Senator Fulton Shows President
the Impending Embarrassments
Early Action Expected.

The Oregonian News Bulletin, Nov. 4, read as follows:

A committe composed of men who understand the business from the standpoint of the engineer, the attorney, and the land office, has been appointed by the State Land Board to draft a set of land laws which will meet the requirements of all classes of land purchase or acquisitions in the state. It is essential that the new laws cover all that an officer of the Land office may do, the requisitions upon officers, the inspection of public lands, the determination of the amount of compensation to be given for the purchase of the state lands, and must be efficacious and, while their revisions are required in the general protection of the actions of the attorneys.

It is well known that hostility between neighboring states and the land office is due to the failure of the state law. If for sale by the state, the attorneys are to be paid at the time the work will be done.

The bill complexity: the most direct and mechanical matters, as blunders in financial legislation have been so pronouncedly.

The experience of the Fusion Labor was elected Mayor of San Francisco by an overwhelming majority, over Tripp, Clark, and Le Grand by a decided and good feeling among the people.

The committee shall meet every Saturday and Sunday and conduct all negotiations for the purpose of selecting a few of the most interested companies, and to conduct all negotiations for the purpose of selling their timber.

The meeting will be held on Thursday, January 3rd, 1901, at the old courthouse. The meeting will be open to the public, and those who desire to attend are requested to be present at the time appointed.

F. Inwood is a member of the committee, looking after the business in Prineville.

F. Inwood has spent considerable time in working up the agreement among the timber owners, and there seems to be no doubt that all or more claims are in the district inside of the next week will be parties to the agreement to hold their claims for the price named.

Timber companies have been notified that the pool was formed and notified that the price named is not to be exceeded and that the pool will be opened to the public.

The Examiner learns that the cattle buyer arrived a few days after the pool was opened and that he has been able to purchase cattle to catch some other cattle men who were driving to market, and purchased their stock.
