THE STABLE PROBLEM.

Ine That Has Never Yet Been Satisfactorily Solved.

The horse is one of the most sens! five to coul of any of our domesticat ed animals, but a correspondent is correct in his observation that horses have done better in a cold stable well ventilated than in a new looking building not so well aired. Indeed, a building may be made so tight with lumber. lath and plaster that in winter time. after a period of several days of zero woather, it becomes very cold-in fact, colder than one snuply boarded up with a single thickness of matched lumber. Beyond a certain limit the more tight we make a building to keep the outside air out the cohier we make the buildhig. If we introduce artificial heat inside of the building the heat is confined by the tight walls and cellings, and then it becomes a warm room. With a tight stable, with animals enough in It to furnish heat with their breath and the gases from their bodies, we make the building warm. Thus, build as tightly as we muy, in order to make the stable warm we must heat it in some way or it is just as cold as the outside air and sometimes colder.

This calls up a bit of experience of some years ago. I have on my farm a make tight by double boarding and pa-There came a long period of severe cold in February, and I was forced to there were cracks in the side walls to by thermometer test that the open "Prayers! Good heavens" replied building was 4 degrees warmer than my tight one. Why was this the case? Simply the tight building had not sheep enough in it to warm it. The coud mir had penetrated it, and as the cold weather abated outside It remain-

The sheep men also urged that they be not compelled to unload at night, as it is difficult to handle wool skins in the darkness. Another resolution adopted favored an increase in the annual appropriation for the support of the bureau of animal industry

Meager Results of a Half Century of Agitation For Waman Suffrage Show That the Majority of Women Do Not Want It.

The agitation for woman suffrage has been going on in this country for nearly sixty years. What has been accomplished? During that time women have entered 360 out of 369 occupations, as they were classified in the census of 1850. A few years ago a leading suffragist claimed that women induces sound sleep. Fully guaran were represented in over 400 trades teed by Lee Beall Druggist. Price and occupations. In over half a century what have the woman suffragists accomplished?

The list of suffrage extensions is short. And this is in spite of the many evidences that if women are united in demanding suffrage they will undoubtedly receive it, whether that is for the welfare of the state or not.

In Four States-

Montana, Iowa, Louisiana and New York-there is a limited taxpaying suf-

In eighteen states women

May Vote For School Officers. In no state is this form of suffrage strongly opposed, and if women really cared for it they could undoubtedly secure it in other states. But the numher of women who avail themselves of this privilege in states where it has been granted them is so shull that no ground seems to exist for asking its extension. In Connecticut the proportion of women voting at school elections is about 1 per cent; in Massuchusetts, under ordinary conditions, it is hot more than 3 or 4 per cent. Oceastonally, when questions arise which appeal to the emotions, and those especially in which religious antipathies are involved, the woman's vote attains large proportions. Conservative Amerfeans regard with apprehension a vote which comes out in force only when mischlevous issues are raised. Municipal suffrage is Found In Kansas Only.

The woman suffragists claim that the experiment has worked satisfactorily. But none of them is at any pains to explain the fact that Kansas since the grant of the municipal ballot has steadily refused to enlarge the rights of women at the polls. Awatate which had become accustomed to the spectacle of women contending on equal terms with men at city elections might naturally be expected to be favorably inclined toward an extension of their privileges, all the more so because the political power acquired by them in municipal affairs should make them a body whose desire for a larger franchise could not be treated as a negligible quantity

Full suffrage has been given to women in four states-Wyoming, Colorado, Idaho and Utah. In those states women vote for all officers aud at all elections.

On Equal Terms With Men.

Wyoming is a state of vast cattle ranges. Idaho is a state of mining camps. In Colorado also mining is the chief industry. In Utah the Mormon church dominates everything, and it is a powerful political force in blaho. In 1858, with the nid of the women's vote, a feading Mormon, Brigham Henry Roberts, who was possessed of three of more than half a century of persistent agitation for woman suffrage in the United States. Of the forty-five states in the Union twenty do not give women any form of shallot, twenty give them the lightly regarded school ballot or the still less important and infrequently exercised bullot on questions submitted to taxpayers, one admits them to municipal suffrage, but refuses them anything more, and four give them the full ballot

These, Then, Are the Fruits

The explanation of this check to the woman suffrage movement is not far to seek. The movement has been brought to a halt by the discovery that the American women who ask for the ballot constitute only a small minority Oregon, Apr. 14, 1966. of their sex.
