LAKEVIEW, OREGON, AUGUST 13, 1903.

ROOM, BUT NONE AVAILABLE.

The Eugene Register very truthfully says editorially:

"Some idea of the newness of some parts of Oregon is shown in the fact that Lake county, a territory approximately 80 miles square containing 6400 square miles of territory has only 659 residents of school age, or between the ages of 6 and 21 years. Several other counties are under the 1000 mark of school population showing conclusively that Oregon, with all its splendid resource and delightful climate has room for millions where thousands now are found. The people are coming however, and at 50,000 a year additions we will soon make a decent showing of population. Between now and the close of 1905 at least 250,000 should be added to our numbers."

The Register might have truthfully added that since the Secretary of the Interior had withdrawn from settlement about 3,000,000 acres of land from settlement, there is very little land available in Lake county, and the consequence is, if this land is not again thrown open to the public, none of the 250,000 people who are expected to come to Oregon to find homes between now and the end of the 1905 fair, will come to Lake county to locate. This is one of the great arguments against the forest reserve. No country can stand still, it must either go ahead or fall back. Lake county will go backward if the forest reserve is made permanent. The range will eventually be under the control of the corporations and big stock men, and the small holder will have to go out of business.

The engagement of Charity Rebecca Maldonado, of Portland, to A. S. Hammond, a Jackson county attorney has been announced. Miss Maldonado has been engaged in stenographic work in Mr. Hammond's law office for a couple of years. It is reported Mr. Hammond intends to come to Lakeview in the near future to locate.

L. E. Griffith, who has been working in the Hawkins & Rhinehart sawmill, met with a serious and painful accident yesterday. His fingers of the left hand were all severed from the hand and thumb nearly so by getting them mixed with the saw. He was brought to town, and Dr. Steiner fixed up his hand, which will probably be saved.

T. J. Stevens, foreman on the Herald, returned from Silver Lake last Thursday. He went up to meet his wife who came out from Grand Rapids Minn., to file on a timber claim. The news reached Silver Lake a few hours before her arrival that all the lands in the district had been withdrawn, and she returned to her home in the east disgusted with the country. Mr. Stevens came back to Lakeview where he will remain until he proves up on his claim.

Stockmen who are in the habit of buying hay at Merrill in Klamath county, complain that the price this year is nearly double that of last year, and unless the price goes down they cannot afford to take their stock there to feed this winter. It is claimed that the price asked for alfalfa this year is $8 per ton, while last it was only $4 and $5. Many beef cattle are bought in Lake county every year and taken to Merrill to fatten for the market, but the high price for hay there now has caused a halt in the buying.

way and making his home in the desert.

FIXED FOR THE NIGHT.

A fire was soon kindled and a hasty meal prepared from this ample store. A place large enough for our bedding was found in the middle of the floor, but we did not go to bed until we had given the horses all the water they desired, and after hobbling them gave them their choice between browsing on the tall grass and partaking of a good grain feed from the stores placed there for that purpose. We found next morning that the horses had taken advantage of both opportunities and when we left Windy Hollow they were as much refreshed as ourselves. We left the customary notice on the wall, but our "raid" had been so light that the stockmen refused to take compensation.

RULES ARE KEPT.

We found at the other end of the gulch a wire fence and a gate. The mountains on either side protected the grass and water from the ravages of stock from those directions and the fences inclosed the other two sides. The place was kept solely for a station and no stockman would think of turning other horses into the place than those actually driven or ridden in passing through the country. It was forbidden territory to all animals except those necessary to convey them through the country, and the rank growth of vegetation in this little protected spot showed that no one had ever violated the rules.

Pope Elected.

Cardinal Sarro, Patriarch of Venice, was elected Pope of Rome on the morning of August 4th and assumes the title of Pius X. The new Pope is said to represent the liberal or progressive element in the Catholic church and is a man of great ability and purity of character. The selection meets with the approval of Catholics generally.

First New Wheat.

The first new wheat of the season was brought to the Ashland Flouring mills, on Tuesday, by R. P. Neil, from his ranch north of town. It is good milling wheat, and the price paid was 75 cents. W. J. Virgin estimates this year's crop at something less than one-third of the average for this valley.—Twilings.

James W. Abbot, special agent of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and head of the good roads department, dropped into Lakeview Tuesday night from Denver, and returned the next morning. Owing to limited time at the present, he could not stop longer, but expects to return again in September or October. Mr. Abbot's mission in Lakeview is for a double purpose. Not only is he looking after the roads of the country, but is interested in the mineral prospects of this vicinity, which will be investigated on his next visit.

The Klamath Express man must have been consulting "Peck's Bad Boy" lately. In commenting upon events in Lakeview from The Examiner, the Express grows quite facetious. The fact that a recent runaway demolished a bicycle and tore down some porch posts like they were toothpicks causes the Express to remark: "The town of Lakeview seems to be fated to serious mishap by small things, if the town's pioneer paper is correct in its reports, and of course it is. The metropolis of Lake was visited by a snow storm on the Fourth. One and one-half inches of snow fell. In consequence, according to the Examiner, fruit and ornamental trees were bent to the ground and many were broken down. Parabolic to the event nothing was said, we believe, about toothpicks or matches."
