LAKEVIEW, OREGON, JUNE 11, 1903.

BINGER HERMANN.

Hon. Binger Hermann, Congressman elect from the First Oregon district, was born February 19th, 1843, in the state of Maryland. His father, Dr. Henry Hermann came to Oregon when it was yet a territory in 1858, with a colony of Germans and settled with them on the Coquille river. In the spring of the following year still others arrived from Maryland, and among them were Dr. Hermann's family, with young Binger. Their struggles with the forests were hard and continuous. All building material came from the forest. There were no mills in that country then, and they split logs with wedge and mauld and sawed and split out the boards, posts and shingles by hard labor. Trails were the only roadways. After aiding in this work for a year or so, young Hermann opened the first school in that country and taught there, and later taught in several places in the Umpqua valley—then embracing Umpqua county, and in Douglas county. He studied law in Judge (afterwards Governor) Chadwick's office at Roseburg. He was admitted to the bar by the Supreme Court in the fall of 1866, and having been elected to the lower house of the Oregon Legislature, took his seat there the same fall. He was elected to the State Senate in 1870. He practiced law during these years, and until 1884, when he was elected to Congress as Representative of the entire state. He served in this capacity for eight years. Then the state was districted, and for the next four years he served the First Congressional district.

Upon the inauguration of President McKinley, he was chosen by him as Commissioner of the General Land Office, and assumed the duties of that position in March, 1897. He continued in that place until last February, when he resigned. President McKinley and Mr. Hermann served together in Congress, where they became intimate friends and so continued until the President's death. In the almost 100 years of the General Land Office there have been twenty-nine Commissioners, and Mr. Hermann served longer than any who preceded him, excepting two, and they were in during the earlier part of the history of the office.

President at Home.

President Roosevelt arrived in Washington Friday evening from his long Western trip. A cordial reception was given him by the citizens of the capital. A concert was given on the White House grounds by the Marine Band. Col. Stone, of the Post Office department, stated that it was the most successful excursion ever made. "We have made a 14,000 mile tour by rail without a single detention, without accident, without even a hotbox."

At Altoona, the president said: "I have been on a journey across the continent from the Atlantic to the Pacific and now am back again. The thing that pleased me most was the substantial unity of Americans. Wherever he goes, East or West, the President of the United States is at home among his fellow Americans."

Card of Thanks.

I wish to thank all those kind friends in Lakeview who so generously assisted during the sickness and death of my husband.

Fourth of July and Base Ball.

If the newspapers didn't continually harp on the fact that Lakeview intended to have the grandest Fourth of July celebration this year that was ever seen off a railroad, people might forget about it, and think that it had been called off. On the contrary, everything points to the big time as scheduled, and preparations are being made to entertain people from the country. The large platform 100x40, will be a feature never had here before. There will be all kinds of amusements for the little folks, a list of which will be published next week. The fireworks in the evening will be the finest ever seen here.

The committee on baseball have changed the arrangement somewhat, which will give the outside teams all a chance to carry home a good purse. The first game will be played on the morning of the second day of the races, July 3d, by two outside nines, and the winning team will receive two-thirds of the gate receipts, $100 more or less. The second game will be on the afternoon of the Fourth, by two other teams, and the winners to take two-thirds of the gate receipts. The third game will be on Sunday afternoon by the two winning nines of two previous days for a purse of $150 and no gate receipts. The fourth game will be on Monday morning by the losing nines of the first two days for a purse of $50 and two-thirds of the gate receipts for the two last days. This gives three of the nines a big purse and a big inducement to come and play ball.

May Go To Manila.

(Klamath Republican.)

Miss Alice A. Applegate has just received a letter from E. B. Bryan, General Superintendent of Education for the Philippine Islands, dated Manila, P. I. April 22, 1903, appointing her a teacher in the public schools of the Philippine Islands, subject to assignment of General Superintendent. Appointees are required to serve the Bureau of Education for a period of at least two years from date of their arrival in Manila unless released by the General Superintendent on account of sickness or other cause. If Miss Applegate accepts the position she will have to leave San Francisco early in July.

Miss Applegate is a native of Klamath county, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan D. Applegate. She has an enviable record as an instructor. Graduating from Monmouth College, she served as critic teacher in the Ashland Normal and as principal for one year of the Klamath Falls schools. The past year she has taught at Lakeview.

We all can feel a just pride in the honor shown Miss Applegate yet we are selfish enough to feel regret at the loss to our town of one of its brightest teachers.

Morey Applegate, a brother of Miss Alice, is now in the Philippines collecting an exhibit for the St. Louis Fair.
