SOME THINGS TO INTEREST
ALL OUR READERS

Mines in Port Arthur and Colorado are not good investments.

It makes some people as tired to go on a picnic as to work at home.

When a woman is preserving fruit her chief exclamation is "Oh, sugar!"

Born—In Alturas Calif., June 25, 1904, to the wife of J. Todd Bonner, a daughter.

For sickheadache take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and a quick cure is certain. For sale by Lee Beall.

The usual output of Summer fiction will be issued by the press of the Far East.

There were 33 successful applicants received diplomas at the Modoc County Board of Education last week.

The most complete job stock off of the railroad is to be found at The Examiner office. First-class work always, at reasonable prices. If.

Bank clerks in the East are ordered to take a vacation so that their books may be examined during their absence. There is no rose without a thorn.

Mr. Stewart, the San Francisco horse buyer, was in this section last week looking for horses, but did not succeed in picking up any.—New Era.

Carpenters of Alturas have established a scale of wages and hours of labor, which they publish in the Alturas papers. Nine hour days and wages ranging from $3 to $4.50 per day.

A college professor in the East asserts that all men are not born equal. His opinion, while not original, will find an echo in the hearts of thousands, the Declaration of Independence to the contrary notwithstanding.

Willard Duncan, the rustling manager of the XL ranches, was here from the upper ranch last week. Willard informed us that everything looked well for a large hay crop this year, and said feed on the ranges was good, and looks for beef cattle to come in in prime condition this season.—New Era.

The Pendleton Tribune says that the last of the Umatilla county wool clip has been sold at an average price of 14½ cents per pound, some reaching 15½ cents. The last sale was made 197,867 pounds went into the hands of Boston buyers under the sealed bid system, which is giving satisfaction among woolgrowers of that county.

Operator Fike left last week for a trip over the telegraph line, and will go as far north as Lakeview, then come through Surprise valley, and will see that the line is put in good condition the entire route before his return. Frank Flournoy, the operator at Likely, came down and has filled Mr. Fike's place during his absence.—New Era.

A letter from L. B. Lafollett of Prineville was received yesterday inquiring about the sheep outlook in this county. Mr. Lafollett states that he will be here in about a month and look at the prospects for selling a few of his thoroughbred bucks this fall. He says that he sold his wool recently for 15½ cents. Also that yearling wethers are selling for $1.50.

The Examiner has for sale one of the best stock ranches in Lake county on very reasonable terms—600 acres, all fenced, and well watered. This is a great bargain and will not remain long unsold. We also have a dozen other ranches and farms to dispose of. If you have any land or property to sell, list it with the Examiner. Send in description and we will sell it for you.

Wisely Cautious.
"Johnny," said the young man to the small boy, "has your sister read the novel, 'Sweet Pauline?'"
"Ah! I've seen it in the house," answered the boy.
"Good," muttered the young man with a sigh of relief. "I'd hate to see the love speeches in that and have them recognized."—Chicago Post.

Not Aspirin.
Haskins—I wonder your friend Sil never went to the legislature. I consider him eminently qualified for public service.
Belmont—Oh, there's no doubt about his fitness. That's the very reason, you see, why he never had any desire that way.—Boston Transcript.

Hardly Likely.
Mr. Monkey (as little Willie Monkey's bedtime approached)—Well, I wish I was a porcupine.
Mrs. Monkey—You brute! Why?
Mr. Monkey—A little porcupine doesn't nag his papa to carry him to bed on his back.—Judge.

Those Preliminary Skirmishes.
Mrs. Gadly—Why, it's been only a week since the wedding, and they're acting just like old married people.
Mrs. Glibly—Yes; they quarreled so much before their marriage that I wasn't any change to them at all.—Baltimore American.

A Mild Surprise.
"That new comet discovered by the observers of Marselles has two tails."
"Saw it in the evening, didn't he?"
"Of course."
"Maybe it had on its dress coat."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Percy—Aw—er—Miss Cutter, there is something I've been trying for three hours to say to you. Caw'n't you—aw—er—guess what it is?
Miss Cutter—Oh! Do you mean "good night?" Strange! I've been thinking of that too!

Oldest Pear Tree.
What is said to be the largest and oldest pear tree in America is in Michigan, near Lake Erie. It is supposed to have been planted by the French when they first settled in that country. Five feet above the ground this tree measures thirteen feet in circumference and is sixty-five feet high. It is said also to be a prolific bearer that rarely fails of a full crop. No special effort has been made to prolong the life of the tree, but it has grown naturally as the forest trees of similar age.

Dragging Pains

2825 Keeley St.,
CHICAGO, ILL., Oct., 2, 1902.
I suffered with falling and congestion of the womb, with severe pains through the groins. I suffered terribly at the time of menstruation, had blinding headaches and rushing of blood to the brain. What to try I knew not, for it seemed that I had tried all and failed, but I had never tried Wine of Cardui, that blessed remedy for sick women. I found it pleasant to take and soon knew that I had the right medicine. New blood seemed to course through my veins and after using eleven bottles I was a well woman.

Maudie Bush
Mrs. Bush is now in perfect health because she took Wine of Cardui for menstrual disorders, bearing down pains and blinding headaches when all other remedies failed to bring her relief. Any sufferer may secure health by taking Wine of Cardui in her home. The first bottle convinces the patient she is on the road to health.

COMPOUND INTEREST

The trouble with most advertisers is that they expect immediate returns of large proportions. One prominent advertiser illustrates the principle of advertising in this way:

"The money expended for advertising is the same as if placed at interest. The profits from the advertising are virtually the interest on the investment."

"The sum spent for advertising are properly chargeable to capital account because the resulting good will is something that has value, which, if the advertising has been properly done, can usually be sold for the face value of the investment."

"The rate of interest is determined by the skill with which the investment is made."

"Just as the quickest way to increase invested wealth is by compounding the interest, just so the quickest way to realize results from advertising is to compound the returns."—Advertising Experience.
