Several patrons of the Lakeview post office received souvenirs of the Pokegama fire last week in the shape of letters and papers with covers burned off.

W. B. Barnes, the rustling cattle man of Klamath marsh will soon move his family out from Silver Lake to the marsh for the summer, so says the Silver Lake Oregonian.

The Klamath county assessor, Mr. Bennett, spent several days in Lakeview last week making a record of the assessable lands in Klamath county from the land office records.

The Silver Lake Oregonian says that Ben Jones of Prineville recently purchased the 10-mule freight team belonging to the J. C. Conn estate. The purchase was made for Will Wurzweller, a Prineville merchant, and the price paid was $1200.

We learn that owing to Mrs. Walter Dyer's poor health they will start East in a few weeks. Miss Carrie Tomningson brought a coyote puppy to town last week and presented it to Mrs. Dyer for a pet. She will take the young coyote East with her.

P. J. Riordan accompanied by surveyor Moore made a trip to Paisley and Abert Lake last week to look over some of the school land owned by Mr. Riordan's company. They returned Saturday, and this week are taking observations on the West Side.

From a special dispatch to the Oregonian from Washington it is learned that the Blue Mountain reserves, the Wallowa reserve, the La Grande reserve and the Chesnimus reserve will in a few days be submitted for final and definite recommendation by the Bureau of Forestry.

O. S. Warland, an old soldier who fought in the Union army, and who has lived near Paisley for about three years, died at that place last Friday. Mr. Warland had been ill all winter. He was an uncle of Mrs. J. C. Woodward of the Woodward Hot Springs.

The Chewaucan water suit came up for trial in the Circuit Court on Tuesday. There are a number of people involved in this case against George Conn and Margaret Conn, defendants. The Bagley Ditch Company and parties owning water rights on the south are the plaintiffs.

A private letter from Mrs. J. W. Waters of Portland stated that "Grandpap" Metzger was very sick and not expected to live. His son, J. T. Metzger, went to Medford to bring his father out, but it is feared he will not be able to make the trip even if he survives his present illness.

Ground was broken last week for the foundation of the new bank building on the corner where once stood the Hopkins hotel. A trench was dug for the foundation and this week M. A. Striplin has a crew of men at work laying the stone. A two-story brick building 42 x 60 will be erected.

The trial of Fred Collins, charged with horse stealing ended last Wednesday evening, but the verdict of the jury was not returned until after we had gone to press. The jury's verdict was guilty as charged, and Friday morning Judge Benson sentenced the prisoner to three years in the Penitentiary.

Subscribers to The Examiner who remove from one locality to another, or change their postoffice address should remember to drop this office a card so their paper can be addressed to the right postoffice.

Lakeview Will Celebrate the Fourth.

Lakeview will celebrate the Fourth of July this year in a manner that will surpass anything of the kind ever held in Lake county. Arrangements are being made for a grand time. D. J. Wilcox and Fred Ahlstrom are soliciting for funds and while the amount is not yet known, it is certain that a sufficient sum will be raised to insure a good time for everybody. Lakeview never does things by halves, and this year the management of the events will be in the hands of parties who will spare no pains to make the celebration one to be long remembered. A program will be arranged and published as soon as possible. Everybody will be invited from far and near and a good time will be assured them.

Five Days Racing at Lakeview.

One of the best programs for a race meet that was ever arranged here was gotten up by the Agricultural Association for the meet to be held on their track, beginning June 29th and ending July 31. The convenient feature of the program is that the races commence early enough to allow all the five days' races to be run before the Fourth so that the races will not interfere with other exercises on that day, and everybody can take in the entire celebration, closing the week of recreation on the night of the 4th and return to their homes. Most people want to go home immediately after the Fourth, and the crowd is generally small and the races dull when races are had after that day. People this year are given a chance to come here late in the last week in June, spend five days at rest and pleasure and wind up with a grand celebration of the Fourth of July.

The program is well arranged and bars no one from participating. All races are free for all and liberal purses are offered for the best horses.

The magnificent sum of $1500 has been raised for races, which shows the liberal spirit of the people of Lakeview.

One of the most interesting events will be the relay race. This race is a five mile race, and five horses can be used, each horse to run once around the track, when the rider, who must be a vaquero and use a vaquero saddle, shall dismount, remove his saddle and put it on another horse, remount and proceed. Each heat the rider must change his saddle but may have a tender or helper, who is only allowed to deliver the relay to the rider at the starting place and hold the animal while it is being saddled. None but cow horses will be allowed to enter the race.

This race will be run on Sunday, the 31st of July, the last event of the meet.
