LAKEVIEW, OREGON, MARCH 31, 1906.

WEIGH THE SITUATION.

The gentlemen who have been elected as delegates to the county convention to be held here next Saturday are doubtless aware of the great responsibility resting upon them. They have the future welfare of the county on their hands, and it behooves every one of them to carefully weigh the situation before casting their vote on that day.

They have the power to assist in maintaining the integrity of the government and general prosperity of the county established by the fearlessly honest administration of such eminent statesmen as Theodore Roosevelt, Senator John H. Mitchell and the many others of like ability at Washington.

Senator Mitchell's untiring zeal and absolute fealty to our state's best interests have made him the most influential and powerful champion of Oregon we have ever had at Washington, and it is of much importance that personal friendship and obligations be, if necessary, disregarded entirely, that tried and true friends of Senator Mitchell be nominated for the legislature at the state convention.

The delegates know that their votes next Saturday for state senator will be either for or against Mitchell's interests, and that this delegation is to have a hand in choosing delegates to the national convention which will nominate a successor to President Roosevelt. Simon DOES NOT favor Roosevelt and Mitchell DOES.

Be loyal then to Roosevelt, strenuous in your efforts to elect John H. Mitchell, be faithful to the best interests of the Republican party and thoroughly understand the issue at next Saturday's convention, and there will be no doubt about the ultimate result of your labors. We risk the assertion that every dele who has the welfare of the county in view, will not run the risk of turning down the present administration for any such selfish motive as local factional victory.

And now, gentlemen, we leave this matter for your best consideration, feeling assured that you will look beyond any local factional prejudice, and take the Republican view, that Senator Mitchell's election is what you most earnestly desire, and that the surest method of accomplishing this is to elect a state delegation unqualifiedly in favor of R. A. Emmitt for state senator, Mitchell's tried and true lieutenant.

The Multnomah County Republican convention met on Saturday, March 19th, and nominated the legislative ticket and county officers, delegates to the state convention and the second district congressional convention. Resolutions were adopted indorsing the administration of President Roosevelt and declaring for the re-election of Senator John H. Mitchell and the nomination of J. N. Williamson of the second district.

The congressional convention for the first district is called to meet in Salem on April 13th, at 11 a. m. The convention will consist of 177 delegates, the same number and apportioned the same as the state convention to be held in Portland the following day. Arrangements have been made with railroads for reduced rates on round trip tickets.

The Chewaucan Post in an editorial last week raised a question that will require investigation. The article complains of the apportionment of road funds. We promise to give our readers the facts of the case at an early date. We now have in progress an investigation of the law regarding the distribution of road funds, and shall publish the facts that can be substantiated by law as soon as they are gathered.

Johnnie Loggan reports that on his recent trip to the "desert" he learned there were in that section about 20,000 Lake County sheep which are subject to taxation in this county. He himself assessed 4000 head. The ground in that region was so muddy that travel was almost impossible, so Johnnie deputized a reliable person to make the assessments at a more propitious time. - Harney News.

A Bulgarian girl named Zorka Hieva, who fought and was wounded in the ranks of the Macedonian insurgents, has volunteered for service in Manchuria. She wears masculine attire, is an expert horsewoman and handles rifle and sword. The girl saw General Kaulbars, the Commander-in-chief, who promised to indorse her application. She wore a full campaign equipment.

Brother Thompson of the Alturas Plaindealer speaks of the beautiful snow. Alturas people may condone such a remark but we fear that if a Lakeview paper should mention the "beautiful snow" its editor's past life and noble deeds would be written and printed with turned rules.

A locomotive and six cars of an extra southbound freight train jumped the track near Ager on the afternoon of March 21st, and were piled up in a ditch. None of the crew were hurt.

Fakes on Deck Again.

Several exchanges that come to our desk contain an item of how their people had been fooled by certain agents, and warning their readers to avoid such fakers. Some of these swindlers only ask their victim to sign some kind of an agreement whether they want a book or not, and the result is the innocent signer discovers when too late that he has signed an obligation to pay, and generally finds it cheaper to pay the sum than fight it in the courts with the swindlers well out of the way and no available proof of their having been swindled.

The Plaindealer says one of these fakers has plied his profession in Alturas, and no doubt found some suckers. His method is to secure orders for a book giving the history of the United States Secret Service, domestic and foreign. The publication so he avers, can only be sold to persons who have been recommended by those in authority.

Better look out for this fellow: the United States Secret Service is not giving out many histories.
