J. W. Maxwell, the real estate agent, has had a couple of thousand descriptive circulars printed, which he will distribute where they will do the most good.

Jas. M. Innes came down from Che-waucan Monday on a business trip. We understand that Mr. and Mrs. Innes will soon leave for San Francisco, where they will make their home.

Harvey K. Brown, of Baker City, Republican candidate for governor, whose platform appears in this issue of The Examiner, writes that he expects to visit Lake county the fore part of March.

Little John McDonough, who is at Lake City, Modoc county, going to school, writes his father, of Lakeview that at a spelling match he spelled down all the pupils in the school up to the eighth grade. Pretty good for Johnny.

S. E. Sloan, the Warner valley rancher who was brought here last week to be examined for his sanity, is still at the hotel, his condition very little improved. No examination has been made yet. Dr. Patterson removed one of Mr. Sloan's eyes one day last week.

E. M. Brattain and family expect to leave this week for San Francisco. Lee Beall has leased the Brattain residence and will move in as soon as the place is vacated. Dan Malloy will move into his own residence, that is now occupied by Lee Beall, some time this spring.

Joe Bland, who one time resided at Pine Creek, is here from Prineville. He came here to be identified by some of his former acquaintances who knew him back in Missouri, where he has fallen heir to some property. J. D. Venator is his attorney and the depositions were taken before District Attorney W. J. Moore.

"Hounding Betty," the novelty two-step, by Carlton J. Balfour, the blind boy composer, is making a hit all over the country. It was recently published by J. W. Jenkins' Sons, of Kansas City. It is written in a lively march tempo, bright, fascinating, every strain a haunting bit of melody. The publishers will mail a copy to any address for 25 cents in stamps.

Sam Sargent and wife of Alturas, came up to Lakeview last week. Mrs. Sargent on a pleasure trip and Sam to deliver the new electric piano to Post & King, in place of the one sent here a few weeks ago, which did not give satisfaction. Mr. Sargent had no trouble in putting the new instrument in place, and now visitors to the Post & King saloon are given a rare treat at mechanical music.

A Kentucky banker wanted a railroad ticket and had only a two dollar bill. It required three dollars to get the ticket. He took the $2 bill to the pawnshop and pawned it for $1.50. On his way back to the station he met a friend to whom he sold the pawn ticket for $1.50. That gave him $3. Now who is out that extra dollar?—Law Book News. (We will bet a fount of old-style six point quads that the $3 wouldn't take the fellow out of reach of punishment for his crime.)

Pat Crowe, who was arrested in Butte, Montana as one of the kidnapers of Eddie Cudaby, son of the millionaire packer, from whom $25,000 ransom was squeezed for the return of his son, was acquitted by a jury in Omaha on the 16th, after 15 hours deliberation. Crowe could not be identified as one of the persons who received the money and was released. He was then arrested on a charge of holding up a street car in Council Bluffs and taken there for trial.

J. B. Labor, secretary of the Portland Board of Trade, returned from Wasco County yesterday after attending two meetings, one at Hood River and one at The Dalles, in connection with the publication of the book setting forth the resources of the various counties of Oregon. Meetings in the Chambers of Commerce in both places were well attended. From Hood River a committee of three was appointed to meet at The Dalles for the purpose of making favorable recommendations to county officers. The meeting at The Dalles was more enthusiastic and $1000 was contributed to "boost" Wasco County.—Oregonian.

We are continually receiving letters from people requesting a copy of The Examiner containing the descriptive matter of Lake county, and as we have sent out all of each issue every week, it is necessary every week to publish the article again in order to supply the demand for this matter. If the county would have some descriptive matter printed for distribution it would greatly relieve us of the obligation to supply it and allow us to print news that is of more interest to local and constant readers. No one can know what an enormous demand there is for descriptive matter about Lake county until he puts himself in a position to be pried with requests for it. We print more and more every week, but it all goes. The expense falls pretty heavy on us alone, but we are willing to bear it as long as possible, if it will result in benefit to the county.

Reclamation Profitable.
In speaking of the arid lands in the West, the Irrigation Age has the following to say:
To occupy and properly cultivate these areas will require a rapid influx of population. Every million acres reclaimed will add fifty million dollars taxable property to the country's wealth, for without unity of soil and water both are valueless. With intelligent cultivation, each acre will yield twenty-five dollars annual product. Two years' product from an area which before produced nothing will repay the total cost of reclamation and some to spare. With intensive farming, production may be doubled and quadrupled. Counting population of the town, an irrigated community will support one inhabitant to the acre.—The Irrigation Age.

For Governor.

(Extracts from Baker City Herald, Feb. 2, 1906.)

Harvey K. Brown, for the past four years sheriff of Baker County, announces himself a candidate for the nomination for governor on the republican ticket subject to the voters and not the machine of the party at the primaries on April 20, 1906.

His platform is as follows:
The primary law and the election of all officers by direct vote of the people.
Abolishment of all machines and bosses and let the people rule.

Enforcement of all laws, city, county, state and United States and the repealing of the same if not the proper laws for the people.

The abolishment of the use of money for campaign funds and purposes by any candidate, faction or corporation, only as actual legitimate expenses.

And last but not least, woman suffrage.
Harvey Brown's Statement,
I believe in our new primary law because it gives the people a chance to select who they want; they are not compelled now to take what the old machine and bosses put up for them at the old convention.

I am a Roosevelt republican who in my opinion is one man that is strictly honest and one that money does not tempt. I think it time the republicans of Oregon were turning down the old machines and bosses and getting in line with the people because if they do not they will turn them all down as they have evidently done in Portland, and get men from another party who will do as the people want done.

The use of money for campaign purposes I am strictly opposed to, only as actual legitimate expenses. Because people for the right don't put up money for that purpose but corporations, wholesale and retailers in unlegitimate businesses and gamblers will put up money to no limit to hold onto and further their interests in the city, county, state and United States. And if they don't put up the money and a candidate does he generally, as past records will show, by grafting or using public money will go wrong, always to the detriment of the party and the people at large. And here I want to urge the republican party in every county to nominate the right kind of men for senators and representatives to be voted on at the next general election.

Now last of all but not least, woman suffrage. I believe in it because if a mother is capable of raising a boy from the cradle to manhood she is also capable of voting and helping to make laws that help to govern the boys after they are men. And if anyone in the world has any influence over men for the betterment of mankind and good government it is a good mother, wife, daughter, sister or sweetheart, and we will all have to admit there is a very large majority of this kind of women in our glorious old Oregon, my native state.

Now as for my record it is here in Baker County, from childhood. And as to my record as sheriff I have done the best I could for the people under the circumstances and can say I am one man that is just as free today as I was the day I went in office and I will admit I am no orator or public speaker but one of the best single handed talkers in this county on these subjects and I expect some great criticism from our learned men of the state.

These few reasons for my platform are from my own personal experience and are the outcome of my going into office as sheriff of Baker county, determined to find out the reasons why our laws were not enforced and why a majority of all officers go wrong.

One of the people,
HARVEY K. BROWN.
