W. T. Cressler had an artesian well sunk on his ranch, known as the Chase place, last week, and at a depth of 135 feet a flow of 40 gallons per minute was obtained, says the Record. A peculiar feature attended the boring of the well. It was bored about 60 ft. from another artesian well, and when at the same depth as the old well the flow almost ceased in it and came out at the new one. The new one was sunk 20 feet further down than the old one had been when the old well resumed its normal flow and the new one sent up a beautiful stream of water. Cressler & Bonner now have fourteen artesian wells on their ranches, and there are in the neighborhood of 200 wells in the valley.
