

Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON D. C., June 10, 1895.
The President has finally announced that he will not call Congress in special session until after the November elections and he now expects to convene the extraordinary session on November 13. There are many of the leaders in the Republican party, however, who believe that this decision sounds the death knell of the special session and that eventually the President will be entirely dissuaded from the idea of calling any special session.

The argument which is expected to dissuade the President from calling any special session is this: by calling Congress together on November 13, there will be at most but three weeks gained before the date on which the national legislature would meet by law; Congress will never again consent, however, to remain in session right up to the hour when the regular session must commence, for the reason that when this was done a year ago the members lost the extra mileage which they regard as their special perquisite whenever they meet in special session. For that reason, it will be urged, Congress will certainly adjourn at least a week in advance of December 4, the date on which the regular session must begin, and so only two weeks would be gained. Then the President will be asked if in his judgment the two weeks gained will compensate for the $100,000 which Congress is certain take for itself for mileage and the old argument that no member of Congress wants a special session at all will be revamped and so the special session, of 1895 will, in the judgment of those best fitted to judge, have been added to the long list of things "gone glimmering."

Huge Task.

It was a huge task, to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease, as that of C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Ia., but Electric Bitters did it. He writes: "My kidneys were so far gone, I could not sit on a chair without a cushion; and suffered from dreadful backache, headache, and depression. In Electric Bitters, however, I found a cure, and by them was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great tonic medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach. Guaranteed by Lee Beall druggist; price 50c."

Saving Under New Law.

According to the report of Superintendent Calbreath of the state insane asylum, the cost of transportation of insane persons, to the asylum under the new law, is $35 per cent, less than the old plan. The law has been in effect since the 18th of May, when all the new laws passed at the last session of the state legislature went into effect. The superintendent's report shows that under the old system it cost $29 to take a patient from Portland to Salem, and from Clatsop county it cost $43.80, while under the new law only $14.75. From Baker county it has been reduced from $91 to $29. The greatest saving will be in the transportation of insane persons from Western Oregon counties, from which most of the patients go.

A Bad Scare.

Some day you will get a bad scare, when you feel a pain in your bowels, and fear appendicitis. Safety lies in Dr. King's New Life Pills, a sure cure, for all bowel and stomach diseases, such as headache, biliousness, constipation, etc. Guaranteed at Lee Beall's drug store, only 25c. Try them.

Nasal CATARRH

In all its stages.

Ely's Cream Balm

Cleanses, soothes and heals the diseased membrane. It cures catarrh and drives away a cold in the head quickly.

Cream Balm is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. It is immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large Size, 50 cents at Drug gists or by mail; Trial Size, 10 cents.

New Ruling.

Register and Receiver,
United States Land Office,
Lakeview, Ore.

Sirs:

You are informed that Departmental instructions issued to this office on May 4, 1895, in determining the maximum amount of lands which may be acquired by a single applicant under the limitation fixed by the Act of August 30, 1890 (26 Stat., 391), overruled W. R. Garrison's case (19 L. D., 289), and said: "Upon consideration of the whole subject, the history of the legislation, the evil sought to be remedied, and the remedy applied, and studying the matter in the light of well defined rules of construction, the Department is now of the opinion that the purpose of Congress in the cited legislation was to apply the rule of limitation to the lands disposed of under any of the land laws, other than those acquired under the mineral land laws; and in expressing the conclusion used the words "agricultural lands" only in contrast or distinction from mineral lands".

You are therefore instructed:

FIRST.—That all persons who hereafter seek title to any of the non-mineral public lands of the United States should be required to file said affidavit (Form 4-1026) with their respective applications to enter, purchase or locate, and no application for lands of that character should hereafter be either received or allowed, unless it is supported by such affidavit.

SECOND.—You should at once notify all applicants who now have applications of the character mentioned above pending before your respective offices that their applications will be rejected without further notice to them unless they within thirty days from their receipt of such notice, file said affidavit in support of their said applications; and, upon the failure of any applicant to comply with that notice, you should, after receipt of proper evidence that such notice was duly received by such applicant, at the proper time reject his application, and close the case without reporting the matter to this office."

THIRD.—This order is not intended to affect, or invalidate any entry, purchase or location heretofore made and allowed, and said affidavit will not, therefore, be required in support therof. Very respectfully,

W. A. RICHARDS,
Commissioner.
APPROVED: May 27, 1895. E. A. Hinchcock, Secretary.

Important to Attorneys

In Contest Cases.

...being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is contestant in the above entitled contest: That he has, with a view to obtaining personal service of the notice, made diligent search and inquiry for the defendant within the last fifteen days as follows:

You should exercise the utmost care not to order publication of notice on any affidavit which fails to contain averments of the character indicated, as you will be expected to personally defray the expense of re-publication of all notices where re-publication results from a lack of these averments.

Very Respectfully

W. A. RICHARDS,
E. A. Hinchcock Secretary.

PLAINT OF A GIRL GOLFER.

She Tells Her Troubles in a Letter to a London Weekly—Question as to the Writer.

Rather a remarkable letter, signed "An Athletic Girl," was recently received by a writer in the P. S. Weekly, who had something flattering to say of women who went in for sports. The only question is: Did a woman write the letter? Here it is: "I am an athletic girl; I hunt all the winter and golf all the summer. I am a jolly good sort, and all that—we are a way pals to every man, especially if he is very young and afraid of any more feminine women. But no one wants to marry us except some penniless subaltern or equally penniless curate.

"Last summer I was at a garden party w... many sportswomen." I am a man—a real man—say "They all look as if they had their best clothes on!" I was staggered but I looked—we did—and as if they were some one else's best clothes into the bargain. I looked at my image in the glass when I got home and wondered what man on earth would want to kiss my broad, hard hand, or whose heart could beat one stroke more at the sight of my clumsy figure.

"At this same party was a smooth, white, cool woman, whose voice was not a rusty hinge like ours, and whose movements were music, too—without rolling of hips and shoulders. Her clothes grew to her as naturally as her satin skin. The very sportsmen—hunting men and golfers—were spell-bound; they were traitors! As my sister said, we went home like two envious boys hulking along in petticoats.

"Even a hunting man—who my sister said would be satisfied as to beauty if one dressed a stableman in a habit and strapped in his waist, provided he rode well—even he takes us as rather inferior men, though 'splendid' across country.' Athletics and sports are all right for young girls, but a 25 years some of us wish we had never seen them.

"I have never envied golf players since I saw two well-known artists amazed at such shapes. Well, if I ever marry—well—I shall have to put up with a hunting man and no one ever influences me in these but his groom. I tell you am sick of athletics and coarse men and the 'feminism' of sports men."

Easily Done.

If You are not Particular don't travel over the Illinois Central, as any old road will do you and we don't want your patronage; but if you are particular and want the best and mean to have it, ask the ticket agent to route you via the ILLINOIS CENTRAL, the road that runs through solid vestibule trains between St. Paul, Omaha, Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis, and New Orleans.

No additional charge is made for a seat in our reclining chair cars which are fitted with lavatories and smoking rooms, and have a porter in attendance.

Rates via the ILLINOIS CENTRAL are the lowest and we will be glad to quote them in connection with any transcontinental line.
