F. O. Ahlstrom Tuesday moved from the Scott residence to the Alex Fitzpatrick place. L. D. Robinson will occupy the Scott place.

F. O. Bunting has been appointed a delegate to the National Live Stock meeting at Portland. Frank will leave next week to mingle with the 1500 delegates from all over the U. S.

There were quite a number of local or home Christmas trees, which is the custom of many families in Lakeview. T. E. Bernard made a good Santa at a home tree at W. A. Masingill's residence.

The Oregon Daily Journal and the Lake County Examiner both one year for $6. The Weekly Journal and Examiner one year for $2.75. The Semi-Weekly Journal and Examiner one year for $3.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray of San Francisco arrived in Lakeview Tuesday, coming via Warner and Surprise valleys. Mrs. Gray was formerly Miss Lelia Boyd of this place, and married in Oakland last summer. They went to Bly yesterday, and will return to Lakeview before returning home.

The Crane Creek hunt club were out en masse last Saturday, and the thrilling sport of running down coyotes was the order of the day. The course lay along the east side of the lake, and every time a coyote was jumped up it was all day with him. Three of these sheep killers were sighted and captured after an exciting chase.

Mrs. H. S. Adelstein arrived on the Western Stage Monday from San Francisco. Mr. M. Vanderbeule, a brother-in-law, accompanied her. Mrs. Adelstein came up to see her husband, who has been dangerously sick, but is now improving and there is every prospect that he will get well in a short time.

Geo. Jannerthal returned last week from a visit to San Francisco and other towns, and reports having had a good time. On his way back he stopped at the bustling town of Reno, and thought so favorably of the future of that city, that he purchased some real estate there. Every one that comes through Reno says it has a great future.

Capt. Johnson the metallurgist of Visalia, Cal., after visiting the Sagehen mines last week, returned to his home, where he will make a thorough test of the rock from there, which will settle for all time any doubt as to the existence of gold or silver in that vicinity. He also took a number of rock samples from the Paisley mines. The result of both will be awaited with interest.

At the request of the Oregon Senators, President Roosevelt will take up and personally review the case of Asa B. Thompson and J. H. Booth, respectively of the La Grande and Roseburg Land Offices. The Senators insist on the reinstatement of the former and the reappointment of the latter. The matter is temporarily out of the hands of Secretary Hitchcock.

The parade on Christmas day by the band was unique, and brought out the whole town. The boys were dressed in masquerade costumes, and before playing scattered all over town, making all sorts of noises and antics. "Happy Hooligan" was there, as well as "Gloomy Gus" and the "Katzinjammerkids." "My Dear Gaston and Alphonse" were much in evidence, and "Leon" did his share of the funmaking. "Uncle Hiney" and the "Culled Lady" looked well. Many other characters were represented. The boys played better than they looked, but they "looked good" to the children.

POLLARD--DOWN.

Mr. Homer Pollard and Miss Anna Down were married Sunday at the Down ranch three miles south of Lakeview in the presence of a few relatives, Rev. J. B. Stark officiating. The ceremony was performed at 2 o'clock, and immediately afterward they all sat down to a wedding dinner.

Miss Down is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Down, who are old and respected residents of this valley. The bride is very pretty and is greatly admired by all who know her.

Mr. Pollard has not long been a resident of the county, having come here last spring with Moore's Comedians.

The couple will likely take up their residence near San Jose, Cal., the old home of Mr. Pollard.

The Examiner joins in the throng of congratulations.

Petition for a Guardian.

A petition was filed with the County Clerk Monday, signed by Daniel and H. L. Chandler and Mrs. Mary Kimsey, praying that S. B. Chandler be appointed as guardian of the person and estate of their father, B. S. Chandler. They allege in the petition that he is mentally incompetent to have care of his estate, which consists of real and personal property to the value of $1500.

A citation has been issued setting Saturday, Jan 9th at 10 o'clock at the court room as the time and place for hearing the petition.

Governor Chamberlain has announced his appointment of the board of regents of the State Agricultural College to serve for a term of nine years. The board is now composed of the following: J. D. Olwell, of Central Point, Wm. Church, of La Grande, and W. W. Cotton, of Portland. The only change made in the board is the appointment of W. W. Cotton, who succeeds Benton Killen, of Portland. Messrs. Olwell and French succeed themselves.

The Crook county Journal, the county official paper published at Prineville, entered upon volume VIII with its last issue. The Journal is one of the best interior publications in Oregon, and is improving every year. Crook county, like Lake, is almost exclusively a stock country and the Journal is the champion of the stock industry of that county. The Examiner wishes the Journal continued prosperity and a long life.

Henry Newell and daughter Ethel, came in from Drews Valley Tuesday. Mr. Newell came after a cream separator, and will hereafter make creamery butter. Quite a number of the farmers and ranchers near Lakeview are now equipped with hand separators and are now receiving better prices for their butter. In a few years, everyone that has only one cow will have a hand separator. It is claimed by those who have them that 25 per cent increase is gained in the amount of butter, besides being of a much better quality.

Judge H. L. Benson, who has been holding court in Benton and Lincoln counties for the past six weeks, returned home Saturday evening, says the Republican. Judge Benson's ability is recognized by the profession and he is one of the most popular judges in the state. Every decision of Judge Benson during the past two years which has gone before the supreme court has been sustained by that court, which is a record held by very few circuit judges throughout the state. Judge Benson will without doubt be returned at the next election as he has the support of every prominent republican in the district.

New Pine Creek Local News Notes.

New Pine Creek, Or., Dec. 26, 1903. E. H. Keller, Wm. Lemon and John Reid have gone to Alturas on land business.

The New Pine Creek schools have closed for the holidays and Miss Lola Pleasants, the teacher of the Mt. View School has gone to Alturas to spend vacation with her mother.

Mrs. Haze Mulkey of Cedarville passed through New Pine Creek last week on her way to Lakeview to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John George. Mr. Mulkey is principal of the Cedarville schools.

A number of the young people of this community have gone to Davis Creek to attend the masquerade ball.

Oliver Charlton and family are again at their home in New Pine Creek. Mr. Charlton is some improved in health.

It seemed for some time that Xmas at New Pine Creek was going to be a very quiet affair, until some very energetic people took in the situation, and took affairs into their own hands, and for a week our otherwise quiet little town was the scene of much bustle and excitement.

At first a social was given in order to obtain money for decorations, etc. This being gotten up very quickly was not generally known, but notwithstanding that a great many were present.

The amusements of the evening consisted of selling the shadows of the young ladies present to the highest bidder who had the pleasure of dining with her afterwards.

The sale was very amusing as well as exciting as two widows were present and there was no way of distinguishing them from the girls. One young man thinking he was buying his sweetheart, purchased one of the widows and was afterwards heard offering her for sale considerably below par. As widows are not below par with everyone he soon succeeded but, lo and behold! when he came to dine he found that she and his last partner had brought their luncheon together.

The other widow seemed to have better success for when she was seen standing with one arm akimbo a certain young farmer immediately offered such an extraordinary price for her that no one else could reach it.

A short entertainment was given previous to the Xmas tree which did credit to the ones who furnished it.

The gifts were so bountiful that the tree wouldn't hold them all, so a great number were piled upon the floor back of it.
