LAKEVIEW, OREGON, APR. 5, 1906.

Easter Sunday.

Many of the most popular and curious customs and observations of Eastern and Eastertide are of remote and pagan origin. The name Easter itself is undoubtedly derived from the artistic appellation of an ancient Saxon goddess, "Eastre" or "Eostre." This bright lady, tall and flaxen haired, was popularly supposed to preside at the annual birth of the spring, when earth began to deck herself with flowers and beauty and heaven itself was cleared. She was evidently a relation of Siegfried, and before him of Baldr, all of them types of the glory and beauty that arose in the world when the early spring was born and the days grew longer, as the death of the great saga heroes was typical of the decline of summer and its death at the hands of the cold and cruel northern winter.

These beautiful myths appear to have been strangely suggestive and indicative of that great truth which was so soon to follow them—to be born into the world and never to leave it, come summer, come winter—in the person of our Lord Jesus Christ—American Press.

In granting Senator Fulton the courtesy of delaying creation of the Rogue River forest reserve, in southwestern Oregon, President Roosevelt emphasized that he did so to enable the Senator to get together the community sentiment. If that portion of the state is opposed to the reserve, the inference follows that the withdrawal will not be made permanent. In doing this, the President has deferred to local sentiment more than his subordinates in administrative circles, as the Forestry Bureau is determined to make this withdrawal permanent, with few eliminations. The several communications sent to Senator Fulton already indicated to him that a majority of the people directly affected were against the reserve. As there had not been full expression of opinions, all the Senator could say to the President in this regard was that he believed the people opposed.

Rev. Irl R. Hicks, publisher of Word and Works, is a very selfish man, indeed. His publication contains some very interesting forecasts, which we should have liked very much to have published, even at the cost of credit to Word and Works, but after perusing Mr. Hicks' forecast for April, and carefully selecting such matter concerning storms in this section of country, we noticed at the bottom of the forecasts, a note which read: "All the above forecasts are copy-righted under the copyright law, and all publishers are kindly, but positively forbidden to reprint them, either with or without credit. So any forecasts of the weather in April contained in The Examiner will either be from local prophets or from our personal knowledge of weather conditions, which might be more satisfactory to our readers if given post mortem."

The Klamath Republican says the recent storm at Klamath Falls was so insignificant that mention of it was not worthy of space, hence, no mention was made of the storm. If Lakeview was to get a two-foot snow storm it would be of such rare occurrence that the occasion would be worthy of preferred space in our columns. Golly, a snow storm to attract the attention of the Klamath Falls paper would necessarily have to be a whopper.

April 10th is the very last day on which voters can register before the primary election. Those who wish to take part in naming their party's ticket should avail themselves of the now limited opportunity to do so, as the requirements qualifying non registered electors on the day of election are numerous and tedious, and much red tape, besides the doubts of some as to the legal status of the operation.

We see by last week's Herald that Geo. H. Ayres is the editor of that paper. His name at the head of the editorial column announces this fact. If Mr. Ayres flourishes the scissors as dexterously in his new role as he used to in the drygoods department of a merchandise store laurels will deck his brow and bouquets fall thick and fast at his feet.

JONATHAN BOURNE, JR.

Republican Candidate for United States Senator.
Champion of Statement One.

Jonathan Bourne, Jr. candidate before the Republican primaries for the nomination of United States Senator in Congress, for the long term commencing March 4, 1907, was born in New Bedford, Mass., February 23 1855; was a member of the class of 1877 at Harvard University; came to Portland May 16, 1878, was a Republican member of the Oregon Legislature in the session of 1885 and the extra session of 1886; was one of Oregon's delegates to the Republican National Convention of 1888, and Oregon's member of the Republican National Committee from 1888 to 1892 and a delegate to the Republican National Convention of 1892, and was elected as a Mitchell Republican to the Oregon Legislature in 1896.

Mr. Bourne has been more prominently identified with the development of the mineral resources of Oregon than any other man in the state, having expended in the last 20 years over $1,000,000 of his own money in the acquisition and development of Oregon mines.

While Mr. Bourne has had his residence and main office at Portland since 1878, he has had another office at New Bedford, Mass., and has carried on the business of his father's estate since 1889, which makes him familiar with many of the large interests and leading men in the East. These qualifications, in conjunction with his tremendous energy, originality, executive ability and experience in business and political affairs pre-eminently qualify him for making an able and influential Senator for the State of Oregon.

Mr. Bourne has always favored extending the direct power of the people over their government as far as possible. He was one of the leading spirits in the Initiative and Referendum movement from 1896 until it was approved by the voters at the June election in 1902. In 1904 he was a member of the executive committee of the Direct Primary Nominations League, and holds the same position with the People's Power League at this time. In all these movements he has been one of the few to guarantee the necessary expense of preparing and proposing their measures to the people.

He says that the choice of United States Senator should be by direct vote of the people, and that the Legislature should be compelled to elect the man the people select. To accomplish this result, he is championing Statement No. 1 of the primary elections law as the only method by which public opinion may be crystallized and made effective upon the Legislature.

In his petition for nomination he says: "If I am nominated and elected I will, during my term of office, favor:

- Republican Politics.
- Amending National Constitution for People's election of United States Senators.
- Publicity Political Campaign Expenses.
- National Control of corporations in Interstate commerce.
- Rigid Exclusion of Asiatic Coolie Labor; Good Wages Make Good Citizens.
- Legal limitation labor hours for safety on railroads.
- Parcels Post, including rural delivery.
- Pure Food laws. Liberal appropriations for Panama Canal, Coast Defenses, River and Harbor improvements, including Columbia and Willamette rivers, Coos, Yaquina and other Oregon harbors, Celilo canal, Government canal at Oregon City. Fair share of Irrigation fund for Oregon.
- Loyal support of successful candidates. Rigid enforcement Statement One. Roosevelt for second elective term.

I desire that the following statement be printed after my name on the nominating ballot:

"I WILL SUPPORT PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S DETERMINATION THAT JUSTICE BE DONE ALL MEN."

NO TWO MEN ARE ALIKE

There may be a hundred men in this city who have arms the same length as yours—but there is not one other man in the whole county who is the same as yourself in all other proportions.

It is simply an impossibility to get a perfect fitting suit by buying ready-to-wear clothes.

We will make a suit to your measure for $20. You pay that much, or nearly that much for every hand-me-down suit you buy.

Custom-made clothes—store clothes—are turned out by the thousand. They are cut and sewed by machinery.

That is why you have bought suits heretofore that let their look of sameness before you had worn them half a day.

We will make a suit to your measure—for your exclusive wear—that will fit you because it was built for you, and no one else—for $20. We guarantee the cloth to be all-wool cloth—the cloth is new and genuine—just off the loom—best patterns—hand-made—every seam hand-sewed with silk-lined with imported Venetian cloth.

We have selected several patterns, any of which we will make up to your measure for $20. Under you express some preference we will mail you a sample of a late English overcoat pattern.

This pattern is so new that it will be sold by tailors next year as the "latest."

The background of the pattern is a deep gray, with an almost imperceptible overline or check. The color of this fabric does not show dirt easily, does not wrinkle and has taken the dye so well that the garment looks like new until it is all worn out. The wool used in weaving this garment was selected with unusual care. There is no short wool in the fabric and no shoddy. The cloth has so fine a weave that it presents a fairly hard surface, and at the same time is soft and pliable. It will not scuff up or get shiny. This cloth cannot be bought from the mill for less than $3.50 a yard, no matter if you bought five thousand yards. We are the Pacific Coast representatives of a syndicate of the largest woolen mills in the world. That enables us to make this unprecedented offer of a suit to your measure for $20. Send for a sample—pull it to pieces—see how long and even the wool strands are—note how well the dye has set.

Fill out this coupon and mail to us and we will send you a sample of the cloth. We guarantee that the sample is actually cut from the very best of cloth from which we make the suit. When you visit Portland, come in and verify this or any assertion we make. If you wish, ask some Portland friend to tell you about the reputation and standing of the Columbia Woolen Mills Co.

It is the simplest thing in the world to have some friend take your measure. We will send you a tape measure free, and instructions how to take a measure for a suit of clothes.

Be sure and send for this sample. If you get a suit from this offer, you will be wearing a garment the pattern of which local dealers cannot possibly get in stock before another year. The pattern of our $20 suit will be sold next year as the latest (by other tailors).
