

Thanksgiving Season at Adel.

The morning of Thanksgiving Day was ushered in by a clear sky and bright sunshine which continued almost the entire day.

For this the people were truly thankful after the stormy weather of the two weeks preceding. Appreciating the change in the weather and the bountiful crops of the past summer, the citizens determined to celebrate in an appropriate manner. Some hunted, some rested, some cared for those who were sick and distressed, and all feasted. The largest feast spread was probably the one at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dent. Here were gathered friends and neighbors to the number of nearly thirty, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Lemburger and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wible and family, Mr. and Mrs. Staunbaugh and family, Mrs. Sites and son Ben, of Bidwell, Mr. Jake Phillips of Bidwell, "Uncle Billy" Roash, John Roash, Pard Brown, James Wakefield and "Pedagogue" Hampton.

At 2:30 p. m. dinner was announced, when all formality was dispensed with and a general social visiting and feasting was the order of business.

One secret was discovered during the progress of the feast and that was made by Mr. Lemburger, who solved the question of the capacity of "ye pedagogue" by noticing that instead of the regulation "dinner suit," "ye pedagogue" was a practical republican, and was dressed in a neat white sweater, ready to practice the doctrine of "expansion."

The sweater was no longer a secret.

Toward the close of the day, the gathering dispersed, voting that Mr. and Mrs. Dent were fully qualified to perform the duties of host and hostess to so great a company.

On Friday night a Grand Ball was given at the hall in Adel. The attendance was quite general from both north and South Warner. Fifty tickets were sold. The music was furnished by the Houston-Frakes orchestra.

Dancing began about 7:30 p. m. and continued until day began breaking in the east.

The ball supper was simply immense and all fared sumptuously.

On Saturday the Local Institute was well attended. Six teachers were present and also a number of citizens and Eighth Grade pupils. The teachers to whom duties had been assigned, performed their duties well, and all were pleased with the work of the institute. At the close of the exercises, on motion of Mr. Hampton, a vote of thanks was tendered Supt. Willits for his assistance in the work of the institute.

Different Here.

In a leading editorial the day after Thanksgiving the Oregonian says:

"Perhaps the impulse of thankfulness most prevalent among the people of Oregon yesterday was in connection with the Lewis and Clark Centennial and the extremely encouraging showing that is being made for it in Congress, where Senator Mitchell's bill carrying $2,125,000 is already pending."

While the people of Lake county have a great many things to be thankful for, probably a very few of our residents gave one thought toward that great enterprise that should interest every citizen of Oregon. There are reasons for this which are well known to everyone in Oregon. When the big fair comes off, probably very little more will be thought of it as now, unless something happens toward building a railroad to Lake county. This subject has been talked on so much that it is getting to be a bugbear.
