ROOSEVELT AND WALL STREET.

And now to the few enemies in his own party that Roosevelt has made: All of them can be found in the narrow precincts of Wall street. The responsibility for the organization of the Northern Securities company rested solely upon the conflicting speculative interests which, by the creation of that company, sought a way out of a grave dilemma into which they had plunged themselves. They were wholly responsible for their tight box. The President was responsible for the Sherman statute—or at least for its enforcement. It is his sworn duty to enforce the constitution and the laws, the Sherman law included. No blame rests on him, therefore, even from the Wall street standpoint. Whatever dismay now come to those who were responsible for the Northern Securities merger, the blame for it rests upon no one but themselves. If they propose to make the fight against Roosevelt on this issue they will have to make it alone, and will do themselves more harm than will come to him or to the great national party that is about to honor him with the nomination at Chicago. The people love Roosevelt the more for the enemies he has made.—Ex.

Less than a month remains in which to register. Spring is here now and most every voter will soon be busy with his spring work and cannot find time to register. The matter of registering is given to slight importance. We all like to be recognized in the state and congressional conventions, and Lake county has had a taste of being of such minor importance in these conventions that we have not had a representative in the legislature from this county for several years. Lake county with but four state delegates must combine forces with other counties in order to be of any importance whatever, and no other county with recognizable political power will join us unless they are given all they ask. If every man eligible to vote would see to it that his vote was cast, Lake county would have at least one more delegate, placing it on an equal footing with Crook, and one more than Klamath. Everybody register, now, and swell the list of voters in the county.

According to an act of the special session of the legislature in 1903, assessors elected this June will serve four years. Better service is expected from four year terms. While every man elected for assessor, or any other office, is expected to serve the people and work to the best interests of the county, too often short term officials are influenced by personal interest in paving the way for victory at the next election. The official who does not make peace with the voter in his official capacity breeds animosity with a certain class of people, commonly termed tax dodgers, whose respect for honesty in the administration of county affairs is easily overcome by the fair promises often made for political purposes. Four year terms for assessors places them in a position where absolute independence renders them immune from personal interests. Every property owner in the county should bear his share of the burden of taxation.

The Portland Journal (Independent) has taken up the fight against Binger Hermann before his nomination to Congress, and conducted it along lines identical to those strenuously fought out during Hermann's last campaign a year ago, when Hermann defeated his opponent easily even in the face of charges preferred against him by opposing papers like the Journal. Herman is in the First District and the Journal is in the Second. It would seem, from the Journal's stand against the Republican nominee, that the First district should be guided by the advice of the Journal. In a great poster editorial the Journal assumes the responsibility of conducting the coming campaign for the First district. The second district has a fight of its own and it might be well for this independent (?) Journal to look after local affairs.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters; to my great joy, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents, guaranteed, at Beall's Drug Store.

A Great Sensation.

There was a big sensation at Leesville, Ind. when W. H. Brown of that place, who was expected to die, had his life saved by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption.
