An Editor's Opinion of the Royal Gorge.

Edyth Tozier Weathered, in describing a recent trip over the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad, says in "The Exposition": "At last the goal of the ambition of years has been reached—marvellous, wonderful, grand and inspiring Royal Gorge is on either hand. The only disappointing thing is you only have one pair of eyes, while the train darts in and out of the tremendous chasm. If any who have never seen it are wondering how it looks just go and see. Thousands have tried to describe it, yet every attempt falls short of giving the subject justice." If you contemplate a trip East, write W. C. McBride, 124 Third Street, Portland, Oregon, for booklets picturing Colorado's famous scenery, and any other information you may desire.

THE PITCHER.

The pitcher takes a telling pose And holds the ball on high. Then turns it with his finger tips, His new in-curve to try. Then swiftly swings his strong right arm; The vicious deed is done! The umpire dodges skillfully And hoarsely shouts, "Ba-all one!"

The pitcher takes his pose again, Both feet firm on the ground; Again he holds the ball on high And slowly turns it round. Then once more he uncovers himself, The batsman to undo. The ball smacks in the catcher's gloves The umpire shouts, "Ba-all two!"

The pitcher scarcely grinds his heel, In desperation grim. Once more he holds the ball on high; All eyes are fixed on him. Once more he swiftly lets it drive, Then fiercely sways his knee. Because the umpire coldly cries, In fog horn tones, "Ba-all three!"

The pitcher's face is firm and set; A wild gleam in his eye Shows his determination as He holds the ball on high. He hurls it in; the bat swings round And meets it with a thud! The ball soars o'er the left field fence! The pitcher's name is Mudd!

THE HALL OF FAME.

Mr. Cleveland will spend the summer trout fishing in the Berkshires. John Morley has had bestowed upon him the honorary professorship of ancient history at the English Royal academy.

Andrew Graham, for forty years chief assistant at the Cambridge observatory, England, has retired at the age of eighty-eight.

Major Alexander H. Davis of New York and London has presented Louisville, Ky., with stock amounting to $100,000 to be used in providing a public park in that city.

Frances Guthrie, newly knighted up to date, is only forty-four years old. He holds the ball on high. He hurls it in; the bat swings round And meets it with a thud! The ball soars o'er the left field fence! The pitcher's name is Mudd!

John H. Young, of Chicago, collector of mortgages, has just added an interesting specimen that fell near the city of Ky., on Nov. 15. His collection ranks fourth in the world, and he has one meteor presented to him by the staff of Persia.

Alexander Wilkie of Upper Craigie, Perth, N. B., is believed to possess the longest beard in the world. His exceptional growth of hair began when he was about twenty-five years of age. From that time it grew rapidly, and it is now 7 feet 2 1/2 inches long and still growing.

SHORT STORIES.

Within eight months from Europe to people Ireland.

A new word has been coined for application to a sight testing optician. He is to be called an "optologist."

A large moose was seen recently strolling around leisurely in the neighborhood of the school buildings at Presque Isle, Me.

In Omaha the other day a girl combing her hair gave her head a toss and dislocated her neck. It required the combined strength of four men to pull the vertebrae into place again.

On the army this year we shall spend $130,000,000, on the navy $85,000,000. The civil establishment will cost $126,000,000. To the Indians we shall give $13,000,000. The interest on the public debt will be $27,000,000.

It is proposed to buy the field on which Alexander Hamilton was slain in his duel with Aaron Burr and convert it into a public park. A monument already stands on the spot, but it is neglected and unvisited.

The death rate in Cuba before the war averaged about forty-two to a thousand, taking a period of several years. It is now but twenty-one. This means a decreased loss of time from illness as well as saving of life.

Old Enough to Break.

It was in the hall of antique casts in the Brooklyn Institute museum. A "little mother" of seven or eight was leading about a tiny sister in each hand, evidently doing the honors of what she was convinced must be a place of entertainment.

One little tot, evidently disappointed in her expectations, said, "But they're all broken!"

"They can't be broken," replied the little champion of the year, here youths and girls of Brooklyn.

At the Exchange.

Edith—The dear boy! I shall make him two sofa pillows for it at once—Judge.

What Did She Mean?

He—Yes, I'm sure you'd like my brother. He's so different from me. She—Oh, then I'd like him immensely.—Smart Set.

A Tale of Matrimony.

Old Got-Millions has a son, whom his friends call Willie; Willie fell for young Miss Gay; poor old man was fair ally; Young Miss Gay is very handsome; Willie's not a beauty. But the girl took kindly to him, smiled upon his suit; But among her friends 'twas whispered, and 'twas whispered still, That she cared much less for Willie than for papa's will.
