

There seems to be something doing in the northern part of the county in the matter of petitions to the government to have schedules on mail routes changed. At the present time, as the mails from the east, south and west all come by the way of Lakeview, thence to Silver Lake over the route over which the controversy is pending, it would seem that the patrons of the Silver Lake post office and beneficiaries of the rural delivery service are the ones mostly affected by the change in the schedule as petitioned for, but later on if the Portland mail is to reach here over the Columbia Southern route, the Lakeview office would be materially affected by such a change unless a night drive could be had between this place and Paisley. There is one thing sure; the patrons of the Lakeview office will never permit their mail to come over a route where a 12-hour layover is necessary, and whether or not the change is made on the route from Paisley to Silver Lake, if our mail is ever to come over the Columbia Southern route, there will have to be a change made from one end of the line to the other so that the mail would be dispatched from the terminus of the railroad and never stop till it reaches here, and instead of a two or even a three times-a-week mail from Silver Lake north and a 6 times-a-week south to Lakeview, a daily mail route would have to be established between the Lakeview and the terminus of the railroad, or the people here would demand that their mail continue to come over the western daily route.

Consequently, in view of the prospects of an extension of the Columbia Southern railroad to Bend and an expedited mailservice from the north and the necessity of a general revision of the schedule from one end of the line to the other to insure its accomplishment, we believe that their petitions and scraps are wholly uncalled for at this time. However, the Examiner does not desire to put a damper on or thwart the ambition of our northern neighbors to have something doing in their midst.

The Deschutes Irrigation & Power Co., which has a contract for the reclamation of 140,000 acres of land under the Carey act on the Deschutes river have been issuing pamphlets for advertising purposes containing statements that are misleading, and have been called to time for it by the State Land board. The company has applied for 80,000 acres more land.

The Carey law, under which several thousand acres of semi-arid lands in Eastern Oregon have been segregated during the past two years, expires by its own limitation in August of this year, after which time no further segregations can be made under the terms of that act.

Roosevelt's candidacy forces the democrats in a hard boat; without a candidate or an issue.

W. Z. Moss returned from Summer Lake and Akali last Saturday. Mr. Moss says he would buy a large band of horses and ship them East if he could get them.

Additional Local

Will Jacobs of Lake City, Calif., was in Lakeview yesterday making final proof on some land.

A. P. Colman, a former barber of Lakeview, arrived here from Portland last Friday, and contemplates going into business here.

Geo. Hankins came down from Summer Lake the first of the week and has been crippled up with rheumatism for several days.

F. O. Bunting recently sold six head of full-blood Hereford 2-year-old bulls to Bloomingcamp Bros. for $75 per head. Frank says he has 25 more he will sell at that price.

"Gov." Geo. Wise has leased the restaurant near Post & King saloon, and has opened up a restaurant and bakery and will also conduct ice cream parlors as soon as ice cream weather comes.

Again this week we publish the republican platform adopted by the Oregon republicans in convention at Portland on April 14th, which has been approved by every good republican in the state.

The first emigrants of the season passed through town Tuesday. There was no noticeable evidence of their destination, but the water proof wagon covers indicated that they have come from webfoot.

Frank Riggs was over from the J J ranch in Warner Monday. Frank says there is more water in Warner than he ever saw before. He says the water is now backed clear to Blue Joint, 30 miles north of Plush.

The Examiner is in receipt of a card announcing the marriage of Mrs. Ellen Jones to Mr. Wm. James Taber in San Francisco, Calif., on April 26, 1904. Also notice that they would be in Lakeview about May 20th.

Miss Cora Donell departed for her home at Bonanza last Thursday morning. Miss Donell recently came to Lakeview from Paisley, where she has been stopping with the family of J. S. Kelsay for the past several months.

George Nickerson of Lakeview, Or., was a visitor at Sparks last Sunday. He was greatly impressed with the magnitude of the railroad works at this place and may decide to move his family here in the near future.—Harriman Herald.

A private letter from Max Whittlesey, formerly of the Lakeview land office, who is now at Kelso, Wash., reports a long wet winter at that place, and lots of water yet. Spring flowers in bloom and trees leafed out and all appearances of summer.

Felix Allen was in town Saturday shaking hands with friends, paying his last installment of taxes and attending to other business. Rumor has it that Felix is on his way to Lakeview to purchase the Herald plant and will move the same to Alturas and start a republican paper.—Cedarville Record.

Luther P. Flemming of New Pine Creek recently graduated at Cooper's Medical college, California, with high honors. Mr. Flemming was the only Oregon boy in the graduating class. His many friends in Lake county are glad to hear of his onward march to fame. He is an earnest worker and ought to succeed.

Will you investigate the 3% per cent guaranteed gold bond of the Mutual Life? If so, you will find they are the best form of insurance in the market. We guarantee compound interest annually on all the premiums you pay. No other company in the market does as well. There is nothing succeeds like success, and the success of this particular policy is phenomenal. All other forms written, but this one is a Jim Dandy. A. A. Fuller, local agent.

W. A. Massingill informed us that while he was in Portland recently he talked with Edwin Mays on the subject of the Portland Irrigation company's project on the Chewaucan. Mr. Mays told Mr. Massingill that it was his intention to be in Lake county in May, when work on the irrigation scheme would commence.
