A Famous Seed House.

An instance of commercial development and growth to proportions unusual is cited in the career of the well-known seed firm, D. M. Ferry & Co., of Detroit, Mich. Since its establishment half a century ago, the company, following out principles of strict business integrity and building upon unquestionable merit, has steadily grown until the name of Ferry's Seeds is now a household word with every planter in the land.

Ferry's Seeds are famous for their purity, freshness and reliability. The greatest of care is exercised in their growing and selection, and only seeds of the highest possible standard are placed upon the market. Every package has behind it the reputation of a house whose standards are the highest in the trade. A fresh stock, just received from the growers, is carried by all dealers everywhere.

All farmers and gardeners ought to have a copy of the 1905 Seed Annual of the Ferry Company. It contains information and suggestions that are invaluable. The Annual will be mailed free to anyone addressing D. M. Ferry & Co., Detroit, Mich.

Of Interest to Schools.

Extract from a letter written by State Sup't Ackerman to Co. Sup't J. Q. Whitits in answer to an inquiry as to who should pay tuition in the public schools.

"I agree with you that the provision concerning the payment of tuition fee applies to those pupils who go to another district than that where they were enumerated for the sole purpose of attending school."

Wm. Blorton was here last Friday from New Pine Creek.

Smoke the Eagle cigar. They are the best. Sold at the factory.

Mr. McBride the sheep buyer, expects to go to California soon.

Nathan Smith was down from the 70 ranch in Chewaucan Tuesday.

Supper on the night of the big mask ball will be given at Hotel Lakeview.

L. A. Carricker the West Side farmer was doing business in town Saturday.

Jim Reeder came in from Klamath county last week and went to Pine Creek Saturday.

Freighters say this is the best fall they ever saw. Plenty of freight and good weather and roads.

Don't miss the big mask ball to be given by Prof. Graham on the night of Dec. 26th—Monday night.

W. W. Arthur and little son were in town Saturday from the XL ranch where Will is employed.

W. J. McKee and family were up from the valley Saturday laying in their supply of Christmas presents.

Take a look at yourself. One of those good photographs that Miss Schlager makes is better than a mirror.

Do not believe, even your friend, when he or she says they are not going to the Mask Ball, everybody that likes to dance, and some that can't are going.

See those beautiful Christmas boxes of cigars at the cigar factory.

Attend the auction sale Saturday at 2 o'clock at J. W. Howard's store.

A regular Christmas supper at the hotel on the night of Dec. 26th. Big ball supper.

H. R. Dunlap started his band of cattle to Warner last Saturday, where they will be fed this winter.

It seemed natural to see Fred Ahlstrom out on the street shoveling snow off the porch of his harness shop Monday.

G. Schlager started for Ohio Wednesday to see his wife. Mrs. Schlager has been away several months and Gus got lonesome.

The Delneator for December has arrived. The Butterick Publishing Co. are getting out a magazine that is pleasing to the ladies.

Horses to hay 25 cents, grain 25 cents per head, also meals 25 cents at the South Livery Stable.

Brooks & McDANIEL, Proprietors.

R. A. Hawkins and family were down from the Mill Saturday returning home Sunday. Rees says he has shut down the mill for the winter.

Geo. Jammerthal started for San Francisco Monday for a few weeks vacation. He will also attend to some business matters while in the city.

Fent Smith and a Mr. Layton of Eagleville came up from there, arriving here Monday. They came here to look after some cattle belonging to Fent.

A. L. Goodman, who has been driving the Hawkins lumber team the past summer, has gone to the Venator ranch, where he will feed cattle this winter.

Ernie Mathes the vaquero, was down from Paisley several days last week. He returned Sunday to the Geo. Jones ranch near Paisley, where he will work this winter.

Geo. Hankins came down from Summer Lake last week after a load of provisions for the sheep camps. George was so pleased with the storm that he remained several days.

Ed. J. Catlow, who was here first of the week from Denio, reports things in good shape in his section of country. He says there has been numerous cattle sales out there recently.

Pat Murphy, who has been working for W. J. Sherlock at Summer Lake for quite a while, has leased Mr. Sherlock's sheep. Pat was in Lakeview a couple of days the past week, returning Sunday.

J. L. Morris was in town from the West Side last Friday. Mr. Morris is engaged in building a new house for Mrs. Morris, widow of the late George Morris. Her house was burned down some time ago.

A free scholarship in the Electric Business College of Albany, Oregon, will be given to a number of young men and young ladies. All applications for free scholarship must be in by December 20th. 49-15

Sheepmen are highly pleased with the storm. This will furnish water for the sheep on the desert. Up to Monday considerable uneasiness prevailed among sheepmen for fear they would be compelled to move their flocks back from the desert on account of the scarcity of water.

Robt. Nelson, the West Side fruit grower, has demonstrated that prunes can be successfully grown in Lake county. This season he raised a lot of them, dried them and placed them on the market at Bailey & Massingill's store. One would not know but what they were the Willamette valley prunes. They are of fine flavor.

WEEKLY WEATHER REPORT.

Below we give a report of the weather as recorded by the Government weather bureau station at The Examiner Office. This report is changed each week, and our readers wish to keep a yearly record of weather conditions for future reference, cut out the report along the black line and paste it in a scrap book one week after another. This record will be taken on Tuesday to end each week and begin on Wednesday for the next week. Government Weather Bureau Station at Lakeview, Oregon.

ROOM FOR 25,000 PEOPLE.

The Examiner has directed letters to Thos. Richardson of the Oregon Development League at Portland and officers of other similar leagues of the state working in conjunction with the State League for papers and their views and opinions of such an organization as a promoter of good. Lake county needs a development league or commercial club or some such organization, and The Examiner expressed its desire a number of times to have such a league organized. Last summer when the Oregon Development League was organized and offered strong inducements for auxiliary leagues, we urged our people to get together and organize. Other counties did it and have profited by their action, and with the natural advantages Lake has, there is no reason why we should not reap our share of the benefit to be derived from a concerted system of advertising. Lake county can take care of at least 25,000 people, we have the land for homes, the water to make them productive, the climate to make their occupants happy, and with a little energy exerted to secure tillers of our rich soil and the assistance of the government's fat pocket book to wet the soil, we can, in a very few years, be the richest agricultural county in the state.

Now that the government has shown its willingness to expend some of the $25,000,000 accumulated for reclamation purposes, of which Lake county is entitled to a good sized slice, in making this county bloom, why should we not prepare to interest its agents when they come here in the spring to look over our lands? The government is not hunting irrigation projects; it is simply answering the calls of the people for aid in this direction. The government will not force any irrigation works upon a community, but it is willing and ready with the money to assist any locality that can offer a suitable field for operation.

Such a plan as the government is offering is sure to meet with reverses. The way for Lake to guard against such reverses is to organize a club and settle all difficulties prior to its coming and pave the way for smooth sailing. Our people should talk these matters over and find out where difficulties are liable to arise and see to it that these are all settled.
