J. D. Dalgram of Mondo, says coal-oil is an infallible remedy for the bite of a rattlesnake, and while in Texas, where big rattlesnakes grow, a man, who made a business of catching live snakes, carried with him only this remedy and that it never failed. He says soak the wound immediately with the coal oil and little fear may be felt as to the result. This is a very simple remedy and nearly always close at hand. He says persons going picnicking should always take with them a bottle of coal oil—Iono Proclaimer.

Contest Notice.

Department of the Interior.

United States Land Office, September 25, 1906.

A sufficient contest affidavit having been filed in this office by Perry Iams, contestant, against homestead entry No. 2966, made April 28, 1903, for SE 1/4 Section 15, Township 36 S., Range 19 E., W. M., by John W. Chandler Contestee, in which it is alleged that said John W. Chandler has never resided upon said tract and ever since the date of making said entry said entryman has, and still continues, to desert and abandon said lands and fail to reside thereon, and that said alleged absence from the said land was not due to his employment in the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps of the United States as a private soldier, officer, seaman or marine during the war with Spain, or during any other war in which the United States may be engaged. Said parties are hereby notified to appear, respond and offer evidence touching said allegation at 10 o'clock a. m., on November 13, 1906, before Register and Receiver, at the United States Land Office in Lakeview, Oregon.

The said contestant having, in a proper affidavit, filed Sept., 21, 1906, set forth facts which show that after due diligence personal service of this notice can not be made, it is hereby ordered and directed that such notice be given by due and proper publication.

A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulas are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless and to the most delicate woman and child. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better agent is used both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles used in them, viz.—pure triple-distilled glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Catarrh of the Nasal Passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hanging coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be used.

DUSTLESS COUNTRY ROADS.

Asphalt Used in Place of Macadam on New Jersey Highways.

If the experiments to be conducted by State Road Commissioner E. C. Hutchinson of New Jersey turn out successfully, as he predicts they will, the day of the dustless country road is at hand, and automobilism will be given a boom in New Jersey surpassing even that which its unexcelled macadam road system has given it, says a dispatch from Trenton, N. J. Commissioner Hutchinson will during the summer experiment with the use of asphalt instead of macadam for building country roads. The roads built of this material in the rural districts will not be like the smooth surfaced street pavement of the city streets, but will resemble the macadam roads in that they will have small broken stones for their principal component, and these will be bound solidly together by asphalt. This will present a hard surface from which there will be no wearing of small particles to be whirled in clouds of dust in the faces of travelers and in the homes of bordering residents.

Commissioner Hutchinson's experiments have attracted the attention of road builders all over the United States, who are watching the result with the deepest interest. Mr. Hutchinson asserts that the asphalt country road will cost no more than the macadam, and that its wearing qualities will surpass those of the material at present commonly used.

Within the last few months Commissioner Hutchinson has been bobbing up most unexpectedly at the scenes of new road operations in different parts of the state. This is the result of the recent acquisition by his department of an automobile, which enables the commissioner to keep his eye on new road work much more readily than he could before. Contractors and inspectors receive no notice of the commissioner's approach, and consequently any shortcomings of which they may be guilty in the construction are quickly exposed to the gaze of the official who has the say in the distribution of the state's road appropriations. In several counties Commissioner Hutchinson has pounced down upon derelict contractors and inspectors, and he has not hesitated to call the attention of boards of freeholders to the conditions that he found, and in some instances he has exercised his authority of withholding the state's money until the work was properly done.

Commissioner Hutchinson is at present paying particular attention to applications presented to him for new roads. He has found that only the most traveled roads are improved, and in this way instead of building roads that will benefit only a small section he is accomplishing the joining of the chain of macadam roads crossing the state in all directions. This encourages automobilism, and in consequence the state treasury is enriched the more by the increase of the receipts of its automobile department. The day of the narrow macadam road, ten and twelve feet in width, has passed, and Commissioner Hutchinson now enforces strictly the rule that he laid down when he entered upon his office—that no road less than sixteen feet in width be built in New Jersey.

Adopts the County Road System.

One-half of the taxes of the village of Munising, Mich., is paid by the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company. This company has agreed to expend $1 for every dollar raised by the village for permanent street improvements, so that in fact, Cleveland Cliffs is the cause of street improvements which will be paid by the company. After counting up the expense, the village of Munising is in the lead of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company, adopted the county road system and voted to raise a fund for permanent improvement in the county.

The Song of the Hair

There are four verses. Verse 1. Ayer's Hair Vigor stops falling hair. Verse 2. Ayer's Hair Vigor makes the hair grow. Verse 3. Ayer's Hair Vigor cures dandruff. Verse 4. Ayer's Hair Vigor makes the scalp healthy, and keeps it so. It is a regular hair-food; this is the real secret of its wonderful success.
