Prof. J. Q. Willits returned from Klamath Falls last week, where he has been tending his brother's store during the latter's absence on a pleasure trip.

The Prineville Review is very bitter against District Attorney Hency because of his strenuous efforts to convict in the land fraud trials. The editor of that paper was a witness.

As a result of the enforcement of the strict Sunday closing law in Pendleton, which the farmers claim deprive them of an opportunity to procure extras and supplies during the rushing harvest times, a farmers store has been organized with a capital of $20,000, to be maintained on a ranch outside the city limits.

Another rich strike has been made on the mountain between Lakeview and Bidwell. The rock is said to be very rich in native gold, and in large quantities. If all, or a good part of the ledges found recently prove permanent and half as good as they show on the surface, this is destined to soon be the mining center of the West.

An urgent effort is to be made on the part of residents of Western Oregon to quash the name of Webfoot for Oregon and the name the "Rose State" given instead. So far as Eastern Oregon is concerned, there is no name that could be applied which could fill the wants of residents, in reality, more than "Web-foot."

The day of the Fourth of July some little girl that rode on the Liberty car left her hat in charge of Mrs. Geo. Whorton, as many little girls did, and failed to call for it. Mrs. Whorton, after returning the hats had one that she could find no owner for, and diligent inquiry has failed to yet find the little girl who lost her hat.

Senator John H. Mitchell will be once more brought before the Federal court on Sept. 5, when, with his associates, he will be tried on what is known as the Puter indictment, in which it is alleged that Mitchell accepted $2000 from S. A. D. Puter as compensation for his services in assisting Puter to secure expedition of various claims through the General land office.

Mr. A. L. Peyser, member of the firm of S. N. Wood & Co., San Francisco, arrived here yesterday morning. Mr. Peyser came up from the city with a party of San Francisco business men with a view to securing the trade of Southeastern Oregon for their city over the new railroad to tap Klamath county from Weed. Mr. Peyser is visiting his sister, Mrs. A. Bieber, and will remain here until Monday. Mr. Peyser was once a resident of Lakeview, and found many old friends to grasp his hand in a cordial shake.

Mrs. White, sister of Mr. W. H. Shirk, who has been visiting with Mr. Shirk and family for several weeks, will start for her home in Chicago this week. Mr. Shirk will take his sister to the railroad, and there will meet Mrs. Shirk's mother on her way to Lakeview on a visit.

Mr. Olson, who is in this valley buying land, a few days since purchased the Helteel tract consisting of 240 acres, lying between Cottonwood bridges and the Gap. The price was very low, being in the neighborhood of $500, it being pasture land.

Several children about town have the whooping cough in a mild form. Harry Bailey's children have it, and Mr. and Mrs. Beall forbid their 5-year-old son Bennie going to Baileys, but Bennie caught his parents "napping" and went to Baileys. His mother saw him coming from there and when he came into the house she asked him if he had been to Baileys. Bennie said, "yesmam, but I didn't take the whooping cough."

Last week's Silver Lake Oregonian contains the valdictory of Editor Kelsay and the initial bow of Editor West. Mr. West is making his first venture into the journalistic field, taking up a good work layed down by L. N. Kelsay who has steered the Central Oregonian through the trials and tribulations incident to establishing a newspaper. The field is large and hopes for the success of the Oregonian under Mr. West's management is universal.
