Fulton Gets Good places.

In the reorganization of the Senate committees, now about complete, Senator Fulton secures the chairmanship of the committee on claims, retains his place on public lands and on irrigation, and in addition is assigned to postoffices and postroads. He is disappointed at not securing a place on the commerce committee, because of the interest he has in securing appropriations for the Columbia River and other Oregon and Northwestern waterways, but for all that he is considered more fortunate in his committee assignments than any Senator entering upon his third year in Congress. He will retain his membership of fisheries and one or two smaller and unimportant committees, which he held in the last Congress.

Mr. Fulton was in direct line for promotion to the chairmanship of the claims committee, which dispenses millions of dollars every Congress, and under the seniority rule, he was given this place. This very fact operated against him in his race for the commerce committee, and was largely instrumental in crowding him out of the coveted place. The postoffice committee, to which he is newly appointed, is another committee that handles one big appropriation bill not to mention its exclusive privilege of passing upon the nominations of all Presidential Postmasters.

For a long time we have not heard of Chas. M. Sain, promoter, novelist and newspaper man, but guess he has been digging away over at Coos Bay; or at least a column and a half solid, nonpareil article published in the Oregonian on December 16th, dated at North Bend and signed at the bottom with the familiar Chas. M. Sain, would put us at ease as to his whereabouts. Mr. Sain took exceptions to an editorial published in the Oregonian a few days ago relating to what Oregon needs and confining itself principally to the deepening of the Columbia river to 40 feet; and at the same time allowing Coos Bay to be deepened to 20 feet. From the attitude of the present congress toward appropriations for rivers and harbors, both the Oregonian and Mr. Sain are in deeper water than the bottoms of their respective harbors are likely to be for some time.

Suffrage Petition Filed.

Petitions for the submission of the equal suffrage amendment were filed in the office of Secretary of State Dunbar on the 13th, with 985 signatures affixed. The filing of the petition at this time entitles the supporters of the movement to furnish and have distributed to the voters a pamphlet advocating the adoption of the resolution. This privilege is secured to all who file petitions prior to January 1. Petitions for constitutional amendments or the enactment of laws by initiative must be filed by February 1.

It is reported that the Klamath Lake railroad, running from Thrall, on the Southern Pacific, to Pokegama, a distance of 29 miles, has been sold to the Weyerhaeuser people, together with large tracts of timber lands in that section of the vast timber belt of Southeastern Oregon. Mr. Richardson, who has charge of the office at Pokegama, confirmed the report, and further stated that the carrying of all mails, freight and passengers would be discontinued after the first of the year by the new management.

Miss Roosevelt to Wed.

Formal announcement has been made by President and Mrs. Roosevelt of the engagement of their daughter, Alice Lee Roosevelt, to N. Longworth, representative in congress from Ohio. The wedding will take place about the middle of next February. The ceremony will take place in the Blue parlor in the White House, where President and Mrs. Cleveland were married.

All the papers are sounding the alarm "look out for fire at the Christmas tree," and advising as a precaution the abolition of all flammable material for decoration purposes, such as cotton to represent snow, etc., and using as few candles as is possible about the tree. Good advice and timely warning.

When you see it in The Examiner, it is so.

Paisley Pointers.

E. M. Brattain who has been in Paisley for some weeks closing out the Innes land and cattle business, has succeeded in selling both land and cattle at good figures.

As stated in a former issue of The Examiner the fine landed property is now divided up into several portions and great improvements such as buildings and fences will be made next year.

The Brattain brothers bought 800 head of cows and calves at $20. John Prader bought 250 heifers at $15. Geo. Hankins also bought a large number of the cattle.

While we regret the loss of the Innes brothers from our midst as far as the cattle business is concerned we are glad that the property has been so well divided and sold that it will add greatly to the population of Chewaucan valley.

Paisley is taking on new life since the announcement of the building of the Oregon and Eastern R. R. to the northern border of Lake county. It will make Paisley the hub of the universe. (?)

Now we are ready for the resuscitation of the Chewaucan Post, for a real estate office, a national bank, a light and power company, a water system and sewerage. But first of all we must have the town of Paisley incorporated. It's coming.

Not a little preparation is being made for Christmas. Christmas tree exercises for the little folks. Masquerade for young men and maidens. "Big eat" for all.

The merchants are displaying Christmas goods. The children are practicing songs, recitations, etc. and some of the youths of Paisley are learning the two-step and other "fancy" dances. The dressmakers are planning and building some elaborate costumes. Hurrah for Christmas that comes but once a year.

John Blair was a visitor in Paisley last week, we understand that he is about to close up the McElhinney business and then will travel for health and recreation.

The Farmers' Mutual Telephone Association has completed arrangements to place 21 phones in Paisley and the Chewaucan valley. This means business, several of the purchasers of the Innes tract have ordered phones for their new holdings.

Ted Woodward has been on the sick list for the last few days otherwise there is no sickness here.

Warren Marsters has erected an ice house on the hotel property this week.

Rev. Snyder's work in the field as pastor of the M. E. Church is appreciated by good congregations.

John Prader has been attending to business matters in Paisley for several days this week.

Lloyd Hunter was in town Sunday.

C. W. Withers and wife returned from Lakeview first of the week where he has been attending to land business.

F. W. Weldey came in from Lakeview Sunday with a load of freight for Alsworth & Withers and the Paisley drug store.

The Masons and members of the Eastern Star will have a joint installation on December 30th.

The Hicks Almanac for 1906.
