

Additional Local

Rev. J. S. McCam, a pioneer preacher of Oregon, died at his home in Medford, on Wednesday, January 13th, aged 66 years, 6 months and 18 days. Three years ago Rev. McCam was in Lakeview for a time soliciting for an insurance company. He leaves a wife and five children.

The Board of Supervisors of Siskiyou County, Calif. opened bids for 5000 booklets descriptive of that county to be distributed at the St. Louis Fair and other places in the East at its meeting in Yreka last week. The booklet is to contain 100 pages, and is to contain many halftones illustrating the different sections of the county.

E. S. Arnold of San Francisco, a civil engineer of the U. P. Ry., was in Lakeview first of the week from Silver Lake, where he is proving up on a timber claim. It is understood that he will visit this country again this summer, and it will not be in his own interest, but that of a railroad. Railroad surveyors always look good.

The Klamath Express says: Volume 1, number 1, of the Klamath County High School Journal, dated January 1, was put in circulation last week. It is a four-page 11x14 paper, and contains numerous editorials, school notes, sufficient advertising matter to pay for production, and some poetry. In all it is a neat little sheet and commendable. The paper is to be issued quarterly, but owing to the lateness in getting out the first number the next one is to appear about the middle of February.

The county and city tax levy for this year is not very high compared to some counties. The county tax was 29 mills, and the city tax 3 mills. The city tax in Klamath Falls is 5 1/2 mills. The Jackson county, state, etc. tax is 26 mills, and in Ashland a special school tax of 11 mills and a city tax of 15 mills is included making 52 mills all told. The Medford city tax is 11 mills and special school tax 10 mills making a total of 47 mills. The special school tax in the Lakeview district of one mill may not be collected this year on account of its not having been filed with the county clerk soon enough.

The weather man has been pretty badly mixed up for the past week. Thawing weather both day and night, was the order for several days last week, and Saturday snow began to fall. All day Sunday a heavy wind prevailed and snow filled the air, and Monday was also snowy and blustering. That evening several inches of the white fell gently to mother earth. Tuesday night was the coldest of the winter, the mercury going down to 4° below zero. Yesterday it moderated and began snowing again. There is every indication that the snowfall in the mountains will be sufficient to keep the streams and springs running next summer.

A jolly crowd of drummers arrived yesterday afternoon by private conveyance via the West. Their arrival was anticipated, and large hand painted posters were hung up in Hotel Lakeview, announcing that they would show last night. There is always "something doing" when Einstein and Eubanks comes to Lakeview. The boys of the grip registered at the Lakeview in the following manner: "Castle Rock Extravaganza Co., J. Cal Eubanks, Capt. in Command; Horace C. Einstein, Army Surgeon; Sam Ryley, Chief scout; Chas. Cohn, The Army; E. Conner, Legal Advisor; Geo. Porter, (teamster) Chief of Transportation; "Shorty" (teamster) chambermaid." Their motto is, "We love our Captain."

Washoe County Abstract Company.

Articles of incorporation of the Washoe County Abstract Company were filed in the office of the county clerk today says the Reno Gazette of last Thursday.

This company will complete a set of abstracts of Washoe County and soon be prepared to furnish correct abstracts of titles.

The incorporators are James A. Boggs and E. R. Patch, of Reno, and H. W. Patton of Harriman, Nevada.

Mr. Boggs has had years of experience as a title attorney and will give his personal attention to the business of this company.

Mr. H. E. Robinson, an expert abstractor, will soon arrive and take charge of the abstract work.

All of the gentlemen above referred to, except Mr. Patton, are from Lakeview, and recently went to Reno to investigate the business outlook there. Mr. Robinson had just started on a set of abstract books when he left Lakeview last week. The Examiner wishes the gentlemen unbounded success in their venture.

Joint Installation.

The Woodmen of the World, and auxiliary, Women of Woodcraft, installed their officers jointly on Wednesday night of last week. The performance was witnessed by between 75 and 100 people. The Woodmen officers escorted by the uniformed drill team, carrying aluminum axes, and lead by Capt. E. N. Jaquish, presented a very imposing spectacle. The marching was very graceful and symmetrical. The ladies had no uniformed team, but their marching was equally as good if not better than their neighbors.

After the ceremonies the large gathering were invited to play stocks, and the yelling of the crazy game was kept up until a supper of fresh oysters was announced ready in the banquet room.

After supper dancing was indulged in until 2 or 3 o'clock.

S'prise Party.

The little school friends of John Lewis surprised him Tuesday night at his mother's home, on the event of his 14th birthday. Such youthful games were played as musical chairs, fruit basket, clap in and clap out, post office, etc. The self invited guests were:

Edna Penland, Geneva Wright, Josie Woodecock, Hattie Nysewaner, Essie Penland, Verna Henderson, Vinnie Henderson, Ruby Briles, Laura Wright, Mildred Rehart, Katie Rehart, Inez Watson, Susie Watson, Jack Woodecock, Jim Judge, Homer Idol, Eldon Currey, Earl Wilshire, Clay Penland, Andrew Bull, Lloyd Henderson, Lloyd Hasting, James Idol, Earl Pratt, Guy Nysewaner.

Did not Get Illingsworth.

[Alturas Plaindealer.]

Sheriff Street returned to Alturas Monday evening with Bessie Essex, the complaining witness in the trial now progressing in the Superior Court. The girl was found at Seattle, was only too glad to return and readily obeyed the summons. Mr. Street did not get Illingsworth, scarcely having time to get back with the witness in the Essex case. He says, however, that officers are positive of the identity of the man, and an arrest may be looked for at any time.

Roosevelt League Meets.

The newly organized Roosevelt League met again at the court house last Friday night, when arrangements were made to have a public meeting in two weeks, or on Friday night, Jan. 29th. Committees were appointed to prepare music and engage speakers for the occasion. National politics only will be discussed, and in a way that will interest every intelligent citizen. A welcome is extended to everybody who wishes to come. The League will meet every two weeks.

The Ten Commandments Revised.

The following Ten Commandments, revised and strictly up to date, are herewith submitted as being worthy of perusal by all good and loyal citizens:

I.

Thou shalt not go away from home to do thy trading, nor thy son nor thy daughter.

II.

Thou shalt do whatever leth in thy power to encourage and promote the welfare of thine own city and thine own people.

III.

Thou shalt spend thine earnings at home, that they may return from whence they come and give nourishment to such as may come after thee.

IV.

Thou shalt patronize thy home merchant and thy home printer, for yea, verily doth not thy home printer spread over the land tidings of thy goodness and greatness that thy people shall patronize thee?

V.

Thou shalt not ask the printer to take less than his price. Remember by asking to retreat from his price thou interest that he is a robber. If he hath not dignity thou wilt get done by him somehow.

VI.

Thou shalt not ask for credit, as goods cost money, and the merchant's brain is burdened with bills. His children clamor daily for bread, and his wife abideth at home for lack of such raiment as adorneth her sister. Blessed yea, thrice blessed, is the man who pays cash.

VII.

Thou shalt not suffer the voice of pride to overcome thee and if other towns entice thee, consent thou not, for thou mayest be deceived. Remember the fate of the calf that left its mother and followed a steer away from home and lost its supper.

VIII.

Thou shalt not ask for reduced prices for thine "influence," for guile is in thine heart and the merchant readeth it like an open book. He laugheth thee to scorn and shouteth to his clerks, "ha ha!"

IX.

Thou shalt not ask thy printer to take two dollars for a three dollar job because some other printer will do it for less money. The other printer may steal his stock and underpay his help. If thou trade with such as he, thou art an accessory to his crime.

X.

Thou shalt not bear false witness against the city wherein thou dwellest but speak well of it to all men that thy home city and its people may be proud of thee.
