LAKEVIEW, OREGON, FEB. 23, 1905.

Promotion League.

A movement has begun, which gives every reason to believe that a consumation for which The Examiner has most ardently wished and earnestly worked, is now to be accomplished; Lake County is to have a Development League.

Business men of the town have all signed a request to people throughout the county, to be present at a meeting to be held in Lakeview at an early date, for the purpose of organizing the League, and instituting plans of work for the development of Lake county. The men who have signed this paper are not men who are much addicted to child's-play, and The Examiner now feels that its efforts to show the necessity of such an organization has found fruit.

We print in another column the call which Lakeview business men, almost to a man, have signed, and declare our belief that the date of that meeting will be the beginning of a new era in Lake county business life.

On the 17th, the legislature adjourned without day. This body has done quite well. Appropriations by it seem large, but we have not seen one dollar granted for a purpose that appeared unworthy. As to what should be the size of any particular grant of money, only those who had opportunity to find what the real necessities are, can judge. Of the total appropriations of two millions, five hundred thousand, or one fourth the whole, was for the Insane Asylum. Of this the state at large must approve. This institution should be the best, in every way that money can make it. Many good laws were enacted, and as few bad ones, perhaps, as any previous legislature has let us off with.

John W. Gates is trying to corner the Chicago wheat market and has the bears very much frightened. It is believed wheat may reach two dollars per bushel before the end of May. The gambling spirit once aroused never dies but with the man. It seems to possess the man; and ever drives him onward, and downward. His own experiences and the downfall of others, all count for nothing.

Within a few months, visitors to the fair will be gathering in Portland. That citizens have been advised to carry a good revolver about them when on the streets, and to fortify themselves with shotguns in their homes, does not suggest such a condition of safety as would be deemed inviting to timid persons.

The President shows in a confidential letter addressed to the Senate that it is necessary for the United States to assume the responsibility of collection of Santo Domingo customs, and the payment of claims of European governments against that republic, or the Monroe doctrine must be given up.

Mr. Bryan's suggestion that the President be empowered to submit all arbitrational matters to The Hague Court for investigation and report upon the facts, which report shall be referred to the Senate for its action, seems wise.

The entrance of the government into the Standard oil affairs will have a very powerful effect in aiding Kansas in her struggle against the injustice of that monopoly.

LEGISLATIVE NEWS.

Governor Chamberlain in declaring he will veto the million dollar appropriation bill, explains that the normal schools are only institutions supported by the state's charity and cannot be conducted on warrants drawn upon the State treasury as the necessary institutions may. The Senate thus seeing itself probably defeated finally agreed to strike out the emergency clause of the bill, so that the Governor sees a chance to get a referendum vote by the people on the appropriation for the normal schools, and agrees to approve the bill.

House bill by McLeod providing for uniform eighth-grade examinations for the public schools of the State, has passed the Senate.

County and city boards of health are created by S. B-40 which has passed both Houses.

The claim of John Mullan for legal services rendered the State of Oregon twenty years ago, and which has been before every legislative assembly since, has been granted by the committee on appropriations in the house for $3,105, as complete satisfaction of all his claims against the State.

Senator Fulton has succeeded in having amendments attached to the Indian appropriation bill by which $589,000 will be distributed to various Oregon Indian tribes; $537,000 coming to the Klamath Indians for lands released to the government from their reservation.

A bill creating a commission to prepare and report to the next legislature, a complete tax code for the State, has passed both houses at Salem.

The bill to make counties and municipalities liable for 50 per centum of the value of live stock killed, unlawfully, within their jurisdiction was defeated in the state Senate in the last hour.

The bill providing for the establishment of an oil refinery in Kansas has passed both Houses and will be approved by the Governor.

The bill for placing all the Normal schools under control of one board of regents has failed to pass.

Bill to prohibit sale of liquors to females under 21 years of age has passed both Houses.

Bills that have Passed both Houses at Salem.

To punish persons who live from the earnings of immoral women.

To create 8th judicial district consisting of Baker County.

To create 10th judicial district to consist of Union and Wallowa counties.

House bill 33-Steiner to appropriate money to be used by Governor in apprehending criminals.

To appropriate $500 for a government station at the State University for testing timber and stone.

To punish a husband who convives at prostitution of his wife.

Both Senate and House have passed the bill providing for whipping wife beaters in Oregon, twenty lashes being the maximum punishment.

A bill to place insane persons in charge of trained nurses from the asylum, before starting them to that institution.

News comes from Portland that prosecutor F. J. Heney, intends, when he reaches Washington, that the grand jury for the District of Columbia shall convene, for the purpose of investigation of acts of Mr. Hermann in burning papers in the land office at Washington.

The esteemed Oregon Journal says, in referring to the President. "But the Big Stick man isn't a quitter." This admirable characteristic is the chief reliance of the people, in their expectation that this administration will do things.
