The little town of Deschutes boasts of some rough characters and hard fighters, and it would seem good advice to people going there to reside to be of the select, physically, and buckle on a good supply of six-shooters and bowie knives. The Deschutes Echo warns the people in the following manner: "For some time our community has had the reputation of being a discordant one. We have had a fair number of law suits, fist fights, election contests and miscellaneous troubles. Men of deeply Christian character have come to our burg, and after being here for a while have developed into rough-and-tumble fighters to the astonishment of the unsaved. One gentleman who has at all times counseled peace has been thumped twice." The Echo also offers plans for civilizing that community, which we have not the space to republish.

Proper Treatment of Pneumonia.
Pneumonia is too dangerous a disease for anyone to attempt to doctor himself although he may have the proper remedies at hand. A physician should always be called. It should be borne in mind, however, that pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of the grip, and that by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, the threatened attack of pneumonia may be warded off. This remedy is also used by physicians with the best results. Dr. W. J. Smith of Sanders, Ala., who is also a druggist, says of it: "I have been selling Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and prescribing in my practice for the past six years. I use it in cases of pneumonia and have always gotten the best results." Sold by Lea Beall.

Which Elevator will You Take?

Saint Peter opened the Great Register at a page that was almost white.

"In business you were known for your honesty and progressiveness," he said.

"I hope so," modestly replied the shade at the portal.

"Your word was as good as your note," continued Saint Peter, "and though you were an aggressive business getter, you believed in letting the other fellow live."

"There was plenty of room for us all," said the shade.

"You were kind to your employees and you never refused to see solicitors."

The shade assented.
"You had all the domestic virtues and were a paragon morally."

The shade blushed with pleasure.
"You were a good son, a kind and loving father and an ideal husband and—"

"Really, you embarrass me," said the shade, gathering up his robe.
"Now where do I get my harp and crown and all that sort of thing?"

"Oh, you don't go in," replied Saint Peter, shutting the book with a slam.

"Not go in after all that—"

"Not by a darned sight! Why, I've waited thirty years to head you off. Gee! You're the man who type-wrote business correspondence on yellow paper with red ink. Take the express elevator down."—Printers Ink.

Lake Tahoe has reached the high water mark. The big dam which was built 35 years ago and holds back a body of water covering 1000 square miles, was in a dangerous condition for some time last week, owing to the downpour of rain and the melting snow. Millions of dollars worth of property are dependent upon the big dam. Several towns, among them Truckee, Wadsworth, Reno, Verdi and others are in danger of being washed away if the dam should go out. The Southern Pacific Railway Company has 35 miles of track along the Truckee river that would be washed out, with grades and bridges. The water came within eight inches of the top of the dam. Hundred of workmen were at work trying to prevent a break.

HEALTH

"I don't think we could keep hours without Theford's Black-Draught. We have used it in the family for over two years with the best of results. I have not had a doctor in the house for that length of time. It is a doctor in itself and always ready to make a person well and happy."—JAMES HALL, Jacksonville, Ill.

Because this great medicine relieves stomach pains, frees the constipated bowels and invigorates the torpid liver and weakens kidneys is necessary in the home where Theford's Black-Draught is kept. Families living in the country, miles from any physician, have been kept in health for years with this medicine as their only doctor. Theford's Black-Draught cures biliousness, dyspepsia, colds, chills and fever, bad blood, headaches, diarrhoea, constipation, colic and almost every other ailment because the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys so nearly control the health.

No Doctor
