The Southern part of Modoc county was visited by an electrical storm and a heavy downpour of rain Saturday evening. The storm extended from Likely north to Joseph creek and left the roads muddy. Quite a lot of hay was in the shock which will be somewhat damaged.

It is said that the Berry's who run a restaurant here for some time, appropriated quite a lot of canned fruit that did not belong to them. Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Conn had fruit stored away in a cellar and did not know their fruit was being used till it was all gone and the people who took it were out of the country.

Cattle are said to be dying in the Willamette valley from some unknown ailment. It is believed, however, that the ailment is no disease, but is caused by the long hot, dry spell which has prevailed in the valley this summer and caused the grass to dry up, and stock grazing on dry grass have become affected with a peculiar ailment that has proven fatal in many cases.

We could not attempt to name all those who went from here to the mines, but the following are a few of them who we remember: Elmer Ahlstrom, W. B. Snider, Clarence Snider, Jake Gunther, George Whorton, Walter Dyer, Al Cheney, Eldon Woodcock, S. V. Rehart, Loren Bailey, M. D. Hopkins, Geo. Ayres, W. A. Massingill, Dr. Dewey, V. L. Snelling, Man Whorton, Wm. Schauer, Leo Huel, John Peacock, Elsie Linville, Frank Barnes, J. Q. Willits and wife, Mrs. A. D. Parker, James Metzker and wife, Mr. Guffy.

A move is on foot in the town of New Pine Creek to raise money with which to build a Baptist parsonage. Different methods are employed for raising the necessary funds, one of which is a sort of advertising proposition. Each lady interested in the move takes a block of a crazy-patchwork quilt and solicits names to be worked in silk on the different blocks. Each party donating 10 cents gets his or her name worked on one of the pieces that will make up the quilt and the quilt is to be drawn for.

The Alturas Jockey Club are getting posters and programs for the races to be held there during fair week, beginning September 24th. The people of our neighbor city are making grand preparations for the coming event. The people are looking forward in anticipation of a large crowd visiting their town to enjoy the sports and pastimes they are arranging, and remembering the visits these people have paid other towns in the past it is readily observed that Alturas is justly entitled to a good turnout from all parts of the country.

F. M. Miller went to Warner a few days ago on business.

J. P. Duckworth returned Tuesday morning from a trip through California and Western Oregon.

Poles are set for a new telephone line from Pine Creek to the old Applegate ranch, near Isaac Robnett's place.

Anybody who wants a $5.00 set of Spectacles (two pair) for $1.05, apply to L. B. Whorton within the next 15 days.

The McGrath boys finished putting up their hay last week and are fixing up their header to begin on the grain crop.

E. C. Stichel is making good headway on the Fleming Bros. new brick store building at Pine Creek. He has one kiln burnt, and has begun laying the walls of the building. The red-wood door and window frames and the large plate glass was received by Fleming Bros. a few days ago.

The N. C. O. railroad can hardly be regarded as a "jerk-water" line when last Saturday morning two long trains pulled out for Reno. Thirty cars of sheep, besides the necessary coaches, baggage, mail and other cars, were necessary to haul the traffic and two trains were made up, leaving about an hour apart.

Local news is scarce this week, as most everybody has gone to the new mining district. Next week we ought to be able to furnish our readers with all sorts of mining news. Everybody who has seen the rock from the Windy Hollow Hills says it is good! Several expert mining men have expressed themselves in the same way about the ore.

We understand that a water spout occurred in South Warner last Friday that did considerable damage. The water rushed down Twenty mile creek and tore through fields cutting great channels and destroying hay crops. A large stack of hay belonging to J. C. Dodson was torn in two by the flood, and several hundred tons of his hay was destroyed in the field.

Tramps can be seen all along the road between here and Madeline "looking for work." They missed the construction camps of the N. C. O., where several men are wanted, and likewise play shy of the hay fields, where women and children are working in the fields because men cannot be had to put up the hay. Why should they be fed by sympathizing farmers?

Building in Alturas is in progress. The stone building to be used for a restaurant is about finished, and the concrete block building is built up one story. The latter is a very large building, covering a whole block, and is to be used for a store, two saloons and a livery stable. The Cornish and Thompson building will soon go up. The foundation is laid and quite a lot of stone is on the ground for the walls.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Gates arrived here last Thursday evening from Marysville, where Mr. Gates is superintendent of the Hampton Hardware Co. Mrs. Gates is a sister of Mrs. S. F. Ahlstrom and the Gunther boys of this place. They are here on a visit and to take an outing, having come all the way by private conveyance. Mr. and Mrs. Gates were in Lakeview about ten years ago, and took a trip to Crater lake with a crowd of Lakeview people.
