No. 7244

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, OFFICE OF COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY.

WHEREAS:—by satisfactory evidence presented to the undersigned, it has been made to appear that "The First National Bank of Lakeview," located in the city of Lakeview, in the County of Lake, and State of Oregon, has complied with all the provisions of the Statutes of the United States, required to be complied with before an association shall be authorized to commence the business of Banking:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Thomas P. Kane, Deputy and Acting Comptroller of the Currency, do hereby certify that "The First National Bank of Lakeview," located in the City of Lakeview, in the County of Lake, and State of Oregon, is authorized to commence the business of Banking as provided in Section Fifty-one Hundred and Sixty-nine of the revised Statutes of the United States.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF witness my hand and Seal of office this Sixth day of May, 1904.

[SEAL.] T. P. KANE,
Deputy and Acting Comptroller of the Currency. m-19-j-19

Mrs. C. Henkle left for Echo, this state, last Sunday to visit her father who is seriously ill.

A BLAST OF FOUL AIR

The Central Oregonian, a paper published at Silver Lake whose name might suggest something, but whose origin, standing in the community, policy and general stability is of such insignificance that its wailings are scarcely heard outside of its own sanctum, handed a great bag of wind last week, "A Newspaper Without a Policy." The bile contained in this assuming headline would doubtless impress one at a glance at the paper that the article would disclose something in the nature of a self-confession. However, after reading a few lines it can be seen that one of its various editors who are scattered from Prineville to Lakeview, have attempted to inform its few readers that the oldest newspaper in Lake county had become so vile as not to kneel and kiss the feet of a corrupt politician who sought to regain his lost standing in the county by again being elected to high office. The article starts off with a sterotyped phrase, "The cowardly assault, that The Lakeview Examiner made upon Honorable E. M. Brattain's (note the title) public career in last week's issue shows without question that it is a shifty sheet, without policy or principle, and is out for revenue only." That the Examiner shifted is not for us to deny, as we wish to cast no slanderous reflections upon its former publisher. Mr. Beach is out of the business and we believe he should have a rest. But if the paper has shifted since our possession we do not know it. The Examiner's policy was plainly set out in our first issue of the paper, in which we stated that we would publish a republican paper, and stand for everything that was upright and honest.

The up-country sheet further says that our "article in refusing to support Mr. Brattain for an office did not come as a surprise to the majority of the republicans of Lake county." In this we concur. The public, not only the majority of the republican, but every man in Lake county, either republican or democrat, could plainly see from our statement in the first issue that the integrity of the administration would be safeguarded so far as the influence of The Examiner could protect it. This was our policy first, and is now, and shall be so as long as we continue in control of this paper. If this is no policy, then all right. The Silver Lake paper offers a policy for us, but as we are not in the grafting business we refuse to accept. It says that until recently The Examiner was looked upon as a staunch republican paper, and was always found working for the party, regardless of the factional fights that have so long been a feature of Lake county politics. Again we refrain from reflecting upon the Examiner's past career, as does this other paper who would have the people believe that this paper stood staunchly for anything bolstered up by one faction of the party that happened to be in power to fill the ticket, regardless of the qualifications necessary in a candidate to insure the integrity of the party. If such charges are true we do not relish their remembrance, and are pleased to say tha such course is no longer pursued, and glory in our refusal to support only such men as are worthy of the support of the best element of the party.

In conclusion we will say that all through the Central Oregonian's long gush of villification of the Examiner, we watched for a word for Mr. Brattain but failed to see it. Not one paragraph or line even was devoted to his praise or anything to appease the longings of a few who might hunger for a gleam of vindication of Mr. Brattain's "assailed record."

Voters should remember that in voting for circuit judge two candidates should be voted for. Hon. H. L. Benson and H. K. Hanna.
