

Jim Winnishet.

One of the three Indians who, 30 years ago, went into the lava beds of Lake county and made Captain Jack, the treacherous chief of the Modocs, lay down his gun, is in the city, says the Portland Telegram.

He is Jim Winnishet, father of Frank Winnishet, the Indian who is held by the United States authorities on the charge of the murder of Indian Policeman Palatt, on the Warm Springs Reservation, last July. Mr. Winnishet is down for the purpose of looking after the welfare of his son, and this morning engaged the services of Attorney Pierce Mays to defend him at his trial in October.

After Captain Jack and his band of 70 blood-thirsty warriors had terrorized Southern Oregon and perpetrated the slaughter of many settlers, and no less than 500 United States soldiers, Jim Winnishet, with two other Indians, Albert and Capolis, went into the stronghold of the murderous band and induced the dreaded leader to lay down his gun. Jim acted as spokesman, and told Captain Jack that if he would lay down his gun he and his men would do the same. This was to show that there would be no treachery. The chief finally consented and as he did so the hills rang with the cheers of the armed hosts of the white man, for the surrendered chief was their foe of the warlike Indians of the West, and his taking was the signal for general rejoicing.

As a result of his prowess on this occasion and at other times while acting as a scout, Winnishet was a hero among the early settlers and the Army of the West. He was discharged with more than ordinary honors. Written at the bottom of his order of discharge are the words "One of the captors of Captain Jack." And this document the old red man treasures very highly.

The capture of Captain Jack took place in 1873 and in the same year with Boston Charlie, Skookum and Black Jim he was executed at Fort Klamath by the United States authorities. The latter three were prominent leaders of the Modoc uprising.

Captain Jack was the most treacherous of the warlike Indians of the West. It was he and his warriors who laid the trap and massacred General Canby and Commissioner Thomas at an appointed council of peace during the Modoc war. The officers advanced to hold a conference with the redskins under a truce, and were mercilessly shot down without warning. The warriors entrenched themselves in an almost impregnable fortification in the southern Oregon lava beds and for a long time bid defiance to every effort to dislodge them. It was at this stage of the struggle that Jim Winnishet distinguished himself while serving as a scout under Colonel Donald McKay.

Winnishet is an Indian of more than ordinary intelligence. He is of medium stature and wears a small black mustache. He speaks fairly good English. The old man seems much put out at the misfortune of his son, and attributes the whole affair to "fire-water."

J. C. Luckey, for four years agent of the Warm Springs Reservation, is well acquainted with Winnishet, and speaks of him as a sterling character among his people. He is renowned on the reservation as a vaquero.

The ice in Greenland is melting more rapidly than it is formed. Comparison of the description of the Jacobshaven glacier shows that its edge has receded eight miles since 1850, and it has lost 20 to 30 feet in depth.

Today there is enough schooling supplied to give every citizen 988 days of solid education as his life supply. Fifty years ago the average was but 420 days, and when the nineteenth century opened the average was but 82 days. Today Uncle Sam gives his children more than 12 times as much schooling as he did 100 years ago.

Sick Headach.

For several years my wife was troubled with what physicians called sick-ache of a very severe character. She doctored with several eminent physicians and at a great expense, only to grow worse until she was unable to do any kind of work. About a year ago she began taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and today weighs more than she ever did before and is real well," says Mr. Geo. E. Wright of New London, New York. For sale by Lee Beall.

About 20,000,000 bunches of bananas grow annually on the island of Jamaica. Four fifths of this number are exported and the remainder is consumed as food by the natives. A bunch of bananas, containing about 300 specimens of the fruit, sells in Samalea for 15 or 20 cents.

Cholera Infantum.

This disease has lost its terrors since Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy came into general use. The uniform success which attends the use of this remedy in all cases of bowel complaints in children has made it a favorite wherever its value has become known. For sale by Lee Beall.

One wishing to import a hippopotamus must have a government permit to buy and another to land one. The landing permit is likely to be useless, for but one in a hundred hippopotami shipped reaches New York alive.

LOVE

Often leads to poverty. No real woman ever sold her heart for the luxuries of life. But many a woman who has gladly faced poverty for the man she loved, may well doubt her wisdom when pain becomes the mate of poverty. If she were rich, she thinks, she could find a way of cure.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is within the reach of every one. It lifts the burden of pain which weighs down those who suffer from womanly diseases. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"You have my heartfelt thanks for your kind advice to me," writes Mrs. Geo. Fletcher, of 107 Victoria Avenue, Galt, Ontario. "Was troubled with catarrh of uterus for over a year. The doctors said I would have to go through an operation, but I commenced to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery, also his 'Lotion Tablets' and 'Antiseptic and Healing suppositories.' Now I am completely cured, after using six bottles of Dr. Pierce's medicines. I am glad to say his medicine has made me a new woman."

Weak and sick women, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are easy and pleasant to take. A most effective laxative.

Violent Attack of Diarrhoea Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and Perhaps a Life Saved.

"A short time ago I was taken with a violent attack of diarrhoea and believe I would have died if I had not gotten relief," says John J. Patton, a leading citizen of Patton, Ala. "A friend recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I bought a twenty-five cent bottle and after taking three doses of it was entirely cured. I consider it the best remedy in the world for bowel complaints. For sale by Lee Beall.

A CHANCE TO LEARN

Practical Demonstrations of Piano Construction at Eilers Piano House That Are Going to Prove Most Valuable to Everyone

A piano which presents an exceedingly well-made appearance, at first may have a very pleasing tone. But, if after a little use, the tone becomes flat, the action sluggish, and it gets out of tune easily, it is evident that construction is very faulty somewhere.

But the mischief is then done. You have made your purchase and must content yourself to have your instrument "tinkered" up from time to time unless you are in a position to purchase a new one. This is expensive experience, and simply because, when you made your purchase you lacked the knowledge of practical piano construction which enabled you to discriminate between a well and a poorly made piano. The principle upon which that delicate piece of mechanism, and action is made, is the same in good pianos as in poor pianos. But the manner of construction is radically different. In the good piano, the wood is carefully selected and thoroughly seasoned, the felts are made of the finest and choicest wool, that will not pack nor wear, leathers and bushing cloths that will not stretch, and the most carefully proportioned metals, the whole being so exactly put together and adjusted that it works as beautifully as the joints of the human body and as quickly, yes more quickly than thought itself.

Whereas, the action in a cheaply constructed instrument is apt to be made of second class or inferior lumber, cut so as to secure the largest number of pieces to the foot, without any reference to insuring the finest grain. Every other material used in such pianos is made with the same object of saving money,—poor felts that, soon lose their "springiness", cloth and leathers that stretch, and metals that can not and do not stand wear, so that the action soon becomes "rheumaty", that it develops in the mind of the player, an uncertainty when a key is struck, whether it will convey the motion to the string or not. Pianos with such actions are poorly made throughout.

To learn to detect all these defects is a very easy matter and it is with an object of enabling purchasers to avoid being misled into securing such faulty pianos, which are so loudly exploited in some directions, and enabling them to select one that is good, well-made and substantial, that Eilers Piano House has recently adopted a broad educational policy.

With large piano and organ repair rooms, and a force of expert workmen, beside salesmen thoroughly schooled in every detail of piano construction, we are amply prepared to let you study this in the most thorough and practical manner.

Whether you contemplate making your purchase now, or at some future time, you are welcome to come to any of our stores and learn all about piano construction, absolutely free of charge. You will find such study not only very instructive and valuable, but also interesting and entertaining.
