

NEW SHORT STORIES

When Grant Was Easily Satisfied. One rainy night in the autumn as Mark Twain was leaving a theater on Broadway, New York, he heard a voice which was entirely strange to him utter these suggestive words, "They say General Grant is going to write his memoirs after all."

Mr. Clemens saw neither the man nor his companion, but regarded the voice as essentially providential. He was at that time a partner in the extremely successful firm of Charles L. Webster & Co. and considered himself in luck to have heard so early in the transaction the news of General Grant's intention to write the book.

Early the next morning he sent in his card at the general's residence and was received by the latter in the library, where he was evidently at work at that very time upon the story of his life. The house in which he lived was on Sixty-sixth street, near Central park, and, being quite feeble at the time, he spent most of his days at home.

"Well, general," said Mr. Clemens, "I hear that you are writing your story after all?"

"Yes; I've written three chapters already, and the editors seem to like them very well. The fact is," he added, with a look that expressed a certain timidity, "I'm glad to be able to earn a little money in this way just now."

"I hope you'll get well paid for them," said Mr. Clemens.

"I think I'm very well paid," he replied. "I get $500 apiece for them."

Mr. Clemens expressed great surprise. "Why, general, you can't afford to let that matter go at that rate. Five thousand dollars would be cheap for them."

The general remained unmoved. "I'm getting more than Sherman got," he replied quietly, "and I'm satisfied." Hamlin Garland in Success.

Du Challu's Coolness.

The late Paul du Challu was a man of indomitable bravery. Nothing perturbed him. In the most desperate crises his air was calm and somewhat humorous.

One of the veteran conductors of the Pennsylvania railroad said of him on the announcement of his death: "Mr. du Challu was a man whom you couldn't frighten. Danger seemed to enliven him. I'll never forget a ride he once took with me. He sat in the last car of the train, a parlor car, and we came near having a rear end collision.

"CONDUCTOR, HAVE YOU GOT A PIECE OF CHALK?"

"Mr. du Challu from his seat could see the other train approaching us—could see that a collision was pretty near inevitable. He said to me as I took my stand beside him:

"Conductor, have you got a piece of chalk?"

"What on earth, sir? I asked, 'do you want with a piece of chalk now?'"

"Why, it looks," he answered, "as if our legs and arms would be flying about in a little while, and I think it would be a good thing to mark them so that we may identify them later!"—Kansas City Journal.

The Best Liniment.

"Chamberlain's Pain Balm is considered the best liniment on the market," write Post & Bliss, of Georgia, Vt. No other liniment will heal a cut or bruise so promptly. No other affords such quick relief from rheumatic pains. No other is so valuable for deep seated pains like lame back and pains in the chest. Give this liniment a trial and you will never wish to be without it. Sold by Lee Beall.

Red is the color of danger, whether on the semaphore or on the skin. When the face is reddened by eruptions, when boils break out on the body, or the angry red of sores and ulcers is displayed in the flesh, it is nature's danger signal. The blood is obstructed and tainted by impurities, and there can be no safety until the blood is made pure.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies the blood, and removes the effete matter which clogs and corrupts it. It cures pimples, boils, eczema, scrofula, sores, ulcers and other consequences of impure blood.

"I feel greatly thankful for what your medicine has done for me," writes Mrs. Chas. Hood, of Kalkaska, Mich. "I suffered with scrofula of the head for twelve years. Tried every kind of medicine that I heard of but found no cure. Every one that looked at my head said they never saw anything like it. The last doctor I doctored with before applying to you I got worse every day. Was so miserable that I was unable to do any work at all. After taking two or three bottles of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and using the local treatment you prescribed for me, I was cured and my head was entirely free from scrofula."

Accept no substitute for Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. There is no other medicine which is "just as good" for diseases of the blood and the eruptions which are caused by the blood's impurity.

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send twenty-one one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or thirty-one stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A huge tarpon leaped from the water in Timballer bay, Louisiana, beside the canoe in which Albert Leifert was slowly drifting, and so violently whacked him in the breast with its tail that he was knocked senseless, and reeled overboard. He was rescued by some friends, but was so injured he was forced to take to his bed.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is Pleasant to Take.

The finest quality of granulated loaf sugar is used in the manufacture of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and the roots used in its preparation give it a flavor similar to maple syrup, making it quite pleasant to take. Mr. W. L. Rokerick, of Poolesville, Md., in speaking of this remedy, says: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with my children for several years and can truthfully say it is the best preparation of the kind I know of. The children like to take it and it has no injurious after effect. For sale by Lee Beall.

Nothing has ever equalled it. Nothing can ever surpass it.
