Vaccinate Children Before School Opens.

The Oregon State Board of Health insist that the Rules 24 and 25 must be rigidly enforced. The rules read as follows:

RULE XXIV.
It shall be the duty of all school boards in all the school districts of whatever class in the State of Oregon, to prohibit the entrance into any of the public schools of the State of all children not previously vaccinated, (the evidence of which is shown by the scar), without proper vaccination; and it shall be the duty of the teacher or teachers in any of the public schools of the State of Oregon to satisfy themselves that such order has been properly enforced, evidence being a scar, or by a certificate of vaccination signed by a reputable physician.

RULE XXV.
Schoolbooks or books from a public library shall not be taken into the house where smallpox, typhus, fever, diphtheria, membranous croup, scarlet fever, measles, or whooping cough exist, and if school books or library books have already been taken into the house, they must be destroyed by the owner or library authorities, or be properly disinfected before they are again taken to school or placed in circulation.

This is as it should be; the citizens of every State should only be too anxious to stamp out every form of disease as far as possible and help to make America the healthiest, cleanest country on the globe.

New Pine Creek Notes.

C. M. Smythe went through town Monday on the way to Lakeview to work on The Examiner.

Cordell Thurston has his new thresher almost ready for business.

The second crop of alfalfa looks well in these parts but will not be as heavy as was expected.

New Pine Creek is having a rousing time this summer with its tramp preachers that come from somewhere and teach peculiar doctrine such as faith curing, premillennialism and etc. The faith curist wear glasses and false teeth are sometimes afflicted with rheumatism yet their poor dupes swallow all they say with little thought as to its result upon the minds of the young men and women of the town. The premillennium fellow talks glibly of the second coming of the Christ and how we should be prepared, pocketing at the same time the evening collection to provide against the rainy days that may come before the advent of the Christ. It seems to us it would be well for our people to think on these things.

Salisbury Dead

In the death of ex-Premier Lord Salisbury, England loses one of its greatest living statesmen. He has been in public life half a century, as member of parliament, secretary to India, secretary of foreign affairs, Premier at intervals from 1885 to 1902. He was exclusive and aristocratic in disposition—a great constructive force in British politics. He was cautious, conservative and a lover of peace. We admired his kindness, when president Cleveland made his bellicose blunder a few years ago. In his life he contributed incalculably to the peace of the world.

Capt. Richard Hobson the famous "hero of the Merrimac" is engaged to marry Miss Ruth Bryan, eldest daughter of William Jennings Bryan. Miss Ruth Bryan who is 19 years of age is a tall well formed, gray eyed girl of the blonde type, with a mouth that suggests the firmness and strength of her father coupled with the refinement and delicacy of the woman. She is a beautiful girl and in any company would be conspicuous. She is devoted to charity work. She is a great lover of horses and drives and rides well; is a true western girl.
