Confessions of a Priest.

Rev. Joo. S. Cox, of Wake, Ark., writes: "For 12 years I suffered from Yellow Jaundice. I consulted a number of Physicians and tried all sorts of medicines, but got no relief.

A Big Copper Refinery.

The Ladd Metals Company, which was incorporated in Portland recently for the purpose of refining copper ore, has purchased and started to convert the iron smelter at Oswego, a suburb of Portland, into a refinery of sufficient capacity to handle the copper product of the entire Northwest.

The Oswego smelter was originally constructed to handle iron ore, and was operated for a considerable period, but of late years it has been idle and the plant practically abandoned.

In Modoc? No, No.

In commenting on what The Examiner said in regard to walnuts and mulberries growing in the court yard here, the Alturas Plaindealer, evidently not believing our statement, facetiously remarks:

On Catamount hill, at Colrain, Mass., a monument has been raised to mark the site of the first flag that was ever raised over a public schoolhouse in the United States.

The grip bacillus is the smallest microbe yet discovered that affects man. It is but 0.4 of a micron broad and two to three times as long.

The population of the world is about 1,500,000,000 people. If you allowed every man, woman and child 18 inches on which to sit and put them on both sides of a dining table, you would have a table 100,000 miles long, going three times around the world.

Theodore Roosevelt is the first president of the United States for many years to write his own messages and speeches. It is usually supposed that the words of a ruler are his own, and his acts the acts of his ministers.

Sir Wilfrid Lawson, who recently won a fiercely contested parliamentary election on his old platform of temperance, is known as England's "grand old man of temperance." He is 75 years old and devoted 40 years of his life to the championship of temperance.

It is said that when Mr. Gladstone read a book by Mr. Carnegie he remarked that he admired a man, who, without knowing how to write, wrote on a subject of which he knew nothing.

A Love Letter

Would not interest you if you're looking for a guaranteed Salve for Sores, Burns or Piles, Otto Dodd, of Pender, Mo., writes: "I suffered with an ugly sore for a year, but a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured me. It's the best Salve on earth. 25c at Lee Beall's Drug Store."

A model school for the deaf and the blind will be a feature of the department of education at the world's fair at St. Louis. How the afflicted are taught to read and write will be practically shown for the benefit of visitors.
