LAKEVIEW, OREGON, SEPT. 3, 1903.

One of the very first things members of the medical profession learn is how to make a patient cough up. —Stillwater Prison Mirror.

George B. Young, a St. Paul lawyer, is reported to have received a $100,000 fee for his part in fighting the merger for the Northern Securities company.

A million gallons of whisky were destroyed by fire in Glasgow. Fortunately the destruction of all this whisky was accomplished with the loss of only seven lives.

The United States is not making much progress towards building the Panama canal, but the salaries are going on all the time so that some people are entirely satisfied.

It is believed that Pope Pius X. will create a number of new prelates for the United States and will probably renominate all the American prelates created by Leo XIII.

Anton Dvorak has written a new opera called "Armida," to be produced at the Prague National theater the beginning of October. The libretto is by Dr. Vrchlicky, who, like Dvorak, is a member of the Austrian house of lords.

During the recent visit of Baron Speck von Sternberg to the president at Sagamore Hill, the ambassador and the president showed themselves to be evenly matched as marksmen. Once they tied. The president outscored the ambassador once, and then the ambassador beat the president.

The departure of King Edward from constitutional usage in pardoning an Irish peasant at the instance of the queen has aroused considerable comment throughout England, especially among lawyers, who are looking up the "prerogative of pardon" and the precedents involved in the king's case.

Miss Caroline L. Greisheim, a clerk in the civil service department at Washington, has had a unique duty cut out for her. She has been detailed to make a tour of inspection of the postoffices of the country and interpret the civil service regulations. Miss Greisheim does not expect to have a warm reception, but this does not worry her she says.

Women are forging their way everywhere as employes in banks and business offices, but there is one office where not one is ever seen as an employe, or ever will be probably so long as the head of the firm lives. That is J. Pierpont Morgan's office. Bright girls of splendid business ability have pulled all kinds of wires to get places in Mr. Morgan's office, but in vain.

Secretary Root has by a recent order prohibited the docking of horses in the army and has thereby endeared himself to thousands of advocates of the prevention of cruelty to animals. The mutilation of horses by this process of docking is not only senseless but cruel and the secretary's order to bar the practice from the army will have much to do with making it unpopular elsewhere.

It is rather remarkable that in the long line of men who have been and will be at the head of the army, until the retirement of Wood in 1924, none since Schofield has been or will be West Point men. Neither Miles, Young, Corbin, Chaffee, MacArthur nor Wood is a graduate of the famous military academy. All except Wood came over from the civil war.

M. E. Ingalls, president of the Big Four railroad, is a Maine man, and whenever he visits his native state he always spends a portion of his time in Harrison, where he began the practice of law. On his last visit there he dropped into the village store and there met an old fellow whom he knew a long time ago. "They say, Ingalls," observed the old man, "that you get more'n $10,000 a year. How is that?" Mr. Ingalls admitted that the statement was true. "Well," said the ancient acquaintance, "it does beat all how a man can fool 'em if he only has the gall."

A Boy's Wild Ride for Life.

With family around expecting him to die, and a son riding for life, 18 miles to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, W. H. Brown of Leesville, Ind., endured death agonies from asthma; but this wonderful medicine gave instant relief and soon cured him. He writes: "I now sleep soundly every night." Like marvelous cures of Consumption, Pneumonia, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds and Grip prove its matchless for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles, 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Beall's Drug Store.

Will Be a Big Show.

September 14 to 26 inclusive will be days long to be remembered in the history of Portland. Under the auspices of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic Club the merchants of Portland give their carnival on the above dates. The attractions offered will be the best ever presented west of the Rocky mountains. Every day will be a special day, and this, together with the low rates by the railroads, insures a big attendance.

In Praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"Allow me to give you a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mr. John Hamlett, of Eagle Pass, Texas. "I suffered one week with bowel trouble and took all kinds of medicine without getting any relief, when my friend, Mr. C. Johnson, a merchant here, advised me to take this remedy. After taking one dose I felt greatly relieved and when I had taken the third dose was entirely cured. I thank you from the bottom of my heart for putting this great remedy in the hands of mankind." Ringtail monkeys, one of the most valuable and expensive of the smaller animals, are caught in an interesting way. A coconut is split in two and a banana with a piece of wood running through it placed lengthwise through the nut, the two halves of which are drawn together by wire. Then a hole is cut large enough for the monkey's paw to enter. The monkey spies the tempting nut from his tree. He hops down, looks it over, sees the hole and smells the banana inside. He is fond of bananas. Putting his paw in, he grasps it, but the wood prevents it from coming out. Then the catchers appear and the monkey runs for a tree. But he can not climb because of the coconut on his paw, and he will not let go of that, so he is captured, pawing wildly at the tree trunk.

Sour Stomach.

When the quantity of food taken is too large or the quality too rich, our stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals, and when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach after eating, take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. For sale by Lee Beall.

Five hundred farmers around Bockwell, Ia., formed a trust with $25,000 capital for marketing their products. Last year, at an expense of $4000, they did a business of $620,000 without losing a dollar.
