Klamath Falls Waking Up.

The delay on the part of the large land owners of Klamath county in signing up their lands to the Reclamation Service is causing a great deal of uneasiness among those who see in the Reclamation project for the Klamath Basin the life of the county. A meeting was called at Klamath Falls last week by citizens of that town to talk over some facts that presented a most dangerous appearance. Those facts were the ones published in The Examiner weeks before last regarding the manner in which the Reclamation Service was receiving the actions of these large land owners. In giving these facts to our readers two weeks ago, we expressed our desire to see Lake county get in now and make an effort to secure some of the money at the disposal of the service for reclamation work in Oregon. We pointed out that other projects in the state were practically established still just now as a result of the resistance of the large land owners in signing up their land, and as we believed there were no such obstacles in the way of reclamation in Lake county, the government might be induced to turn their attention this way and spend some of its money here. We believed we could see an opportunity, and now that Klamath Falls business men have become excited over the same facts, our belief is strengthened. Has Lake county a man who is energetic and public spirited enough to jump into the harness and get some work done here?

Road Viewers Return.

Harry Bailey and Lee Beall returned from Warner last Friday, where Mr. Bailey went to help view the road from Plush to Bonds, Lee Beall went along as "vaquero," and it is said inaugurated some new ideas among the Warner Valley vaqueros.

The road as viewed by the viewers, will be 18 miles long. It will cross the sloughs in the vicinity of Flag staff, where a bridge 127 feet long will have to be built. The banks of the slough are said to be firm, making it possible to construct a substantial bridge at that crossing. The water at that place is 6 feet deep now.

The viewers made a favorable report to the county court, and it is expected the matter will be passed upon at this term and the road ordered opened.

The Southern Oregon State Normal School.

The first term of the school year will open Sept. 13. The citizens of Ashland have furnished the necessary financial aid to tide the school over referendum hold-up. The present outlook indicates the largest enrollment of students in the history of this institution. 36-2

Must Have The Examiner.

We are in receipt of a letter from Mr. Jas. McAfee, who says: "Please change my Examiner from present address to Ceres, Stanislaus county, Calif. I can't get along without The Lake County Examiner. I have been taking it for 25 years, so you see how it is."

Are You Engaged?

Engaged people should remember, first, after marriage, many quarrels can be avoided, by keeping their digestions in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. O., says: "For years, my wife suffered intensely from dyspepsia, complicated with a torpid liver, until she lost her strength and vigor, and became a mere wreck of her former self. Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once, and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." Lee Beall, druggist, sells and guarantees them, at 50c a bottle.

Our Reading Room and Library.

In consequence of the absence from town of some of the trustees of the Reading Room and Library association no meeting has been held for some time. Monday a regular meeting was held and plans for adding some social features to the Reading Room was discussed. Two trustees were appointed, Mrs. V. L. Saelffing and Miss Hall. Mr. Geo. Lynch was tendered a vote of thanks for donating a load of wood. Those who have membership cards have enjoyed the privilege of getting books, and the room has been an attractive place for strangers who visited the town during the summer.
