Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surface. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.
Sold by druggists. Price 75c. per bottle.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Our Offer. With the June number will begin The Pacific Monthly's series of special editions for the year 1905. They will comprise a number for Portland, for Seattle, for Southern California, for San Francisco and the souvenir number of the Lewis and Clark Expedition, also a special automobile number. The articles of Dr. Wolf von Schierbrand, six in number on "The Coming Supremacy of the Pacific" are also promised, and the plans contemplated by the publishers will, without question, place The Pacific Monthly far in advance, not only of present competitors, but also into the unreachably class of periodical literature on the Pacific Coast. The Pacific Monthly is sold to regular subscribers at the extremely low price of $1 a year. We have made an arrangement with the publishers by which we are able to offer it in connection with The Lake County Examiner, (both Publications), to new subscribers, and old ones who pay up any back subscription they may owe and a year in advance, for the very low price of $2.50 a year.

TROUBLESOME SOWS.
How to Handle the Breechy and Vicious Animals.
When a sow becomes incorrigible usually the wisest course is to fatten and send her to market, writes H. L. Dean in National Stockman. The tendency is for the rest of the herd to contract the same habits. But it is often the case that the troublesome sow is the most prolific and the best mother of the bunch. Her unusual vitality exerts itself in mischief as well as the rearing of offspring. The troublesome sow usually lives better than the rest, for she has her share, and she gets as much more as she can. It is thought to be a waste of time to attempt to curb a vicious sow. However, there are occasions when we very much want to do so.
The breechy sow at the first may be tamed by keeping her for a time in a strong inclosure until she loses her courage, so to speak. Every hog raiser should have a yard or building especially adapted for this purpose and from which no animal can possibly escape. This habit if taken in time can be overcome in this way: If the habit is fixed draw her ears down close over her eyes and fasten together with wires. Use a piece of leather or rubber if the ears are erect and cannot be overlapped when drawn down over the eyes and attach the same with wire as before. The purpose is to exclude as much light as possible. This device will be a hindrance to the chicken chaser. If you have a sow so vicious in forcing inclosures and eating chickens as to be past redemption in the ordinary sense try this: Fasten her ears over the eyes as described, then wire a light ring three inches in diameter firmly to her snout. This is a drastic measure and should not be used except in extreme cases. If properly done she will not eat chickens or scale fences, and her meekness of demeanor will be remarkable.
Truth About Normans.
The use of the word Norman as applied to the draft horse has been common in the United States for over half a century. This is due largely to the fact that early importers gave that name to draft horses brought over from Normandy, France. However, there is no such breed in France, and the use of the word is incorrect. The Percheron is a distinct breed and is so regarded by the French government and is protected by the government and a stud book association. There are several other distinct draft breeds in France, as the Boulonnais, Breton, Picardy and Polton, but there is no Norman breed. Most of the horses brought to America from France of the draft sort are Percherons, but they are very often carelessly referred to as Normans or Percheron-Normans. Horses of the draft sort that are from France, but are not Percherons, may be registered in the French draft stud book of this country, but not in the Percheron stud book.—Professor Plumb, Ohio Station.

FEEDING THE STOCK
When you wean the colt give him plenty of oats, and he will go through all right, but no other grain will take the place of oats.
Fattening Hogs on Cottonseed Meal.
In fattening hogs on cottonseed meal, says Farm and Ranch, don't add any wheat bran, but corn chops will be absolutely necessary. The wheat bran is too filling in its effect and not rich enough in nourishing material for fattening hogs. Use one part of cottonseed meal to four parts of corn chops, well soured, and give as a thin slop.
Wheat Bran Good For Foals.
Bran is very suitable as a supplementary concentrated food for weaned foals and young horses, says Farm Progress. There is nothing better than a little bran for mixing with the crushed oats when foals are being brought to solid food, bran being easily digested by a foal when the latter is able to deal with solid food. In the case of sick horses and those that are convalescent the inclusion of some bran in their diet proves very beneficial. On account of its palatability bran tempts the appetite of sick horses more easily than other dry foods.

Ration For the Horse.
From ten to twelve pounds of oats, divided into three feeds, should be sufficient concentrates for the carriage horse for one day's feeding, says Farm Journal. From ten to twelve pounds of hay should be allowed in order to bring the total weight of the ration within the limit of twenty to twenty-two pounds. Bran washes, fed once or twice a week, have a cooling effect upon the system. Part of the hay may be cut and moistened before feeding, the remainder being fed long, as the carriage horse has plenty of time for masticating his food.
Roughage For Horses.
Fodder corn, thickly grown, so that only small nibbings form, and cured so there is no dust, is one of the best kinds of roughage for horse feeding. For stallions, idle horses, brood mares and growing colts corn forage of good quality, cured right, is one of the very best and most economical substitutes for timothy hay.—Farm Journal.
Feed For Fattening Lambs.
Dry corn gives better results than soaked corn for sheep, owing to the better secretion of saliva in eating the dry grain. Oats prove a satisfactory ration when given to fattening lambs, but it requires about 25 per cent more oats than corn for a given gain. It requires about twice as much corn as bran for lambs. Roots should be fed in combination with grain. A ration of equal parts corn and oats or two parts oats to one of corn, fed with roots, is an economical ration for fattening lambs.
