If anybody thinks a newspaperman's work is easy let him start out with a pencil and pad to "rustle up news," and every man he meets ask him what he knows, take down your answer, "not a thing," go back to the office, take out your note book, and write up the news of the county from what you have in it.

Rev. J. B. Stark received a letter from Presiding Elder Summerville last week dated at Klamath Falls, in which the elder stated that it was impossible for him to come to Lakeview as the stage company absolutely refused to bring him further as they could not get him through on time and might kill him trying.

We received a contribution to the Examiner last week, the author of which failed to sign his name, only giving it as "Resident." It is against the rules of this office to publish articles unless the author gives us his or her name, in addition to the name signed to the article. The party contributing the above mentioned article will please comply.

All back subscriptions due The Examiner are now owing to me, as the subscription list was purchased with the paper, and all advertising contracts payable quarterly running in The Examiner dated back of March 10th 1904, are collectable by A. Y. Beach to the end of the quarter, which will be March 31st, 1904.

C. O. METZKER.

A small scantling passed through Portland last week enroute to St. Louis from Astoria, where it was sawed out. It will be placed on exhibition at the world's fair, and at the close of the fair will be sold to the highest bidder, as Oregon can furnish plenty more like it for the Lewis and Clarke fair. The timber measures 40 feet long by 48x48 inches square, and contains 7680 feet of lumber.

Good advertising is the magnet which pulls trade.

You may have just as good values as the other fellow, but if he tells the public about his ability to do better for them than any one else and you do not he will get the trade.

Tell people why it is to their advantage to trade with you. Tell them convincingly and keep telling them.
