Lakeview High School

Wate Woodcock, Editor

Miss Blough was sick the first of the week and her room was put in charge of Nellie Barry.

Miss Hall's room received the banner for attendance and least number of tardy marks.

The eighth grade have finished their course in Mental Arithmetic and are reviewing.

Grace Striplin, Maud Ross and Ot-tie Fields are absent from school this week.

At a call meeting Monday evening, of our literary society, we adopted "Ageloplan" for our society's name and "Labor Omnia Vicit" for our motto.

Mabel and Bertha Nickerson gave a private dance at their home Friday evening.

The committees of correspondence have changed papers for the month of December.

Miss Ella Jones gave a farewell party Monday evening to a few of her friends. She left this morning with her mother for Berkeley where she will attend school.

Wednesday evening, December 23d, the Reliance and Ageloplan societies will give a cantata and a short program. Everyone invited.

The pupils in the professor's room are now trying students' control and have pledged themselves to assist in improving the conduct of our room.

The High School Football Eleven will, some time in the near future, play "Soapy" Smith's baseball nine, who are practicing the art of foot ball under "Soapy's" instruction. Chester Easter of New Pine Creek has been showing the school boys a few things about the game, which he understands thoroughly and we feel confident.

An invitation extended to the neighboring High Schools at Alturas, Cedarville and Klamath Falls, to meet the pupils of the Lakeview School in a declaratory and oratorical contest to be held at this place some time in the Spring, has been courteously refused by the Alturas and Cedarville principals, on the grounds that they had not been in the High School work long enough. We are young in the work but are ready to enter into competition with all comers in our classes.
