years hence as it is now.

Come in and let us explain to you the construction of our instruments, and their sound qualities. Ours are the very finest made, and include such perfectly constructed pianos as the Weber of New York, the Chickering of Boston and the Kimball of Chicago. Pianos whose sound qualities are not equalled the world over, and many other sterling makes not so high priced.

Our business footing, too, is on a sound basis. We sell at small margin of profit and on the lowest payments and easiest terms of any piano store on the Coast.

You will find it greatly to your advantage to make your piano purchase here. EILEEN PIANO HOUSE.
