

Mystery of Silver Bullet Mines Solved.

The tradition that has pervaded all of Eastern Oregon and Northern California for years about the famous gold mines, "Lost Cabin" and "Blue Racket," which have caused endless search; been found a hundred times, but have never yet been located since their discovery by the pioneers while crossing the plains, are yet to be found. They are still the hope of the prospector, but in many people's minds they are as mythical as has been the wonderful and fabulously rich silver mine, which was fortunately discovered in the nick of time by the first immigrants, who were being hotly pursued by the Indians, and were out of lead for bullets.

It is said that when they came upon this mine, the ore was sticking out of the ground, and the first thought that struck them was lead for bullets. It was much harder than lead, and was very white and they pronounced it silver. It made good bullets, with which they repulsed many attacks of the Indians, but were finally driven away from the rich ore deposits.

To this day the location of this mine has been as much a mystery as the "Lost Cabin" or the "Blue Bucket," but now it is claimed that the lost mine is none other than the yet unnamed white metal mines discovered in Surprise Valley several years ago. This metal is white and many people took it for silver, but assayers have not yet found a name for it.

Now, the fact that the mystery of the "Silver Bullet" mines has been solved, the minds of those persons who have taken it upon themselves to discover all of these lost mines, may rest easy on this one at least, and can burden themselves with only the two, the "Blue Bucket" and "Lost Cabin."

RECTOR OF ST. LUKE'S.
Ashburnham, Ontario. Testifies to the Good Qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

ASHBURNHAM, Ont., April 18, 1903.—I think it is only right that I should tell you what a wonderful effect Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has produced. The day before Easter I was so distressed with a cold and cough that I did not think to be able to take any duties the next day, as my voice was almost choked by the cough. The same day I received an order from you for a bottle of your cough remedy. I at once procured a sample bottle and took about three doses of the medicine. To my great relief the cough and cold disappeared and I was able to preach three times on Easter Day. I know that this rapid and effective cure was due to your Cough Remedy. I make this testimonial without solicitation, being thankful to have found such a Godsend remedy.

Respectfully yours,
E. A. Langille, M. A.,
Rector of St. Luke's Church,

Not Lake County Hens.

Here is a hen story that is worth reading. Recently a carload of hens was shipped from Eldorado, Kan., to San Francisco. There were five thousand hens in the lot. They laid four thousand five hundred eggs a day. For the entire trip the total number of eggs laid was two thousand and six hundred and twenty dozen. The eggs sold at twenty cents per dozen, bringing $525. The freight on the car was $450. It will thus be seen that the hens more than paid their way.—Ex.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & Co. Toledo O. Just a Dog.

The dog poisoner has played and havoc among the canines of Lakeview many times, and he is not particular as to sex, color or breed. It makes no difference whether he is a poodle dog, bird, common mongrel or a mother with a litter of pups, they must die just the same.

Last summer dozens of dogs bit the dust, and among them were some valuable ones. "Andy," a scotch setter, belonging to Fred Ahlstrom, a dog that always attended to his own business, was with his master most of the time, and was never known to do anybody any harm, was poisoned in his own yard. The master was lost for a time, but after a month had passed by there came to the express office a fine Gordon setter waybilled to S. F. Ahlstrom, from Los Angeles. On the crate containing the dog was a card bearing this: "My name is Jack. Treat me kindly and I'll do you the same."

Fred don't know who sent the dog, but thinks his brother had a hand in it. He thinks a world of the dog that came to take "Andy's" place.

Not more than 400 of the "Cedars of Lebanon" are standing today. They do not, though their age is measured by thousands, rival in dimensions the cedars of the western world, the largest, so slow is their growth, being but 12 feet in diameter. No tree gives so great an expanse of shade as the cedar, and it never dies, except from lightning stroke or the woodman's ax.

A Frightened Horse.

Rounding like mad down the street dumping the occupants, or a hundred other accidents, are every day occurrences. It behooves everybody to have a reliable Salve handy and there's none as good as Ducklens Arnica Salve. Burns, Cuts, Sores, Eczema and Piles disappear quickly under its soothing effect. 25c at Beall's Drug Store.

Dragging Pains

2925 Keeley St.,
CHICAGO, ILL., Oct., 2, 1902.
I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groins. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Maudie Bush

Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches, when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.
