

Local Happenings Told in Paragraphs

Harry Bailey has been on the sick list for two weeks past.

Harry Ahldridge and Wm. Vincent were visitors from New Pine Creek last Thursday.

Luman Fosket and wife of Warner were visiting in Lakeview several days last week.

C. W. Embold and H. S. Bradley, Bly timber land locators, were doing business in Lakeview several days the past week.

Among the party who went to Deep Creek on a few weeks outing, were Dr. E. H. Smith and family and Miss Ottilie Field.

E. R. Patch is going to establish a wood yard in Lakeview. This is one of the public necessities that should have been started long ago.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Devine went to San Francisco last Thursday, where they have contemplated going for some time, for the benefit of Mrs. Devine's health.

Up to the present time this year, the supply of vegetables and fruit grown by Goose Lake farmers and delivered in Lakeview, is not equal to the demand. The cattle ranches and sheep camps send in their orders to be filled in Lakeview, and thus the demand is growing.

The eleventh annual Chautauqua assembly at Ashland, convened on Wednesday of last week. The beautiful grove near the Chautauqua building is filled with campers who arrive early to be present at the whole of the ten days' assembly. There will be many prominent speakers there this year.

J. P. Hill of Paisley, was in Lakeview attending to some business last week. Mr. Hill has been appointed agent of the Paisley-Silver Lake stage line and will manage the line for J. A. Halladay, the contractor. Two-horse wagons will replace the one-horse carts heretofore in use, to accommodate the increase of business of the line.

J. M. Einstein and J. S. Frazier, popular commercial travelers, were here on their regular semi-annual visit last week. "Jack" Einstein is one of the best entertainers on the road, and his stock of up-to-date songs and stories are numerous. The Hotel Lakeview parlor was well filled last Thursday night by friends who listened to a number of Jack's best. Among the songs was "Don't Make Those Scandalous Eyes at Me," and he sang it in a way that would make any of the celebrated minstrels envious. There was quite an array of local talent present, and the evening was pleasantly passed.

A joke is told on Albert Dent, who has been clerking in the store of Bailey and Masingill for the past month. It is said that before he became familiar with the counter scales he had occasion to weigh some rope. Placing the rope in the scales and leaning his elbow on the platform, he proceeded to slide the weight along the beam, but it was impossible to get the scales to balance. Occasionally it would appear to nearly balance, and then it would suddenly become quite heavy or light, as he moved his body. The purchaser noticing the difficulty, told him if he would saw his arm off he might make the scales balance, but that he was buying rope and not human flesh. Albert looked blankly for a moment and turned one of those vivid hues, that ladies buy at the drug stores, and said, Oh! Then everybody laughed.
